JAPAN PREPARES FOR WAR

U. S. AND FRANCE TOAST AMITY AT LEGION DINNER

Foch and Pershing Heroes of Fete.

BY HENRY WALES.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]
[Copyright: 1927: By The Chicago Tribune.]

PARIS, Sept. 20.—Franco-American amity to maintain peace at all costs was affirmed by a dozen speakers, representing the two republics, at an official dinner in honor of President Doumergue tonight, given by the American Legion at the Hotel Continental at which 500 were present.

Gen. Pershing received a tremendous ovation before and after the speech, but the general preserved a careful [illegible] to his statement. He avoided committing the United States to any future arms intervention in Europe, and stressed the fraternal reception Paris has extended to the visiting legionnaires.

France Decorates Legion Chief.

Commander Howard Savage received a scarlet ribbon and collar as commander of the Legion of Honor and a big, ornately enameled plaque medal, and two kisses, one on each cheek, from President Doumergue, amid uproarious applause.

Gen. Pershing and Marshal Foch, as military commanders, then received special medals commemorating their [illegible] from Past National Commanders Henry D. Lindsay and James A. Drain, respectively, but without the kisses.

Foreman Proposes Toast.

A stirring scene marked the climax of the spectacular dinner when the Sioux City, Ia., band burst into "America" and then the "Marseillaise" as the guests lifted glasses of rare old brandy to drink a toast to France and America proposed by Maj. Gen. Milton Foreman of Chicago, toastmaster of the banquet, as chairman of the distinguished guests' committee. President Doumergue of France proposed a toast to President Coolidge.

Gen. Foreman opened the ceremonies with a tribute to Woodrow Wilson, which was received in silence, adding, "Today two nations welded together on the field of battle become one."

"Keep Up Liberty Battle"—Foch.

Marshall Foch, who for the first time in years has been staying up late in order to attend the Legion festivities, was widely cheered. He said:

"For the second time we have seen the parade of the Stars and Stripes through the Arc de Triomphe. The first time was in the peace parade of July 14, 1919, when it was borne by the valiant soldiers who carried the colors on the battlefields. Again Old Glory was carried by these soldiers of yesterday.

"These victorious soldiers laid down their arms and organized the American Legion to maintain the peace they conquered and develop the well being of the people, and we will continue to march beside you for liberty as we did for victory."

Pershing Thanks France.

Gen. Pershing, in concluding his speech, thanked Paris and France in behalf of the Legion for their reception.

"The American people often think the French do not know them as well as they know France. It was impracticable for the army of the French to visit the United States, so we thought the best means for the people of France to know America would be to send a number of representatives here to take possession of your city and make of it for one week a real American convention town.

"No city in the world could have lent itself with such grace and understanding to this reception as Paris has done. You have entered with understanding and sympathy into the spirit of the convention, and Paris, more than the Legion itself, has made of the convention a success."

Savage Praises French Women.

Commander Savage said he was assured that the affection of the countries would exist for all time, and recalled "the real madames of France among whom we were billeted, who became like our mothers, who shared their food as a welcome change from army rations, and whose children were brought up during the horrors of the war."

The elaborate meal consisted of filet of sole, filets mignon with truffles, pheasant and mushrooms, and royal pears, and was washed down with a 1916 Château, then 1908 Haut Brion, then 1919 Pommard, and finally Cordon Rouge.

FAIR WEATHER PROMISED FANS; BOXERS READY

Receipts Estimated at $2,500,000.

Details of fight news—stories from the Dempsey and Tunney training camps, etc.—in sporting section.

BY DON MAXWELL.

With the opening round of the Tunney-Dempsey fight for the heavyweight championship of the world less than 48 hours away, prediction was given last night of quite cool and fair weather, a gathering of 150,000 fans, and gate receipts totaling close to $2,500,000.

As these forcasts were being made, the first by Henry J. Cox of the U. S. weather bureau, the others by Tex Rickard, Tunney, the former marine, who now holds the heavyweight title, and Dempsey, who for seven years wore the crown, were completing their training for the 10 round bout at Soldiers' field.

Come to City Tomorrow.

Today the battlers will run several miles, engage in calisthenics, and rest. Tomorrow they come to Chicago—Jack from Lincoln Fields race track, Gene from his training camp on the shores of Fox lake—and at 10 o'clock tomorrow night they will meet in the center of the 20 foot ring.

There were a number of interesting pre-fight developments yesterday. Among them the outstanding were:

1. Reports by federal secret service agents and the police that Chicago has been flooded with counterfeit tickets.

2. Announcement by Gene Tunney that he will provide transportation and tickets to the fight for every disabled marine in Chicago.

3. Dismissal by Federal Judge George A. Carpenter of Rev. Williams' suit for an injunction to stop the bout, with a rebuke by the judge to the reformer.

The Counterfeit Scare.

The counterfeit scare came yesterday afternoon, a few days after a plot to broadcast bogus tickets had been upset by the police in the east. George Getz, the promoter in law of the fight, and Rickard were complimenting themselves that the counterfeiting danger was passed. But yesterday a trio of Chicago detectives discovered that cigar stores and poolrooms of the loop were being turned into sales offices of bogus tickets. Lieut. Thomas McFarland and Sergts. Crot and Johnson made a hurried canvass and confiscated the counterfeit paper. More than 1,000 of the bogus tickets were seized.

The detectives immediately reported to Messrs. Rickard and Getz. They told them it was apparent that the counterfeiters had made elaborate plans to flood the city with the fake tickets. The phony tickets, they said, were of all denominations from the $5 to the $40 variety.

Fight Fans Are Warned.

The dual promoters promptly issued a warning advising fans to purchase tickets to the fight only through the box office in the Palmer house arcade.

Lieut. McFarland said that the new series of counterfeits are fairly good imitations. But the color of the paper is lighter than the color of the authentic tickets.

Loop brokers, it is said, are not handling the bogus tickets. They are being handled in the pool rooms, and peddled in the railroad stations, and on the sidewalk in front of hotels.

Legion Plea Heard.

Tunney's announcement regarding his plan to send disabled marines to the fight came as the result of a plea by the Marine post of the American Legion. A committee, consisting of Mack Wylie, Donald F. Kaehler and Emmett Trainer with Wayland Brooks, post commander, told Tunney of the plight of his former comrades. The champion responded by instructing his companion, Eddie Eagan, Rhodes scholar, and amateur boxer, to list and invite the crippled marines.

While these things were happening the sale of seats in Soldiers' field was showing more enthusiasm than it has for several days. Rickard's office reported that more than $100,000 worth of tickets were sold at the Palmer house office during the day. Tex attributed the sales impetus to the announcement made Monday that thousands of good seats had been returned.

SIAMESE TWINS CANCEL THEATER DATE; ONE IS ILL

New York, Sept. 20.—[Special.]—America's only "Siamese twins," Mary and Margaret Gibb, who were supposed to make their first appearance of the theatrical season yesterday, were prevented from doing so by the illness of Mary, which has confined both girls to their home in Holyoke, Mass. Mary's condition has been regarded as serious.

The twins are 16 years old. About two weeks ago the girls were stricken with influenza. After a period of careful nursing they recovered and were able to be up and about again, but Mary suffered a relapse.

She became worse and developed bronchial pneumonia which sent her temperature up to 104 degrees, while Margaret's remained normal.

Late this afternoon Mary's temperature had fallen to 100 degrees and Margaret's was 97, but whether the improvement would be permanent doctors were unable to say.

While Mary has been lying at the point of death for days, Margaret has appeared to be in perfect health.

COOLIDGE SEES NO OCCASION FOR SPECIAL SESSION

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Sept. 20.—[Special.]—Definite announcement that President Coolidge sees no occasion for a special session either of the senate or of both houses of congress was made today at the White House.

In deciding against a special session President Coolidge followed the advice of most of the Republican leaders of the two houses.

As to the proposal of Senator Jones [Wash.], Republican whip of the senate, that the senate be convened in October in order to take up the Smith and Vare contests, the President has become convinced that nothing would be accomplished by such action.

DAYLIGHT SAVING ENDS THIS WEEK; TURN CLOCK BACK

Daylight saving time, officially adopted by the city council for the summer months, will end Sunday. Clocks will be moved back an hour and Chicago will revert to central standard time. The Federal Reserve bank has issued a notice to its customers and employes that the new time system will be in effect on Monday.

Nine Quizzed in Search of Girl's Slayer

Nine men were being questioned by police last night in efforts to solve the slaying on Monday night of Edna Mueller, 15 years old, whose body, the skull crushed, was found in a lonely prairie near the Harrison street station of the Westchester elevated at Hillside.

Dr. Joseph W. Springer, Cook county criminologist, declared the girl had been attacked and that no doubt she was slain when she screamed for aid.

Grill Road Laborer, 60.

Anton Antonowich, 60 years old, member of a road construction gang, was the most closely questioned of those held. Suspicion was directed against him when Chief James L. Devereux of the county police was informed that he had been seen drinking Monday with three companions in a small camp shack the four occupied on Mannheim road near the scene of the slaying.

Two of his companions, Samuel Parsko and Mike Brockup, were rearrested last night for further questioning after they had been released. Two other friends of Antonowich, George Polson and Steve Obanachack, likewise were in custody at the Bellwood police station.

Nab Suspect in Melrose Park.

Newton Olson, 38 years old, of the Melrose Park hotel, 1505 West Lake street, Melrose Park, was taken into custody when guests of the hotel reported that he was intently reading newspaper accounts of the murder. His clothing was bloodstained, police said. He also was being questioned by Chief Devereux.

The others held are Guadalupe Zarsmro, 24 years old; Neeves Medina, 26, and Dave Rizano, 23, all Mexicans. Two little girls of the neighborhood had earlier pointed out the three as men who had attempted to make friends with them on the street several days ago.

A dozen other suspicious characters picked up by police during the day were released after being questioned.

Find Blood Stains on Shoes.

Examination of a pair of shoes that Antonowich admitted wearing on Monday night revealed a stain which Coroner's Chemist William D. McNally declared to be human blood.

Antonowich denied knowledge of the crime and appeared bewildered under questioning. He admitted he was absent from his shack at the time of the killing, but declared he was on his way home from a drinking party in Chicago.

Under the slain girl's fingernails Dr. Springer discovered clots of blood and grime, indicating she had scratched her slayer in a desperate fight for her life, he said. Antonowich bore scratches on one ear, but he explained this by saying he had fallen through a wire fence.

"We have no real evidence against Antonowich," said Chief Devereaux. "It may be that these little circumstantial points are merely coincidences. I'm not by any means assured of his guilt."

Brother Meets Wrong Train.

The Mueller girl was going home alone across the prairies when confronted by the slayer, as police reconstruct the scene. A few moments earlier, at 8:20 p. m., she had stepped from an elevated train, expecting to be met by her brother, Raymond Mueller, 20.

Through a misunderstanding, Raymond met the wrong train. When the girl failed to reach home, her father and two brothers enlisted the aid of Chief of Police Eugene Schmalzreid of Hillside and neighbors and a search was begun.

At 3 a. m. the searching party, which had scoured the surrounding prairies, stumbled on the body lying beside a concrete sidewalk.

Speeds Arms from Europe to Manchuria

BY JOHN STEELE.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]
[Copyright: 1927: By The Chicago Tribune.]

LONDON, Sept. 20.—Japan is preparing to back up its penetration in Manchuria and China with machine guns, gas, and all other implements of modern warfare, if necessary. Ships heavily laden with munitions already are steaming eastward. Their destination is Dalny—formerly Dairen—and Port Arthur, the great Japanese controlled railroad port. It is reported the ships also are bound for Tsingtao, the powerful fortress on Shantung peninsula, wrested from the Germans early in the war. Some of these ships already have passed through the Suez canal, flying munitions flags, which gives them the right of way.

This preparation began immediately after the dissolution of the Geneva naval conference, when Japan suddenly came to the aid of England in refusing to grant America's demands for limitation of cruisers. The echoes of the Geneva conference had not died away before the Japanese owned and controlled South Manchurian railway approached Rothschild's London house and other British banks for a loan of $80,000,000 for the extension of this line.

Big Munition Fleet.

Then followed heavy exports of arms and ammunition on transport vehicles to Japanese strongholds on the continent of Asia. Almost immediately after the loan, application for which was made secretly, shipping brokers in London asked for boats to carry the munitions to the far east.

At first it was believed these munitions might be for the conflicting forces in China, but this was speedily disproved. The southern Chinese funds are nearing exhaustion. They are unable to pay for guns and ammunition, nor can they afford to transport from European ports. The London brokers could not offer cargoes for the Chinese nationalists with the possibility of their use against British troops. Since Marshal Chang Tso-lin, the Manchurian war lord, is unable to continue payments either for munitions or manufactures, the ship owners did not consider the northerners good customers.

In Scandinavian Ships.

The brokers seeking the ships explained that the freight charges were guaranteed and the cargoes already were bought. It was only a question of loading them. These ships are being loaded in Baltic ports. Several have gone for Dantzig under the very nose of Russia, the only power with ambitions similar to the Japanese in the far east. They are not British ships, but fly flags of Scandinavian and other countires, all strictly neutral in any possible conflict in northern China or Manchuria.

British shippers refused the cargoes, but the continental lines accepted them in the line of every day business.

Russia is watching the Japanese plan with growing nervousness. Europeans who in the last two weeks have returned over the trans-Siberian railway report seeing large bodies of Red troops near the railway stations from the Chinese frontier many hundred miles into Siberia. These troops appear heavily armed and equipped for the field.

By Roundabout Route.

The British attitude, undoubtedly shaped at Geneva, if not actual complaisant is one of benevolent neutrality. The Japanese came straight to London, first with money and then for shipping facilities. Munitions may not be exported from England without special export license, and such exportation on a large scale to Japanese ports would involve explanations, but there is nothing to prevent the concentration of munitions at northern continental ports and trans-shipment to Manchuria and other districts where the Japanese are in control.

The Australian government seems

SIX AIR DERBY FLYERS HOP TO GLENDIVE, MONT.

Miller, Myers Lead; 2 Aviators Killed.

Real Race On Today

New York, Sept. 20.—[Special.]—The nonstop flight from New York to Spokane, the final race of the transcontinental derbies, will start tomorrow afternoon from Roosevelt field. Three flyers are here for the race, Duke Schiller, Canadian forestry service pilot; Eddie Stinson and J. R. Lacey of Lomax, Ill. Another entry for this $10,000 race was on the way east from San Diego tonight. Jack Rand, flying a Cruizeair monoplane, expected to get to Roosevelt field in time for the start.

Although Roosevelt field was soaked by a heavy rain tonight, the weather cleared and tomorrow promises to be fair.

(By the Associated Press.)

Scattered throughout the northwest between Chicago and Glendive, Mont., entries in the two transcontinental air Derbies from New York to Spokane last night were resting for the final lap before them.

The finish of the second day's dash in the class B Derby found Leslie Miller of Des Moines and C. W. Myers of Detroit at Glendive, Mont., maintaining their fight for first place with Miller still in the lead, but only one minute ahead.

The class A entries, with St. Paul as their first day's goal, were led by E. E. Ballough of Chicago and his 69 year old passenger, Col. Charles V. Dickinson. They made the flight from New York in nine hours and nine minutes, 19 minutes ahead of the field.

Two Planes Wrecked.

Eight other of the fifteen starters in the class A Derby reached St. Paul, their first scheduled stop. One other was forced to stay all night in Chicago; another plane, with the only woman passenger in the race, was down at Auburn, Ind.; two other withdrew, and two others were wrecked, one causing two deaths.

Pilot James O'Donnell, forced down at Auburn, Ind., said he planned to continue the flight tomorrow, while Frank M. Hawks of Houston, Tex., laid over for the night in Chicago, thus leaving eleven contestants in the race.

Sail Into St. Paul.

The eight class A planes which followed Ballough to St. Paul were:

No. 4, C. W. Holman, 2:30:06 p. m.
No. 11, N. B. Mamer, 3:31:26 p. m.
No. 13, Tex Rankain, 3:41:31 p. m.
No. 8, John P. Wood, 3:46:07 p. m.
No. 7, E. H. Lee, 4:05:55 p. m.
No. 2, E. K. Campbell, 4:20:11 p. m.
No. 3, E. W. Cleveland, 5:53:22 p. m.
No. 12, James S. Rae, 6:18:30 p. m.

In the class B Derby, the race between Miller and Myers continued to hold most interest, the two pilots fighting it out for first position almost from the start of the race.

Myers held the lead most of the first day only to lose it by a minute at the finish in Chicago. They took off yesterday morning within sixty seconds of each other and after Myers had reached Bismarck in the lead, Miller again was a nose in advance when they landed in Glendive in the afternoon.

Scattered Along Route.

Others of the class B planes were forced to stop last night along the route, several of them landing at Bismarck, some at Fargo and a few at other points.

The only tragedy to mar the Derbies thus far was the crash of the class A ship at Long Valley, N. J., killing the pilot, R. E. Husdon of Maryville, Mich., and his mechanic, Jay Radike of St. Clair, Mich.

The other crash occurred in Chicago when Pilot Louis F. Royal of Flint, Mich., ran out of gas bucking head winds and fell, striking an ice wagon. Neither he nor his passenger, Joseph Potten, was injured.

19 PLANES IN 4 STATIONS.

St. Paul, Minn., Sept. 20.—(AP)—Four states tonight harbored the nineteen remaining contestants in the class B Derby, New York to Spokane, with the leaders in Montana and the tail-enders in Wisconsin.

Only a few minutes apart on the hop from Chicago to Glendive, Mont., the two leading pilots reached the Montana town for the compulsory night stop virtually on even terms.

Pilot Leslie Miller of Des Moines, flying the Spirit of St. Paul, reached Glendive at 4:50 p. m., mountain time, just a minute ahead of C. W. Meyers

From ninety minutes to nearly two hours behind them, four other planes followed them from Bismarck into the night control, while others stopped in the North Dakota capital and at Fargo.

Thirteen flyers had reached Fargo or gone beyond when the second day's flying in the three day Derby came to an end, another was on the route to Fargo from St. Paul, while three others were in St. Paul for the night.

Twenty planes cleared from Chicago, but tonight one was down at Viroqua, Wis., another was unreported somewhere en route between Chicago and St. Paul, and the other, piloted by Nimmo Black of Chicago, had withdrawn after battling a Minnesota snowstorm for three hours.

Location of Planes.

UNREPORTED SINCE LEAVING CHICAGO AT 11:27 A. M.—A. M. Banks of Philadelphia.

CRASH IN CHICAGO.

Nine of the class A ships that swooped down at the municipal air field, 61st street and Cicero avenue, took the air after a few minutes spent in refueling and making minor repairs.

The tenth, with Frank M. Hawkes of Houston, Tex., as pilot, and J. C. Worthington of New York as passenger, did not arrive until 4:55 p. m., central standard time, and its take-off was delayed until 5:30 a. m. today.

69 Year Old Passenger.

The first ship in this class to arrive at the landing field was a Laird Whirlwind, with Ewing E. Bullough at the controls. With him rode C. D. Dickinson, 69 year old aviation enthusiast and pioneer air mail contractor. Both are Chicagoans. They arrived here at 11:10 a. m., standard time, and departed six minutes later for St. Paul.

Following Bullough by fourteen minutes were C. W. Holman of St. Paul and his passenger, Thomas Lane. They remained seven minutes, starting again at 11:31. N. B. Mamer, third, landed at 12:11 and took off at 12:18.

John P. Wood of Wausau, Wis., in a Waco 10 dropped a minute and a half after Mamer and left at 12:21. James Ray and M. C. Hanscome of Philadelphia followed Wood by six minutes. They occupied a Pitcairn machine. Sixth on the list was Tex Rankin, who landed at 12:19 and left at 12:28.

Three in Cleveland's Plane.

E. H. Lee, pilot, with Robert W. Hoffman, both Chicagoans, brought in their Yackey monoplane at 12:31 and rose again at 12:36. E. K. Campbell and Dr. C. Sloane of Moline, also in a Yackey ship, were eleven minutes behind Lee. E. W. Cleveland, with two passengers, J. F. Wallace and F. A. Burr, all of Cleveland, O., came in at 2:17 and left at 2:49.

The accident to Royal's machine, a Buhl airster, occurred when he ran out of gasoline while only a little more than a mile from the landing field. In its descent the plane narrowly missed an apartment house. One of its wings was smashed when it struck an ice truck in front of the home of Dr. William T. Welch, 2953 West 55th street. Neither of the occupants was injured.

Six planes in class B, which left New York on Monday and met with trouble on the way, landed during the morning. E. W. Fleet and his passenger, L. H. Homans, arrived at 8:22 and departed at 8:42. A. W. Stephenson of Dillon, Mont., swung down at 8:33 and left eleven minutes later. R. T. Quigley and A. M. Pedigo of Rock Island, Ill., arrived at 8:47 and announced withdrawal from the race. S. Darius and M. G. McGregor, in an American Eagle plane, also withdrew.

At 10:54 a. m. V. L. Roberts of Fargo, N. D., in a Buhl mono-coupe, the smallest plane in the race, arrived. He left at 11:11. A. M. Banks, with W. J. Eich, passenger, of Philadelphia, were the last of the class B contestants. They landed at 11:18 and left at 11:27, already distanced by some of the class A entrants.

Wrecked in Tail Spin.

New York, Sept. 20.—[Special.]—The first away of the fifteen commercial airplanes which shot up today from Roosevelt field, Long Island, and roared west as contestants in the Spokane air derby, crashed in wreckage not far from Morristown, N. J., half an hour after the takeoff. The pilot and his passenger were killed. Motor trouble and a tail spin brought the plane down.

Richard E. Hudson, piloting a Buhl Airster and carrying J. Radike of St. Clair, Mich., as passenger, was the first to take off as the red flag of the starter rose and fell. It flagged him on to death.

The motor of the plane apparently failed at an altitude of about 140 feet, as Hudson was piloting low above a stretch of wooded land in the Schooley mountains not far from Long Valley. The plane went into a tail spin and crashed into a small clearing, breaking up badly, but not burning.

Dies in Ambulance.

The drop of the plane was seen by men who telephoned the report to Morristown and summoned an ambulance. It was almost an hour, however, before help reached the scene, traversing 18 miles from Morristown. A glance showed the passenger dead, but Hudson, although badly crushed, still was alive. He died, apparently from an internal hemorrhage, in the ambulance sent from All Souls hospital, Morristown.

As the plane landed, three branches crumpled up one of the upper wings of the biplane. The motor and the propeller were buried and the fuselage toppled backward, breaking the plane's back. W. J. Hardy, a garage mechanic, was the first man to reach the scene.

100 Planes in Spokane.

Felts Field, Spokane, Wash., Sept. 20.—(AP)—Host already to nearly a hundred aviators here with their planes for the national air meet, the Spokane airport was ready tonight for the finish of the aerial Derby racers from New York tomorrow afternoon.

Conclusion of the long distance classics was awaited to complete the list of entries for the events in the local meet. In addition to the racers coming from the east, eleven others are expected from San Francisco in the coastwise air race which starts at 5 a. m. tomorrow.

The contingents of army, navy, marine corps and national guard planes were almost complete at Felts field. The list of commercial plane entrants will be increased with the arrival of the cross country racers.

GERMAN CLAIMS 800 MILES AN HOUR FOR NEW AIRPLANE MOTOR

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Sept. 20.—A speed of 800 miles an hour is claimed for a new airplane motor by C. H. Rosenthal of Dresden, Germany, who has just arrived in London to interest British capital in the motor. The inventor is Arno Boerner of Dresden.

The engine is described as having a "three chamber" motor cylinder, which, it is said, really converts a single cylinder into three, each with inlet, exhaust and spark plug, giving enormously increased power, which will enable use of an oversize propeller on an airplane.

"The existing dangers of a trans-Atlantic flight," Mr. Rosenthal said, "are air pockets and storms. If we could build an airplane powerful enough to rise above the zone where these occur the dangers would be eliminated and in the rarefied air of the upper levels immense speed is possible."

Mr. Rosenthal says the new motor would enable flights to America in four or five hours. Applied to automobiles, he says, the new engine would eliminate changes of gear, which could be obtained by cutting out one or more chambers of the triple cylinder.

BOMB DAMAGES HOME OF RACE TRACK MANAGER

A timed bomb which exploded at 11:40 o'clock last night tore away part of a rear sleeping porch at the home of J. C. Schank, 6720 Oglesby avenue, while most of the family was away. Miss Catherine Schank, his sister, was alone in the front of the house at the time of the explosion. The blast broke windows in the rear of the house and tore a hole in the porch.

Fred Zimmerman, 6718 Oglesby avenue, a neighbor, called police while Miss Schank telephoned to her brother, who was at the South Shore View hotel with a number of friends. He told the police that he believed labor troubles at the Hawthorne race track, of which he is the manager, may account for the blast.

Pose as Dry Sleuths; Hold Up Winnetka Family

Posing as prohibition agents after having followed W. B. Baggaley of 19 Warwick road, Winnetka, as he drove home late last night from a loop theater, two men suddenly drew guns and robbed Mrs. Baggaley and her mother, Mrs. H. W. Jones, of $5,000 in jewelry. They then took $25 from Baggaley and drove away in their automobile. Baggaley told the police that the men drove behind him all the way from Chicago.

DENIED ENTRANCE TO GIRL'S HOME, KILLS HER SISTER

Shoots Father Also, Then Gives Farewell Kiss.

Forbidden by members of her family to visit the girl he loved, Elmer Peterson, 24 years old, a salesman living at 106 North 17th avenue, Melrose Park, shot his way into her home in Milwaukee last night and after killing her sister and wounding her father, kissed Miss Kathlyn Foley farewell and disappeared.

Peterson met Miss Foley several months ago. Last night her sister, Janet, aged 22, answered a ring at the front door. Peterson stood in the entrance. "I've come to see Kathlyn," he said.

Shoots Father Also.

"You can't see her," Janet replied. Two pistol shots rang and she fell, shot through the stomach and in the shoulder. George T. Foley, 52, the father, started towards Peterson and the salesman dropped him at the door to the living room. Physicians said he cannot live, a bullet having entered his spine.

"You saw what I did to them; I'm going to kill you, too," he then told Kathlyn, according to the story she told the Milwaukee police. But his determination weakened and he kissed her, Kathlyn said, and fled into the darkness. Although his proposals had been frequent, she had not given Peterson much encouragement, she said, and both the sister and father had openly forbade him to call.

Posed As Husband.

Kathlyn ran to the home of a neighbor, who called the police, and within a few minutes all available men were ordered to search for the slayer. Police here were asked to be on the lookout for him. Peterson was said to have been employed by the Cicero Motor company of Chicago.

Mrs. Joseph Cross, Peterson's landlady, said that he left home yesterday after telling her that he was going to Milwaukee to get his "wife, who was being detained there."

Two Drown When Sewer Break Floods Caisson Pit

Timothy Fleming, 50 years old, 5400 Princeton avenue, and Andrew Walsh, 40, address unknown, were drowned yesterday morning when a break in a sewer under Roosevelt road flooded a 35 foot caisson well for the new bridge at Canal street in which the men were working. Henry Plumb, 1144 North Wells street, operating the winch by which buckets full of clay were raised from the well, first saw the danger of a cave-in, but was unable to save the two workmen. The body of Walsh was removed to undertaking rooms at 245 West North avenue.

GERMAN FLYING FOR AMERICA BY WAY OF ORIENT

BUDAPEST, Sept. 20.—(AP)—Capt. Otto Koennecke and his plane Germania passed over Budapest at 8:40 this evening, flying east. Budapest is approximately 600 miles from Cologne.

Koennecke's Takeoff.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, Sept. 20.—The German ace Otto Koennecke hopped off at 2:22 p. m. today from Cologne in the biplane Germania with San Francisco as his goal. He will go by way of the orient, the first part of his route including Budapest, Constantinople, Angora, India, and Japan, virtually the same as that traversed by William S. Brock and Edward F. Schlee.

Levine Maps Atlantic Service.

LONDON, Sept. 20.—(AP)—Charles A. Levine, returning from Paris to London today, disclosed plans for the construction of a huge trans-Atlantic airplane, with which it is intended to establish regular trans-oceanic passenger and freight service. The plane will have seven engines, a wing spread of 180 feet, 6,000 horse power, a cruising radius of 4,000 miles, and a speed of 115 miles an hour. Mr. Levine's proposed eastern trip has been postponed until at least Thursday morning because of the unfavorable winds.

COAL MERCHANT BEATS OFF BANDIT TRIO WITH SHOVEL

Handy from long experience with the tools of his trade, James Lorio, 55, a coal dealer at 647 West Division street, wielded a scoop shovel with telling effect last night as he knocked one of three bandits over the railing of the rear porch entrance to his living quarters upstairs.

Lorio was carrying $300 upstairs for safekeeping when three men followed him and attempted to snatch the money from his pockets. He tussled with them until he reached the head of the stairs, where he managed to lay hands on the shovel and started swinging. The shovel hit one of the three on the side of the head, knocking him over the railing. His companions fled.

The injured youth, owning to a battered head and wrenched back, was unable to resist as Lorio, who is short and weighs but little, sat on him until police arrived. At the Chicago avenue station he said his name is William Zabier, 25 years old. The desk sergeant said Zabier was still too dizzy to recollect where he lives.

Lorio's defense was credited with saving the profits of his day's brisk business in coal orders coming with the cool weather.

U. S. WRIT HALTS GAS TAX PAYING BY NATION, CITY

Federal Judge George A. Carpenter yesterday issued a temporary injunction restraining A. C. Bollinger, director of finance of the state of Illinois, from collecting the 2 cents a gallon gasoline tax from the Shaffer Oil and Refining company on gasoline sold to federal governmental agencies and the city of Chicago.

The order entered by Judge Carpenter further restrains Director Bollinger from instituting court action or revoking the license of the concern for failure to pay the tax. A hearing on an application for a permanent injunction will be heard later.

Dog Drags Girl to Safety and Kills Rattlesnake

Hollywood, Cal., Sept. 20.—[Special.]—A 1 year old police dog saved 2 year old Sylvia Lloyd from death from the fangs of a rattlesnake in the child's Hollywood back yard. The dog knocked the child down and dragged her across the yard by her dress. When Jack Lloyd, the father, beat off the dog, which he thought was attacking the baby, the animal rushed the snake, seized it by the neck and shook it to death.

MAYOR RETURNS; 5,000 ADMIRERS CHEER HIS TALK

He Tells of Trip West; Visited 11 Cities.

BY JAMES DOHERTY.

Mayor Thompson, after being welcomed in eleven other cities, came home to Chicago yesterday and was given a welcome. Louis E. Golan and Edward F. Moore, who had charge of the welcoming, said there were 7,500 automobiles in the parade which escorted the mayor from the Santa Fé railroad station to the Hotel Sherman.

For an hour and a half the automobile loads of Thompson welcomers came north in Clark street and turned west in Randolph street past the machine in which Mayor Thompson stood waving to them. Then about 5,000 persons crowded into the exhibition room at the hotel and listened for two hours to those who spoke of "Thompson, the man of the hour." Then the mayor told of his two weeks' trip around the west.

Crowe Gives Eulogy.

"We are welcoming home a great American," said State's Attorney Robert E. Crowe, who had accompanied the mayor. "Not only has he advocated the four cardinal principles of Americanism but he has done more for Chicago than anything that has happened in my lifetime. And, further, he has removed the prejudice that has existed in some localities, created by unfair critics in Chicago."

According to State's Attorney Crowe, the mayor impressed the business men of the west with his ability and established friendships between all those cities and Chicago such as will result in increased business for Chicago.

Homer K. Galpin, chairman of the Republican county central committee, Charles V. Barrett, member of the board of review, Richard Wolfe, commissioner of public works, Samuel A. Ettelson, corporation counsel, and Thomas Sullivan of St. Paul were other speakers.

Predicts National Fame.

Mr. Barrett said Thompson's efforts for flood control and his other policies will make him the outstanding figure in the next Republican national convention.

The mayor explained he had spoken before audiences of members of chambers of commerce in the western cities at the request of Thomas J. Hill, city clerk of New Orleans and secretary of the flood control conference, who was sent to Chicago to get the help of the nation for the flooded lands of the south. He said he had been gracefully received, and he told of the successes of the police quartet led by Sergt. Frank McCann.

Then the mayor said it was time for every one of his friends to get busy campaigning for the next primary, and that every candidate receiving his support would be pledged to his policies.

Three Kentuckians Killed After One Kicks a Dog

Ashland, Ky., Sept. 20.—(AP)—Three men are dead in the hills of Magoffin county as the result of kicking a dog, which occurred six months ago. The shooting took place Sunday afternoon but news of it reached the outside world today.

FEAR 1,000 DEAD AS FLOOD RUINS MEXICAN TOWN

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

MEXICO CITY, Sept. 20.—From Amatlan in the state of Vera Cruz comes a report from a deputy that the famous old Indian town and center of great oil interests was virtually wiped out by an overflowing river. It is feared more than 1,000 persons are dead in the Amatlan district.

Fragmentary telegraphic reports have revealed the magnitude of the disaster caused by floods in the Acambaro district of the state of Guanajuato. More than half the city was destroyed. The number of dead in the area is not known, but estimates today place it high.

Hundreds of persons are marooned by rushing waters. A relief train sent to the district yesterday was unable to return as the flood rose and destroyed several miles of track in its wake. Not a trace of the roadbed is left.

KLAN MEMBERS DENY PROMISE OF JOBS BY DUVALL

Indianapolis Mayor Tells of Armitage Deal.

BY JOHN BOETTIGER.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Indianapolis, Ind., Sept. 20.—[Special.]—Knights of the Ku Klux Klan marched out to the witness stand today in defense of John L. Duvall, mayor of Indianapolis, on trial for political corruption.

One after another denied that Duvall made any promises to give patronage to the klan; he did not swear on oath to give 85 per cent of municipal offices to klansmen, they testified.

Other klansmen before them, summoned by the state, had sworn to an oft repeated pledge by Duvall that he would abide by the dictation of the klan in his civic policies and in dispensing patronage.

Ten New City Employés.

Of the sixteen witnesses heard today, fourteen, or all but two, were members or former members of the Ku Klux Klan, and ten of the witnesses are now employés of the city administration under Mayor Duvall. Another is a contractor engaged in city building.

Mayor Duvall himself completed his testimony with a statement of why he accepted $12,000 in cash from William H. Armitage, local boss. Armitage said he had given the money upon Duvall's promise to let Armitage control the board of public works.

By his own statement Duvall showed he was a shrewd politician engineering a fine double cross, but not a violator of the Indiana corrupt practices act, which condemns a candidate who, for money or votes, promises political appointments.

Duvall Explains Armitage Cash.

"I know how much money Armitage had spent in the primary, trying to beat me," said Duvall. "And I knew what he had done to me in the vote. I felt his purpose in offering the donation was to have a friendly relation with the administration in setting himself in on street improvement work.

"So I figured he would spend as much money to defeat me in the election as he had in the primary and to prevent this—to keep him out of the campaign—I took his money. I had the full intention of driving him out of Indianapolis, of destroying his power in politics, and especially ridding the board of public works of his influence. And I did just that, after I was elected."

Witness in Contradictions.

Sometimes the defense witnesses contradicted each others. One of them, Orville M. Marshall, captain in the city fire department, was forced by Prosecutor William H. Remy to admit the following testimony:

"Duvall [at a meeting of klansmen] was apologizing for the way he had run the first part of his term as county treasurer, but that since the first of the year he had cleaned house and now had no Negroes or Catholics working there. He said we could expect the same consideration when he became mayor."

Marshall admitted he had given the testimony to the grand jury and that the statement was true.

Deny 85 Per Cent Klan Spoils.

Six witnesses, all city firemen and policemen, swore they attended this meeting and that Duvall did not then promise to give 85 per cent of his patronage to the klan.

Dr. Roy Egbert, physician, and Alonzo Jeffers, a contractor engaged in city work, testified they attended a conference with Duvall and George Elliott, exalted cyclops of the klan. They swore Duvall refused to approve a list of appointments tendered by Elliott, who had testified for the state that Duvall promised to make the appointments.

After that half a dozen witnesses for Duvall testified they attended the mass meeting of 1,500 klansmen at the Tenth Street Methodist church community house.

The Rev. George Henninger has testified for the state that he read a pledge to forty condidates, by which they agreed to give the klan a majority of the patronage of their offices, and to allow the klan to dictate their political policy. Henninger said Duvall swore to and signed a pledge.

The witnesses for the defense on this meeting testified that no such agreement was contained in the pledge which was read by Mr. Henninger. No promise concerning patronage was read or exacted from any of the candidates, these witnesses swore.

JURY TO TEST PUBLIC VIEW OF CHRONIC CRIME

A Criminal court jury will be given the opportunity today before Chief Justice William V. Brothers to decide for the first time whether the citizenry desires the enforcement of the habitual criminal act for crime repeaters.

Albert C. Woods, who served nearly six years in the penitentiary for robbery, is to be the victim of the test. Should he be convicted under the habitual criminal count in the indictment he can be given a flat sentence of the maximum punishment for that crime, life imprisonment. Should the jury disregard the habitual count and find his only guilty of the robbery he would be eligible for parole any time after 11 months.

The taking of testimony in the case started yesterday morning and was concluded last night. The jury will be instructed and retire to deliberate this morning. Wesley L. Noakes, 4726 Patterson avenue, a taxicab driver, identified Woods as the man who robbed him of $27 and his taxicab on the northwest side last June. He is also charged with the robbery of another chauffeur.

Famous for his literary tilt with George Bernard Shaw over the true character of a fighter, the champion pays homage to the greatest fighter of all time by reading the finest biography of Napoleon yet written. The N. Y. Evening Post of Sept. 15th reported him more than half way through the big 732 page book at his Lake Villa, Ill., training quarters.

JAPAN RUSHES PLANS FOR WAR IN MANCHURIA

Clash with U. S. and Russia Near.

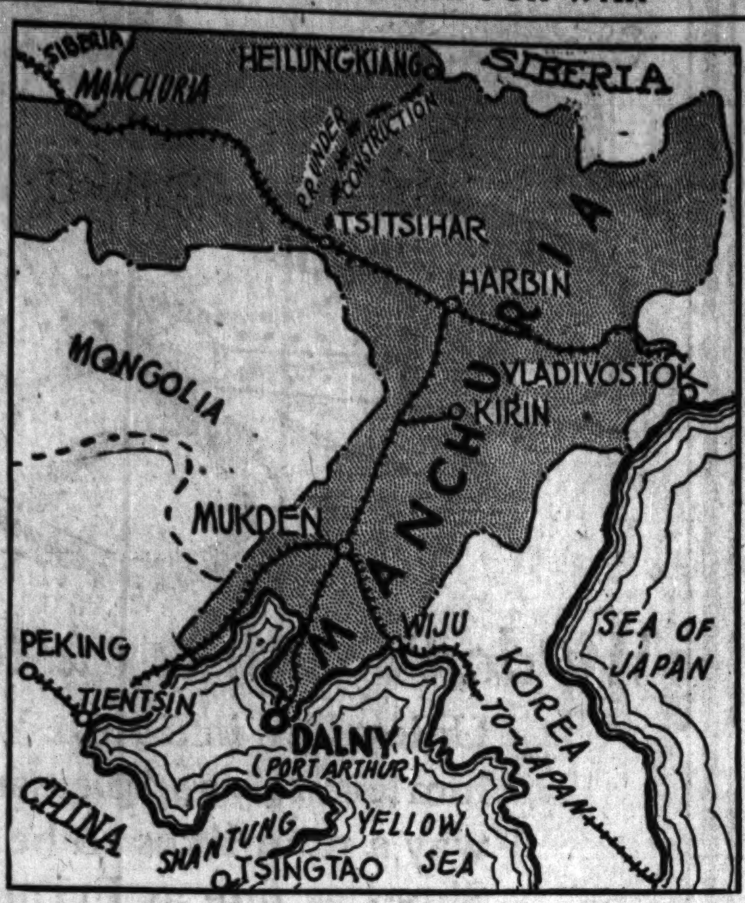
JAPAN SETS STAGE FOR WAR



The map shows Manchuria, which is threatened with war by Japan. Japan is speeding huge shipments of arms from Europe to back up its plans to penetrate Manchuria and China.

regard the munitions movement with even greater satisfaction, since it removes the eye of Japan from its own land towards an even richer country. The attitude of China is of consequence.

The new railway spur of the South Manchurian railway from Taonanfu, Mongolia, to Tsitsihar, in the rich province of Heilungkiang, which the Japanese are busily preparing to build only 300 miles long, but the commercial advantages of the line are tremendous. It will penetrate into an amazingly rich, almost undeveloped province, of which the chief outlet at present is Vladivostok. It will give uninterrupted transport facilities to Dalny, carrying off products from any future Japanese colony and bringing imports from the Japanese mills.

Of Strategic Value.

The tactical advantage is of perhaps much greater immediate importance to a power seeking to penetrate and to face a potential enemy with similar ambitions. The new line will cross the Bolshevik Eastern railroad, which runs down from Chita, in the Transbaikalian province of Siberia, to Vladivostok.

Should Papan and Russia come to grips after the completion of the new line, the former from its strongly defending line could isolate Russia's greatest eastern port from Moscow.

Although the Geneva conference and Russia's attack on England through the Chinese nationalists gave Japan an immediate opportunity, preparations for the Manchurian advance have been under way for months. In the last six months hundreds of thousands of tons of steel rails of British and continental manufacture have been shipped from Antwerp, Rotterdam and Bremen to the Japanese. In a season that is normally dull, the British ships have been carrying on every voyage great loads of steel and aggregates far greater than necessary to repair the damage from earthquakes and floods in Japan.

Many Gas Chemicals.

In addition to the munitions from Baltic ports, continental Europe is shipping great quantities of chemicals to Dalny, ostensibly for fertilizer, but capable of conversion into gas for use by the army.

The shipment of munitions raised the possibility of diplomatic complications. These were got round by giving the entire sphere of Japanese influence in southern Manchuria to the railway company. The railway company, pursuing a peaceful vocation, cutting grades and laying rails, has little use for shiploads of guns and ammunition, although it can use army transport in the early stages of the work.

The purpose in sending some of these cargoes to Tsingtao, the Japanese fortress in Shantung, is obscure. This is far removed from the scene of operation in Manchuria, but it could be more valuable to the Japanese as a naval base, as it was to the Germans.

Clash with United States.

America's open door policy is certain to enter the eventual discussions of Japan's advance into Manchuria and China. Under the treaty of Portsmouth of 1905, both Japan and Russia agreed to evacuate Manchuria and to restore full and unhampered administration to China, except on Liao-Tung peninsula, which is leased to Japan. Russia ceded to Japan 514 miles of the southern Manchuria railway from Dalny to Changchun. In about 1909 Japan and Russia agreed not to interfere with one another and to work together in southern Manchuria. A protest from the United States immediately followed, the Washington government contending that the railroads should be neutralized.

This brought Japan and Russia even closer together, and in 1910 they concluded an agreement which America further considered a breach of the open door policy, as it infringed on China's rights both in Mongolia and Manchuria.

Dalny, which formerly was Dairen, has been developed enormously by the Japanese, and the capital has become in a generation the second greatest port in China, ranking only after Shanghai. Before the Russo-Japanese war it ranked forty-second.

BRISTOL IN PEKING

BY CHARLES DAILEY.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

PEKING, Sept. 20.—Rear Admiral Mark L. Bristol's occupation, on his arrival tonight, of the American minister's residence, gave rise to the report that the American minister, John Van A. MacMurray, will not return, with Rear Admiral Bristol assuming the commissionership should necessity require. However, this report could not be confirmed in responsible quarters. Rear Admiral Bristol's only scheduled public address is to be before the American association on Friday, but he has announced a desire to meet leading Chinese, some of whom are attending a legation dinner tomororw.

Military developments in the Yangtze area may require the admiral's return to Shanghai, since evidence accumulates that the Hankow faction is renewing plans for a thrust against Nanking, while the new Shanghai government is not fully organized. Marshal Sun Chuan-fang again is advancing toward Pukow, possibly in order to divide the attention of the Nanking armies, but a campaign is impossible until Gen. Feng Yu-hsiang is made ineffective in Honan province.

Confers with Butler.

Rear Admiral Bristol also is conferring with Brig. Gen. Smedley Butler, commander of the marines, who remains at the Rockefeller hospital, regarding the marine contingent at Tientsin, where cholera has attacked people in the foreign concessions. There have been two deaths in the Japanese concession, four cases and three deaths in the French concession, with an average of five new cases daily among the Chinese troops. There have been no further cases among the French troops.

There also have been some cases of cholera at Tangku, at the mouth of the Tientsin river, one being a Japanese civilian.

Chinese in Battle.

SHANGHAI, Sept. 20.—[U. P.]—Three thousand Chinese soldiers fought today at Lunghwa, near Shanghai. There were 80 casualties. A regiment belonging to Gen. Ho Ying-Chang's command sought to disarm 1,500 of Gen. Chen Chio-Chien's troops. The latter finally were disarmed.

ANNUL MARRIAGE OF GIRL AND HEIR TO NINE MILLIONS

San Francisco, Cal., Sept. 20.—(AP)—The marriage of Helen Bainer Chancellor, 16, and Philip M. Chancellor, 19, of Santa Barbara, Cal., who is to inherit a $9,000,000 estate when he is 21, was annuled by Superior Judge Thomas F. Graham today.

The annulment was granted on the insistency of the bride's mother, Mrs. Annette Pattersall Thompson, who is suing her husband, the girl's stepfather, Clark Thompson, eastern railroad magnate, for divorce in Reno, Nev. The young couple were married in Carson City, Nev., July 23 last after an elopement.

Before the couple separated Chancellor established a trust fund of $125,000 for his bride. Mrs. Thompson was named guardian.

While the youthful bride and groom were declared unwilling to assent to the annulment, they acceded to the wishes of their parents.

Rebel Chooses Firing Squad to Avert Life in Prison

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

RIGA, Latvia, Sept. 20.—Eight additional death sentences were imposed today by the Lithuanian court martial against leaders of the attempted uprising at Taurage to overthrow the Lithuanian dictatorship a week ago. Dictator Antona Smetona changed the death sentences of seven prisoners to life imprisonment, but one preferred the firing squad to a Lithuanian prison.

BURNED IN EXPLOSION, DIES.

Frank Bruni, 1532 Hanover street, Chicago Heights, died in St. James' hospital yesterday from burns incurred last week in a paint tank explosion at the Inland Steel plant in Chicago Heights. Six other workers were severely burned.

DRY OFFICIALS PLAN TO RESCUE INDICTED AGENT

Murder Indictment to Be Voted in Maryland.

Leonardtown, Md., Sept. 20.—[Special.]—An indictment charging J. Randolph Brewer, prohibition agent, with first degree murder in connection with the slaying of Charles Gundlach, aged farmer, during a prohibition raid last Friday, will be voted by the St. Mary's county grand jury tomorrow, it was stated tonight.

It is considered possible also that true bills will be returned against the other three agents who participated with Brewer in the fatal raid, during which the farmer was shot at his doorstep by agents who had intruded upon his premises without a search warrant. The other agents under investigation are Dano M. Jackley, John Fisher, and Robert S. Cornett Jr.

Jury May Vote More Bills.

At the preliminary hearing, held last night, Justice of the Peace J. Roland Duke held Jackley for grand jury action, dismissed the charges against Cornett, because he did not fire a shot, and took no action against Fisher, because of his unavoidable absence in a hospital, where he is being treated for a wound inflicted by Gundlach. Sentiment against the action of the agents has been so aroused in St. Mary's county that it was predicted tonight that the jury would ignore the dismissal of the magistrate and return bills against all four agents.

Federal authorities in Washington and Baltimore were prepared tonight to act swiftly in case the grand jury acts tomorrow. Assistant United States Attorney O. N. Forrest of the Baltimore district defended the agents at the preliminary investigation and now plans to ask for the transfer of the cases to the federal courts as soon as this can be done after indictments are voted.

Expects Switch to U. S. Court.

He will ask habeas corpus writs before Federal Judge Marcus Soper of the Baltimore district, a judge who twice before has granted similar requests in cases where private citizens were killed by prohibition agents.

Despite the fact that the state produced testimony at the preliminary hearing tending to prove that Brewer shot Gundlach after the aged man had partly fallen to the ground with a bullet through his foot, prohibition authorities in Washington today would not condemn his action. They refused to believe the testimony of Mrs. Gundlach, who stated at the hearing that Gundlach was killed while partly lying down and while he was helpless and begging her to help him.

Agents Admit No Warrants.

The angle of the investigation which aroused the most interest in Washington and Leonardtown today was the testimony of the agents who stated that they had not only entered the Gundlach farm home without a warrant but that it was customary for agents to make searches of farms without warrants of any kind.

In their testimony the agents stated that when they had reason to believe that a still was concealed on a farm, they went to the suspected place and told the farmer they were going to make a search. They contended that as long as they did not enter a private dwelling, the law had not been violated.

SLAIN DOCTOR'S RECENT WILL GAVE ESTATE TO WIFE

Hammonton, N. J., Sept. 20.—(AP)—Dr. A. William Lilliendahl, retired physician, who was slain on a lonely road near Atsion last Thursday, made a will two months ago leaving his entire estate to his wife, police said tonight.

The document, said to have been written by the physician himself, was witnessed by Dean Macgeorge, a member of the real estate firm of Bray & Macgeorge. It was found in a strong box of a local bank.

COSGRAVE LEADS BY SIX SEATS IN IRISH POLL FINAL

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

DUBLIN, Sept. 20.—The final result of the Irish Free State election was declared today, as follows: Government, 61 seats; farmers, 6; independents, 12; a total of 79 for government; and for the opposition: Eamon De Valera's republicans, 57; labor, 13; national league, 2; communists, 1; a total of 73. There will be much juggling until the Dail Eireann meets next month. The election permits President Cosgrave to hold the presidency, but with the meager majority of six votes he would prefer that some other group take the office, form a government, and carry on with his party's assistance.

DEATH CLAIMS JAMES S. HARLAN, EX-CHICAGOAN

Long Member of I. C. C.; Father U. S. Justice.

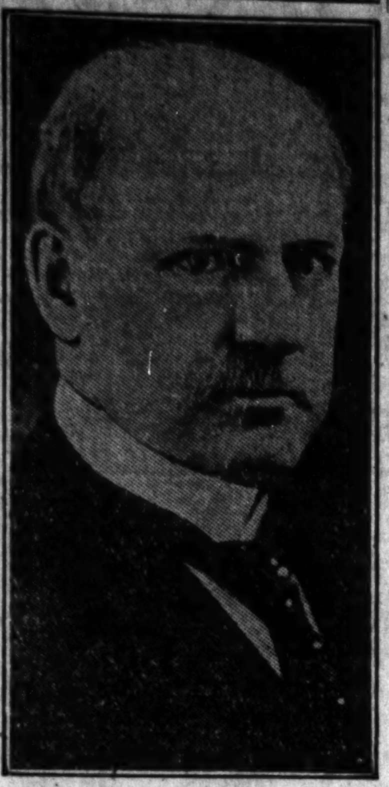
James S. Harlan, former Chicagoan who left an extensive law practice to become attorney general of Porto Rico and who later served for twelve years as a member of the interstate commerce commission, died last night at his summer home at Essex, N. Y. He had been seriously ill for several months and slight hopes had been held for his recovery since July.

Mr. Harlan was a brother of John Maynard Harlan and a son of Justice John Marshall Harlan of the Supreme court of the United States. He was born at Evansville, Ind., on Nov. 24, 1861. After attending the public schools in Louisville, Ky., he went to Princeton university, graduating in 1883. Coming to Chicago in 1884, he studied law until 1888 in the office of Melville W. Fuller, who later was chief justice of the United States Supreme court.

Goes to Porto Rico.

Admitted to the Illinois bar in 1886, Mr. Harlan practiced in Chicago until 1901, when President McKinley appointed him to the attorney generalship of Porto Rico. This office he accepted at a financial sacrifice.

DIES



JAMES S. HARLAN.

Resigning his post on the island after two years, Mr. Harlan returned to Chicago and again took up his law practice. In 1906, however, President Roosevelt named him a member of the interstate commerce commission. He remained in this place until 1918. Since that appointment he had lived in Washington.

Mr. Harlan is survived by a widow, Mrs. Maud Noble Harlan, and two brothers, John M. Harlan, once a prominent Chicago attorney, but now a resident of New York, and the Rev. Richard D. Harlan of Washington, formerly president of Lake Forest college.

An Enthusiastic Athlete.

While at Princeton Mr. Harlan was a noted athlete and was captain of the baseball team. He was an enthusiastic devotee of cycling in his youth and his reckless determination to ride down a steep hill on one occasion caused a broken leg.

Evanston Revives Idea of Quieter Milk Wagons

Upon motion of Ald. Charles B. Fullerton the Evanston city council at its weekly meeting last night voted to reconsider an ordinance shelved ten months ago that would require rubber tires to be placed on all milk wagons. The members agreed to await for the decision on a similar ordinance now before the Chicago council before taking definite action.

DWIGHT MORROW IS APPOINTED TO MEXICAN POST

Connection with Morgan Starts Rumors Going.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Sept. 20.—[Special.]—Dwight Morrow of New Jersey, a member of the firm of J. P. Morgan & Co. and a classmate at Amherst of President Coolidge, was today appointed ambassador to Mexico to succeed James R. Sheffield, who resigned last summer. President Coolidge announced the appointment today. Mr. Morrow will probably leave for his new post the first part of October.

The President pointed out that Mr. Morrow was accepting the appointment at a great personal sacrifice. He said that Mr. Morrow would immediately resign from the banking firm of which he has been a member for the last twelve years.

Made Offer on Visit.

The President offered the post to Mr. Morrow when the banker was in Rapid City last summer. The decision to accept the appointment was not made by Mr. Morrow until the last few days.

President Coolidge expressed himself as greatly pleased that Mr. Morrow had accepted the ambassadorship, which he regards as one of the most important foreign posts. He pointed out that Mr. Morrow was greatly interested in public questions, had always been abreast of domestic and foreign situations, and was well equipped for the position through his training as a lawyer and banker.

Mr. Morrow has always been regarded as one of the few men President Coolidge turned to for advice on questions relating to finance and foreign policy. He frequently came to the White House.

Hopes to Make Peace.

While administration officials stated that the appointment of Mr. Morrow will not mark any change of policy toward that country in the present oil and land disputes, it is believed that the banker's acceptance means that the chances of clearing up the difficulties between the two countries are brighter than before. It is felt that Mr. Morrow would not have consented to represent this government at Mexico City unless he felt that conditions were such that he had a reasonable chance of settling the present troubles, precipitated by American property confiscations in Mexico.

By reason of his connection with the banking firm of Morgan & Co. Mr. Morrow is familiar with the financial problems of Mexico. Thomas W. Lamont of that firm is now acting chairman of the group of international bankers that loaned money to Mexico.

Senate May Balk.

At the present time the international committee of bankers from Mexico have an agreement with the Mexican government, under which that nation has agreed to repay loans amounting to hundreds of millions of dollars. The question of whether Mr. Morrow's connection with international banking will arouse criticism in the senate this fall and possibly block confirmation was heard on all sides today.

POLISH ALLIANCE FACTIONS SPLIT INTO TWO CAMPS

Old Guard Rebels; Legal Fight Expected.

Two factions of the National Polish Alliance of America, an organization with over 250,000 members throughout the United States, were in separate sessions last night, after 45 years of united and peaceful existence.

The younger, progressive element was in control of the legislative or convention branch of the organization at the Sherman hotel, while the "old guard," in possession of the records, assets of $15,000,000 or more, and paper machinery of the business of the alliance, gathered in session at the La Salle hotel.

After two days of effort the progressive faction, which is led by C. W. Sypniewski, grand censor of the national alliance, seated some 50 of its delegates, whose credentials were contested by the old guard, organized the convention and elected Casimir Kowalski, secretary of Mayor Dan Hoan of Milwaukee, chairman. A considerable force of city policemen stood guard during the proceedings to keep down any violence, but only peace prevailed.

Take Records Along.

As soon as the new chairman was announced, however, the old guard marched out of the grand ballroom, where the convention was in session, and amid shouts of "on to Hotel La Salle," gathered up all records and secretarial property and started for that place.

The walkout of the old guard was led by Julius Szajnert, the oldest active member of the alliance. Other leaders with him were Judge Sawicki of Cleveland, John Pindras of Cleveland, Leo Mallak of Chicago, Judge Michael Blenski and City Controller Louis Kotecki of Milwaukee and Leopold Koscinsky of Detroit. The rest of the 252 old guard delegates followed.

A cause of anxiety to the remaining delegates in the progressive convention was the question of the per diem expense. The old guard has the treasury and authority to pay the expense accounts of delegates, and as they marched out they announced that they would pay the delegates who sat in their convention.

Whether the revolt of the old guard indicates a permanent division in the ranks of the alliance, or whether court proceedings will be taken to straighten out the affair, no one seemed in a position to state. Censor Sypniewski stated that the convention would proceed with its regular business and his associates were not worrying about the old guard.

Legal Action Expected.

In line with this sentiment the convention proceeded to elect Felix Furtek of Chicopee, Mass., vice chairman; Mrs. Stephanie Przewozno of Buffalo, vice chairman, and John M. Sienkewicz of Chicago, secretary.

"It appears to me that some legal action will have to be taken to determine just what the status of the factions may be," Louis Kotecki, controller of the city of Milwaukee, and an old guard delegate, stated after the rupture. "Our people have the books and records and control the finances and business of the alliance, and we contend that the contested delegates, who held a balance of power in the convention, were not legally entitled to their seats. If they had not been seated the progressives would not have had the strength to elect their chairman."

"The old guard has had control of the board of directors of the alliance in the past triennial period," Mr. Sypniewski said. "As such they were in control of the business of the alliance. However, that board did not comply with the bylaws of our society. They took the position that when once elected they could do as they pleased, and that situation was the cause of the development of the progressive element—a movement to vote them out."

TWO HURT IN GARAGE EXPLOSION.

Two men were seriously injured yesterday when a gas tank exploded in a garage at Libertyville. They are L. L. Johnson, owner of the building, and Orin Laycock, a mechanic. Johnson's condition was said to be critical. The wall of the garage was blown out by the blast.

DICTATOR WIELDS BIG STICK; SHUTS POLAND'S DIET

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

WARSAW, Poland, Sept. 20.—Marshal Josef Pilsudski, the Polish dictator, showed the diet this morning who has real power by proroguing the extraordinary session on its second day. The body cannot reconvene until one month from today in regular session, when it is to pass the budget. Criticism of the government will not be permitted.

The deputies had been in session only four minutes this morning when Vice Premier Bartel, representing Marshal Pilsudski, read the decree of prorogation amid screams from the Socialists, who cried, "Cowards! It is unconstitutional!"

Forces Parliament Closing.

The sergeant at arms, acting under government orders, immediately summoned the representatives to adjourn, and they went away like a crowd of whipped boys, with the Socialist leader, M. Liebermann, intoning, "We have the power only to protest, the government has all the physical force."

Marshal Pilsudski, arriving unexpectedly in Warsaw this morning, had an immediate conference with President Ignace Moscicki and Vice Premier Bartel. The dictator, it is said, had a decree of dissolution ready in his pocket. The other two leaders of the Polish republic approved the plan at once, a cabinet session was called, and the decree was approved by all the ministers.

Hints He May Close Senate.

The senate still is in session, but Marshal Pilsudski has intimated he will close it also if it criticizes him. A new election is expected this year, but parliamentary leaders fear the marshal will find a way to avoid holding it.

September Discount of 10% to 50%

Practical reductions of 10 per cent to 50 per cent on special lines of crystal, glass, dinner services, lamps, separate bases and shades will draw the wise shopper to Burley's during the rest of September. There is also a 10 per cent discount on all stemware and china not already specially marked. These unusual values prove that one may buy carefully where the best is not the most expensive. Burley values have been determined through 89 years of service in Chicago.

Crystal--Glass

There is no time like the present to start buying that long-desired set of stemware. A 10% discount will decrease the cost considerably, and by choosing an open-stock pattern, you may add to your service at will. Among the unusual values offered are:

Bohemian cut crystal, petal rim in ruby with delicate gold scrolls; was $75—now $37.50 dozen.

Bohemian etched crystal, $17.50 dozen.

Bohemian crystal, deep amethyst rim shading into crystal at base of bowl. Beautifully etched lily design. Was $50—now $25 dozen.

Lamps--Bases

A number of exquisite girandoles, candelabra and lamp bases are reduced, most of them 50%, during the rest of September. An interesting assortment of lamps, as well as shades and candle shields, are included at fine prices. Here are some of the interesting bargains:

China parrot base in lovely colors, wired for two bulbs, was $50—now $25.

French parchment shades with antique prints on sides. Remarkable values at $4.25 each. Candle shields or shades, same design, $1.50 each.

China--Queensware

When Burley's announce a sale, it is a sale in every sense of the word. Some astonishing china and Queensware values are offered during the rest of September, many of them 50% reductions. And there is a 10% to 30% discount on regular lines, among them new fall patterns. In addition to complete dinner services, the sale includes service and dessert plates, cream soups and bouillons, teacups and saucers and after-dinner coffees, all in fine English bone china of desirable designs. Typical of the values offered are:

Arenfeldt plates (French china), gold rim, narrow yellow band, lovely border of oak-leaves and roses. By the dozen, dinner plates, were $50—now $25; luncheon plates, were $37.50—now $18.50; dessert plates, were $30—now $15; bread-and-butter plates, were $26—now $15; bouillons, were $55—now $25.

Spode bone china dessert plates, garland design in green, rose and lavender. Were $40—now $20 dozen.

Royal Worcester bone china dessert plates, apple-green shoulder, graceful floral edge. Were $65—now $32.50 dozen. Matching teacups and saucers. Were $80—now $40 dozen.

Swedish Queensware, jade green bands, delicate relief pattern on shoulder, unusual floral center. 51-piece service for 6 persons—$50.

English Queensware by Cauldon, hand-enameled design of fruit and flowers, fluted shoulder. 103-piece set, was $131.50—now $87.50.

Royal Crown Staffordshire English bone china service plates, reproduction of antique pattern, solid cobalt blue shoulder with gold rim, three medallions of exotic cranes on shoulder. Was $150—now $80 dozen.

English Queensware, modern flower border in blue, green, yellow, and red, with narrow fluting. 103-piece set. Was $69.25—now $43.50.

There are many other fine values in French and Bavarian china, and a number of interesting broken lines in the Clearance Room.

AS FOR INSTANCE, MR. McADOO?

Mr. McAdoo wishes to clear the field so that a leadership in his party may be developed competent to maintain the supremacy of "Democratic principles and progressive policies."

"Democratic principles and progressive policies." As for instance, Mr. McAdoo?

There is, for example, prohibition and its enforcement, on behalf of which Mr. McAdoo and his supporters concentrate their opposition to Gov. Smith. It would enlighten us to have Mr. McAdoo discuss the "Democratic principles" he finds expressed in them. Is it in obedience to Democratic principles—and if so which—that there is now attached to the federal constitution a mandate for the most searching and ambitious act of centralization in our history? Is it in obedience to Democratic principle that this police ordinance in the guise of a constitutional mandate imposes itself upon the right of local self-government and the freedom of private judgment? Is it in obedience to Democratic principle that the Volstead act provides under the guise of the contempt process for the imprisonment of a citizen without trial by jury? Is it in obedience to Democratic principle that citizens' persons and property are being searched without warrant and that lives are taken by officers of the central power on mere suspicion of law breaking?

Mr. McAdoo makes it his special duty to prevent the nomination of Gov. Smith because Gov. Smith has the courage openly to oppose this régime and refuses to allow the agencies of the sovereign state of which he is the chief executive to aid the central power to impose it upon its citizens. Is this opposition inspired by the Democratic principles for which Mr. McAdoo is clearing the way? If it is, the great democrat who founded the Democratic party would not know his child.

But perhaps Mr. McAdoo classifies prohibition and its enforcement as expressions of "progressive policy" rather than of Democratic principle. Yet even on that score, we are confident he would find Thomas Jefferson as unsympathetic as on the other. For Thomas Jefferson, if we have understood the drift of his philosophy, ardently believed that progress marched with the freedom of the individual and with the local self-government which is the freeman's only competent safeguard from the tyranny of government.

Mr. McAdoo proposes to clear the way for a champion of Democratic principles and progressive principles. Will he also clear the political air of sophistry and buncombe and tell us what the Democratic party, the party of Thomas Jefferson, proposes to do to restore the rights of the states in their police power reserved by them under the constitution, to remove local self-government from the domination of aggrandized central power, and to defend the citizen in the possession of those clear guaranties of civil liberty which the founder of the Democratic party insisted should be embodied explicitly and unequivocally in the fundamental law of the republic?

AN EXPERIMENT IN THE NEW DIPLOMACY.

The "three ministers" agreement, described in John Steele's interesting dispatch of Thursday, illustrates the benefits that may be derived from the direct and frequent contact of responsible ministers who are able to consider questions and points of friction between their nations or governments without recourse to the conventional machinery of diplomacy. M. Briand is said to have proposed the plan of direct coöperation, declaring that most civil servants and bureaucrats are fools who make most of the trouble in the world by insisting upon national dignity and observance of red tape.

Vice President Dawes in a recent address has pointed out the advantages inherent in what he called the new diplomacy—namely: the method of treating major problems in conferences of ministers or plenipotentiary representatives "conscious of the limitations set upon conferees by domestic public sentiment." Of necessity, said the Vice President, each representative would consider sympathetically the analogous limitations of the conferees. The troublesome delays created by the need for communicating with the really responsible heads of government would be avoided and a frank and confidential interchange as to conditions controlling each representative would make possible and much more likely an expeditious agreement which could be assured acceptance by parliamentary or public sentiment.

The three ministers in this instance meet the Vice President's requirements and the arrangement also permits that continuous contact which, as he said, was possible among the various boards and commissions in the war organization of the allies and "resolved the nimbus which overhangs the consciousness of short lived committees—distrust of one another's motives." By this time Briand, Chamberlain and Stresemann know each other pretty well and it is fortunate that all are devoted to peace so far at least as that object may be found compatible with vital issues. Unquestionably they can iron out a good many vexatious matters which if allowed to develop might lead to serious consequences or at least serve to irritate public opinion and make the task of coöperation difficult. Of course, this is "secret diplomacy," so much belabored by theorists, but the general course of foreign relations cannot be conducted on town meeting principles. Premature publicity would make successful negotiations or effective coöperation impossible and in the long run the loss would more than offset the benefits that are occasionally found in popular check upon the plans of statesmen.

Respecting the collaboration of men like Briand and Stresemann, we think a good deal may be hoped, and we know of nothing more conducive to the peace of Europe and its reconstruction than the rapprochement which the direct coöperation of the foreign ministers of France, Germany and Great Britain suggests. It is true, we cannot afford to be too sanguine, for M. Briand has to account with M. Poincare, and even Mr. Chamberlain and Dr. Stresemann may not be able to go as far as they would like. Nevertheless, they will get a good many desirable things quietly done and it is devoutly to be hoped their collaboration means something deeper than mere diplomatic arrangements. For if France and Germany can come together without excluding Great Britain, but in a common understanding with her upon major interests, Europe will have reached a solider foundation than she has had for many generations or perhaps ever in her history.

PUT FEAR INTO THE RAPIST.

Within twenty-four hours of each other two violent sex crimes were committed in Cook county. In one, near the center of Chicago, six men abducted a 17 year old girl, having forced her escort to stand aside at revolver point, took her to a deserted place in their automobile, and there all attacked her. Two of the alleged six have been arrested; one of the suspects is already on bond, charged with robbery.

The other crime took place near Hillside, where a 15 year old girl was kidnaped on her way from the elevated station to her home, attacked and wounded, then beaten to death. At this writing the perpetrators of the crime have not been discovered.

In some cases of crimes of sex there is doubt as to the full culpability of the attackers. There have been cases in which indiscretion on the part of the victim was successfully offered as a plea in mitigation. In these two most recent crimes the facts point to nothing but a most brutal assault on a young girl wholly innocent and blameless.

They are examples of an uncontrolled bestiality in the men who committed the crimes, and those men should be punished in the only way that their demonstrated nature will understand. The law in Illinois permits a life sentence for rape. The men who assaulted the girl in Chicago should be sent to the penitentiary for life. It is to be hoped that the trial will be prompt and competent—that is, free from reversible error.

No crime known to civilization is as shocking as the rape of an innocent girl. It surpasses murder. It signifies a brutal depravity which a society claiming any degree of common decency cannot tolerate. Sympathy is wasted on a rapist. The need is for examples of punishment so severe that the human beasts who rape women will walk in fear of the wrath of justice.

A BIGGER AND BETTER BORGIA.

Mr. Alf Oftedal, acting prohibition commissioner, says his department is going to proceed against those chemists who analyze liquors to see if they are poisonous. If what the bootleggers sell and some millions of Americans buy is poisonous, the time to discover it is after and not before drinking, Mr. Oftedal feels.

We do not know what provision of law permits the department to tell a chemist what he may analyze and what not, but provisions of law are of little more consequence to your thoroughgoing enforcer than provisions of humanity. The department which orders the poison put in the commercial alcohol, much of which the department knows is going to be used as a beverage, might be expected to do what it can to enable the poison to do its work.

The new policy will be defended, of course, on the theory that the more dangerous drinking becomes the less of it will be done. The theory is false. The prohibition department has never relaxed its efforts to make drinking a perilous business as hospital, police, and asylum statistics amply demonstrate, but there is no evidence that the amount of liquor consumed has decreased. All that is likely to be accomplished by the new program if it succeeds will be to add analytical chemistry to the growing list of bootleg occupations and a few hundred names to the list of those killed annually by poisoned booze.

Editorial of the Day

PREACHING TO THE FARM.

[The Des Moines Evening Tribune.]

Another of the illusions that persist so amazingly and absurdly in all this debate about the farm equality movement is the eastern illusion that "business" is so divinely "efficient," and that therefore eastern "business" can lecture the farm in good face and with oracular wisdom about how everything should be done.

Eastern "business" is always being quoted as telling the farm that what the farm needs is business principles.

Now, in certain respects of organization, and especially in making that organization count for getting every possible favor from government, ranging all the way from patent laws and corporation charters to high protective tariffs, "business" certainly does lead farming; it certainly is more efficient.

Is eastern "business" really so efficient as the assumption seems to be? Is not the proportion of failures in all business enterprises still above 90 per cent, with eastern business producing its share? Has not the main preaching of the efficient Mr. Hoover and his aids for the last several years been the tremendous waste in industrial processes and methods, the tremendous lack of even respectable managerial efficiency? Is not "business" chockfull of enterprises of every imaginable degree of efficiency, from high to low, with more of the low by far than of the high? Is Standard Oil really the measure of average business efficiency, any more than some one remarkable farmer is the measure of average farm operating efficiency?

Let us get down to brass tacks on this efficiency business. All that this prattle about "applying business principles" to farm operation really signifies is that some men positively refuse to use their heads the same way when they think of the so-called high-level occupations encompassed in the general term "business" and when they think of the so-called low-level occupation of raising crops.

Preaching "business efficiency" to the farmer on the assumption that, being a farmer, he must be inferior, is a good additional revelation of back-of-the-head prejudices. Also it is funny. And preaching stern rejection of legislative favors is far beyond being funny. It is convulsing.

WOMEN ARE SICKLIER THAN MEN.

WOMEN are sicklier than men, according to a study made by the United States public health service, at Hagerstown, Md.

This is not true of children under ten years of age, but it is true of all other age periods. The greatest disproportion is in the group, 30 to 35 years of age, where women have a sickness rate that is more than twice that of men of the same age period. The disproportion approaches two to one in all age groups between 20 and 65. And employers must expect that disproportion among their employés. Even the school teachers in the higher grades of the grammar school, in the high schools, and colleges, must expect their girls to be absent from classes at a disproportionate rate because of sickness.

Women have more colds, sore throats, and coughs than men do.

Similar studies made in several other places by several other investigators have shown the same results. What are the women going to do about it? The illnesses which kept them away from work, from home duties and from school in this study were trivial illnesses in the main. The death rate of women is less than that of men. Their serious illness rate is lower. It is in minor disorders such as colds, sore throats, coughs, headache, constipation, backache, cramps and disorders of that level that they make such a bad showing. These can be overcome and their sickness rate from them can be brought to a level below that of men sick from minor disorders. Women have shown their ability to overcome handicaps.

In her "Personal Hygiene for Women," Dr. Clelia Mosher tells us that the stature of women has increased several inches in recent years. This is because women lead more active lives, work more, play tennis and golf, ride horseback, hike and swim. By what may be called "taking thought" they have added several cubits to their stature. They eat more and their diet is more substantial. They eat less candy, salads and sandwiches and they drink less tea and soda. They eat more meat, bread, vegetables and fruit, and they drink more milk.

She also tells us that women lose less time on account of periodic disabilities and certain groups of women, such as athletes, doctors, nurses, business women and actresses, do not lose any time on this account. Furthermore, she tells us that certain groups of muscles are stronger and better developed in women than in men. Swimming instructors tell us that women learn swimming and floating easier than men. Women are making good as channel swimmers. They will yet equal men in other athletic sports.

If women could accomplish all this in a health way we can expect them to pull their sickness rate down.

HIS THEORY OF BALDNESS.

F. W. G. writes: I am seventy years old, and for more than forty years I have been an athlete, a physical director and a health builder. I have some observations on baldness which will interest the public.

I have seen about twelve ossified men in museums. All of them had plenty of hair. Ossified Harry, now in exhibition work, is 61 years old, weighs 61 pounds, and his hair is thick, glossy and black.

I have seen thousands of consumptives and not one of them was bald. All idiots are free from baldness. Likewise, most of the insane.

Wrestlers and strong men become bald early. Stanislaus Zbyszco and Alex Aberg, wrestlers, are bald, and were so when they were young men. Travis and Tofolos, weight lifters, are bald.

REPLY.

LAUNDRY COMPLICATIONS.

Chicago, Sept. 16.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—I live in a building which has thirty apartments, and have a lease on my apartment until May, 1928. These leases call for the use of the laundry on Monday for the first floor families, Tuesday for the second, and Wednesday for the third; however, when he want to make use of the laundry on Monday the family on the second floor have every available space used up, and expect us to wait until they are through with the laundry. I have spoken to the landlord several times, and he always says that he will adjust the matter, but each Monday finds the same conditions. I have told him unless things are adjusted I shall break my lease and move. Would I be justified in doing so?

F. J. C.

The landlord does not appear to be to blame for the condition that you describe. If you wish to pursue legal remedies they should be directed against the offending tenant.

TRIBUNE LAW DEPARTMENT.

DEPENDS UPON FACTS.

Chicago, Sept. 17.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—If a couple lived together as man and wife in the state of Michigan and moved to Chicago and lived as man and wife for 15 months, would they be considered lawful man and wife; and if now they wanted to separate is it necessary for them to consult a lawyer and have separation papers?

J. J. D.

You state no facts from which we can determine whether at the inception of the relation in Michigan it was intended as a legal relation or as an illicit one. If the former a divorce would be necessary. If the latter no divorce would be necessary, but since proof of the facts might be difficult a divorce might be advisable before contracting another marriage.

TRIBUNE LAW DEPARTMENT.

A LINE O' TYPE OR TWO

NO. 21 PEOPLE'S COURT.

I have just discovered
A fact I always knew;
That happiness is not for all
But for a chosen few.

There's the spinster lives below
Who has a dog to love.
But she is even happier
Than the one who lives above.

The neighbors talk about her
They say that she is bad.
But only being wanton
Wouldn't leave her eyes so sad.

The man whose wife is ill
And always lies abed,
Shows plainly in his face
That love of life is dead.

The doctor on the first
At his trade is new.
He sees misery in many,
But mends the ails of few.

And I in my apartment
Spend the night so long,
Dreaming futile fairy dreams
That always fade at dawn.

But the janitor in the basement
Finds life almost complete.
He has no dreams, has no desires,
And thus knows no defeat.

KEEPER OF THE STARS.

WE THINK that Mr. Dempsey will win the fight because his keeper is feeding him great hunks of raw meat while Mr. Tunney is training on orange juice, cantaloupe, and buttered toast. We have two bucks bet on Mr. Tunney. We regret it. However——

Oh, What a Shock!

Dick: You'd BETTER have a 1927 Line Book! Of course you will! We have a new addition to our family—a boy, and we're intending to name it Richard Henry—BUT ARE YOU GOING TO GIVE US A NEW LINE BOOK?

THE BLONDE FLAPPER.

P. S.: By the way, the new addition is a canary.

Niles, Mich., Throws a Stone at Milwaukee, Wis.

R. H. L.: Anyway, Milwaukee's got two live wires in it—one of 'em's Dinny King an' the other's the guy that got him there! HOWARD.

AIN'T IT FUNNY?

R. H. L.: Ain't it funny how a fella in love will take his inamorata out every night, burn up barrels of gasoline, buy her alarming quantities of expensive food, take her to the best shows, send her costly presents every Christmas, New Year's, Easter, Fourth of July, Thanksgiving, birthday, and what-not, and then pine away to an early grave because he hasn't enough money to marry her? GEORGE THE RED MAN.

WHEN PEG ASKED us last week to get Dr. Michelson's record on word-changing (and his signature) she was only asking us to approach the most distinguished scientist in the world. That's all. But, doggone it, we promised you we'd get any one you wanted to fill up those blank pages in the back of This to That, and we had to make good. So we took our courage by the scruff of its neck and asked Dr. Michelson if he'd demonstrate how fast LIGHT can travel to SHADE by means of word-changes instead of the interferometer which he invented and uses ordinarily. And we were scared stiff. We expected an explosion, or at the least a cold, haughty stare—and what do you suppose happened? "That's a hard one, isn't it?" said Dr. Michelson, quietly. "Let me see—" And here's how he did it: LIGHT—sight—sighs—siges—sires—sores—sorts—soots—shots—shote—shode—SHADE.

AAMichelson

Beat that, now, darn it! And if you do, all we have to say is you've got something to be proud of.

You Should Live So Long.

Dick: Can you tell me where I can get a ticket to the Duncan sisters' benefit performance for aged Cicero policemen?

SPARKS OF MORGAN PARK.

But We'll Bet Your Mother Did.

R. H. L.: Pooh! Your old Lady Lion doesn't know a nice girl when she sees one. I walked by her the other morning at 2 o'clock (well, it may have been pretty near 3), on my way home, and, do you know, that Lady Lion didn't let out a single roar? PEGGY-KAY.

HEY! WAIT A MINUTE, you candidates getting ready to state your withdrawal. We've got a new one that's a bird. Here 'tis: "I have decided not to decide that I will not decide to be a candidate." Great, what! Neither do we, but that's just the beauty of it. Nobody will know what it means any more than they do Cal's or Bill McAdoo's. Get in on this quick, fellows, it won't last long!

The Goers vs. the Senters.

Dick: The universities and colleges are enrolling thousands and thousands of students this month. About 10 per cent of these students go to school. The rest are sent. Twenty years hence 90 per cent of our men of affairs will be made up of those who are going to college now. Most of those who are being sent will still be wearing their frat pins. OLD SOAK.

THIS BLOOD TEST business at Cleveland to decide whose baby is who's has given us another wonderful idea. Let blood tests be immediately made of Mr. Dempsey and Mr. Tunney to see whether they're really sore at each other.

You Wrong Hank Muchly—He Said Warm to Cold.

Dick: Lemmeatim! Worm and varlet, I'll have the law on him! Me, unsuspecting what dirty work was afoot, slept raw on the back porch Sunday night with only a sheet to protect me. I'll get Hank Cox and tear him apart for attempted manslaughter of an innocent citizen. ENIGMA.

THE NEW LINE BOOK is now under way. We have commenced work with a vim (Shelby, how much have you got done now?) Remember, if you've got a beloved clipping from the Line dating from 1923 or '24 or '25, tell us about it. And send your address so that we can borrow your copy, if necessary. Our files have been so pawed over and scissored in getting out the first three Line books that there isn't much left of them, and we may have to borrow your clipping. And the cover? What shall we put on the cover?

Oh, Shelby, Put This in the Book (If You Want To).

RHL: Whaddu I want to see in the Line Book? Gosh, I thought you'd never ask me. Why, what but this: "Her face was longish, with well cut lips, and smudges of disbelief for eyes. In evening dress . . . she looked like a piece of gilded wood." All San's "Portrait of a Lady," of course. BUZ.

THE LEGION authorities in Paris regret to report that the visiting Yanks absolutely refuse to take whiskers seriously and that ever and anon one of them tries to gather a handful of facial alfalfa from some passing Frenchman. When the Republican campaign managers think this thing over they will tell Mr. Hughes that he hasn't got a chance.

FROM THE TRIBUNE'S COLUMNS

65 YEARS AGO TODAY

SEPTEMBER 21, 1862.

CAIRO.—It has been known for several days that a great battle was on the tapis in the vicinity of Corinth, but considerations of public policy have prevented mention until now. Gen. Grant has moved on the rebels' works successfully. He has given Gen. Price and his legions a sound thrashing. Price with 15,000 men apparently intended to ford the Tennessee river at Muscle Shoals and march to join Bragg's army in Kentucky. They were met two miles east of Iuka, Miss., by Gen. Rosecrans' army of the Mississippi. The battle began on the evening of the 18th and lasted until noon next day, when the rebels retreated toward the south. The Union loss is 500.

WASHINGTON. — Nothing further has been made public about the battle at Antietam creek and the other engagements in Maryland. The general feeling is, that while our victory is not as complete as dispatches from the field at first led us to believe, it was nevertheless a substantial success. The rebel army escaped into Virginia. Nearly every house in Sharpsburg was struck by shells during the battle, which is officially designated as the "Battle of Antietam." The rebel loss has been found to be far greater than was at first supposed. Their loss in killed and wounded will come not far from 18,000 to 20,000.

WASHINGTON.—The National Intelligencer says that it is informed on good authority that the surrender of Harper's Ferry by Col. D. S. Miles to Stonewall Jackson's rebel corps was done with the concurrence of all the superior officers present, after the necessity for such a course had become clear and unmistakable.

25 YEARS AGO TODAY

SEPTEMBER 21, 1902.

CINCINNATI, O.—The "Roosevelt luck" once again came into play tonight and prevented what threatened to be a grave disaster. During his speech at Music hall a fire started in an adjoining hall. But for the presence of mind of a few persons there would have resulted a fearful panic, as there were 8,000 persons crowded into the hall.

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo.—The millions that Winfield Scott Stratton, when poverty stricken and in ill health, found in his famous Independence mine at Cripple Creek will go to the poor and sick. His will gives $1,000,000 to found the Myron Stratton home in this city for sick persons. It is named after his father. Practically all the rest of his estate, valued at nearly $15,000,000, is set aside to maintain the home. His son, Harry Stratton, is given $50,000 on condition he does not contest the will.

CHICAGO.—The trunk which William Hooper Young of New York, slayer of Mrs. Anna Pulitzer, whose body was found in a canal near Jersey City, shipped to Chicago was opened here and convincing proof of Young's guilt found.

10 YEARS AGO TODAY

SEPTEMBER 21, 1917.

WAR NEWS.—Another concentrated effort by Field Marshal Sir Douglas Haig to break down the German defenses east of Ypres is under way. A British drive along a front of eight miles between the Ypres-Comines and the Ypres-Staden railways was started at dawn on Sept. 20. From the first moment of going over the top the assault proceeded with marked success. Heavy artillery preparation for days had been going on and extensive raids had been made in anticipation of the tremendous infantry attack. When the British left the trenches they were preceded by row upon row of barrage fire. Field Marshal Haig's report says that the north country and Australian battalions penetrated the German positions in the center to a depth of a mile, and captured the whole of their objectives.

GREEN BAY, Wis.—Employés of a local cooperage establishment hanged Senator La Follette in effigy to a smoke stack at the plant. They then all signed a loyalty pledge.

WASHINGTON. — Two important steps were taken to protect and regulate the sugar supply. One was the appointment of an international committee of five to arrange for the distribution of sugar among allied and neutral nations. The other was the signing of an agreement by which the reduction of sugar prices, about 1 cent per pound, was assured.

THE REGULATION OF ARCHITECTURE.

Chicago, Sept. 17.—It was somewhat of a surprise to me to see THE TRIBUNE editorially approve "Architectural Standards in the Loop," but it was even more surprising to find that so competent an architect as Mr. B. C. Greengard took time to write in and indorse the idea. In fact, he did worse—he advocated extending and expanding the plan. Your paper, along with a few others, has maintained a consistent policy of opposing administrative interference and limiting the encroachments of governmental agencies upon the sacred rights of the citizenry; and yet you are willing to open another channel for bureaucratic pussyfooting.

The less regulation we have the better we get along. Mr. Greengard says he wants a "skyline which would compose into a mass of dignity and poise." Well, what I want is more dignity and poise in legislation with a skyline limit, and less political trifling and hooey in our fair village. A. D. MIRAL.

[If Mr. Miral will re-read our editorial he will see that the commission we have favored is not an agency of government, derives no powers from government and is not even created by government. Its sole function is to advise those who seek advice. Whatever sanctions it may acquire will be moral rather than legal.—ED.]

AN EARLY LAND GRANT.

Forest Park, Ill., Sept. 17.—I wonder if any one can tell me the value of a land grant dated Sept. 15, 1806, and bearing the personal signature of Thomas Jefferson, then President of the United States, and the personal signature of James Madison, who at that time was secretary of state. JACK FINNEY.

OUR ANTIQUATED CONSTITUTION.

Valparaiso, Ind., Sept. 17.—Your editorial this morning concerning needful changes in the federal constitution was most timely and appropriate. We are celebrating the 140th anniversary of the writing of the constitution. On the other hand, we will soon be celebrating, not the 140th but only the 100th anniversary of the first railroad. Most of the writers of the constitution died without ever having seen a railroad and without having dreamed of the telegraph or the airplane or of America as she now is. We need another constitutional convention, not because the work of the 1787 convention was unworthy but because in many respects it is out of date.

LLOYD M. COSGRAVE.

VICIOUS AND DEMORALIZING.

Chicago, Sept. 14.—Surely the owners and editors of "The World's Greatest Newspaper" have observed that the big black daily headlines usually stress the unpleasant, morbid, criminal, and many of the most disgusting of the human events of the day. Don't you really think it's time to curb this and use headlines to convey happy, wholesome thoughts to us victims? This morning, after several unusually hot days you rub it in with this 2 inch black type prophecy, "City to Sizzle Again Today."

There is so much that is instructive and elevating in THE TRIBUNE it's a shame that we must keep our children away from it, because of the multitudes of vicious and demoralizing suggestions contained in the stories that are run in the most conspicuous part of the paper.

L. R. LONG.

BROOKHART'S SILENCE.

Fayette, Ia., Sept. 17.—The last [illegible] friends of Senator Smith W. Brookhart are in a state of mild consternation that he has, so far, failed to come out in a ringing denunciation of the board of the Federal Reserve bank of Chicago in that they failed to lower the discount rate from 4 to 3½ per cent. Out here we have happily subscribed to his theory that raising the discount rate deflated Iowa to a point only short of ruination. Now when Wall street influences act in accord with his widely proclaimed arguments on the evils of the conspiracy to deflate, we surely look to our champion of the Iowa farmers to commend the influences working for the reduction of the discount rate and to read the riot act to the Chicago federal reserve board, the chief opponents of the reduction. If raising the rate ruined us, lowering should help restore.

AT DAM NO. 2.

Chicago, Sept. 16.—I see where members of the Izaak Walton league will spend a Sunday at Dam No. 2. Let us hope they do not miss any of the sights, especially that lone seal compelled to live in mud and slime and also the polar bear in the extremely hot sun without as much as water to drink while the animals in Lincoln park have their daily baths. I am sure it would be a more pleasant place to spend the day in if the animals were cent where they could get food twice daily and not be so unsightly to look at. MRS. B. G.

PROPOSED STREET NAMES.

Chicago, Sept. 17.—Now that the Norwegians have had their innings, how about Lenin and Trotzky drive, William Tell boulevard, Cleopatra place, Ferdinand and Isabella road, Kaiser Wilhelm avenue, Napoleon street, and [O, vile sedition !] George III. park? C. W. B.

THE PARIS CONVENTION.

Chicago, Sept. 17.—In your editorial columns about three weeks ago you had a paragraph "Call Off the Paris Trip" because of the Sacco-Vanzetti demonstrations, which at that time took place in Paris. Today we read of the great welcome extended to the American legion by the French government officials and the people. This goes to show that it was only a few individual radicals in France, who grasped at the opportunity to hold demonstrations against American justice. If the Paris convention had been called off, it would have been a big moral victory not only for the radicals in France but all over.

ALL NIGHT PARKING.

Chicago, Sept. 17.—What has become of the all night parking law which our chief of police was going after so strong? It seems as though it has all been forgotten. I was a victim as thousands of others have been; my number is on record at the station, but at the present time there are more cars parked on the streets all night than I have seen in a long time.

Should I or some of the other violators, as we were called, try to park our cars all night we would have to go to a garage the next morning and pay the damage, while all these other cars are parked all night without any trouble or worry.

FATHER SPURNS BABE OFFERED IN HOSPITAL MIXUP

Demands Definite Evidence of Parentage.

Cleveland, O., Sept. 20.—(AP)—"That baby girl can remain at the hospital forever, as far as my wife and I are concerned, for I won't take it unless doctors can prove conclusively that it is my wife's child," Sam Smith, father of the chief figure in Cleveland's "baby puzzle" case, said today.

Mrs. Smith reiterated her refusal today to leave Fairview Park hospital today until she was convinced that the child she nurses was the one to which she gave birth Aug. 22.

She continued to maintain that hospital officials participated in a shuffle of babies, giving her a baby girl a week after she had been told a baby boy had been born to her.

Proceed with Blood Tests.

Although they agreed in a conference with Judge Carl V. Weygandt of Common Pleas court that medical science could not conclusively prove the parentage of the child, three doctors went to the hospital tonight to make tests of the child's and mother's blood and examine their physical characteristics.

Dr. W. B. Glendinning and Dr. T. Wingate Todd, noted anthropologists, were to make examinations of bones, facial and bodily characteristics, while Dr. Clyde L. Cummer was to make a Wasserman blood test. They were not to make public their finding until they were called for testimony in court Thursday.

Hospital Relies on Nurse.

Philip Collmer Jr., superintendent of the hospital, insisted today that Miss Ruth Meyer, nurse attending Mrs. Smith, just returned from a vacation, could offer testimony at Thursday's hearing to prove that the baby girl Mrs. Smith now nurses is her own. He asserts that Miss Meyer said she knew the child was a girl, but that in confusion she had told J. A. W. Reutenik, attending physician, it was a boy.

Miss Meyer was quoted at Detroit last week as saying that she "didn't remember the sex of the child." Upon advice of Luther Day, the hospital counsel, she refused to amplify her statement or clarify conflicting versions to newspaper men.

Father Persists in Refusal.

Sam Smith said that he was not interested in Miss Meyer's testimony unless she could explain the erasures and other bungling of the hospital's birth register. She has said she knows nothing about the muddled records.

"Unless doctors can prove that the girl is our child, my wife will continue to refuse to take it into our home," Smith insisted.

BANDITS HOLD UP BANK CAR, ROB FOUR OF $95,000

Discard $56,063 Checks and Auto Later.

Shotgun bandits waited yesterday for an automobile containing an official and three employés of the First National Bank of Cicero and crowded it to the curb under a darkened railroad viaduct tunnel at 21st and Rockwell streets. They escaped with a satchel containing $95,000 in money, checks, and bonds, of which $56,063 in checks was later found in their abandoned machine.

The bandit car contained five men, all masked and armed with shotguns. George Klof, chauffeur for the bank automobile, was taken completely by surprise, as were Charles Krupka, vice president of the bank; Richard Class, bank policeman, and Joseph Conrad, bank messenger. Forcing these four to the street the robbers ordered them to line up against the viaduct wall, their hands uplifted.

Unnoticed by Passersby.

Although other motorists were continually driving past, not one noticed the holdup, police said. After the loot had been taken the bandits climbed back in their car and drove rapidly west on 21st street.

The chauffeur, Klof, was beaten over the head with a revolver when he was slow in complying the bandit's orders. He was only slightly injured and his wound was treated by a doctor.

Krupka was en route at the time of the robbery to the Kaspar State bank at 1900 Blue Island avenue, of which he is also vice president, intending to deposit the money.

Total of $19,000 Cash.

Within an hour of the robbery Lieut. George Maher and his detective bureau squad found the abandoned machine used in the holdup in the rear of 2720 West 24th street. The checks were scattered in the tonneau. Bank officials said that the remainder of the loot, amounting to $39,000, consisted of $19,000 cash and $20,000 in negotiable bonds.

Police believe that the departure of the bank machine from Cicero was witnessed and the robbers tipped off by telephone as to the probable course to be taken. The victims were asked to view pictures of well known criminals at the detective bureau.

Fight Blaze Above as Cafeteria Customers Eat

Diners at the California cafeteria continued to sort out dishes for their evening meal late yesterday afternoon as firemen fought a blaze four stories overhead in the six story building at 28 West Washington street. The fire was believed to have started in the workroom of the La Mode Millinery and Hat Frame company. Damage was slight.

VARE'S TICKET SWEEPS PRIMARY IN PHILADELPHIA

Senator Elect Claims "Vindication."

Philadelphia, Pa., Sept. 20.—[Special.]—Republican electors of Philadelphia, after one of the most striking municipal campaigns waged here in years, went to the polls today and wrote their approval on the entire ticket selected by United States Senator William S. Vare and his ward leaders. Organization leaders tonight as a result were declaring Mr. Vare "vindicated" in his home city of all charges growing out of the senatorial election of last year.

In spite of the apparent victory of City Treasurer Harry A. Mackey, mayoralty candidate; Judge John Monaghan, district attorneyship candidate, and all names on the Vare councilmanic ticket, the indicated pluralities late tonight were not as great as the organization leaders had predicted.

Led by Ex-Congressman.

This led to a hint by former Mayor J. Hampton Moore, the defeated anti-Vare mayoralty aspirant, that the independent forces would not be content to end their fight with defeat at the primary. Political observers, therefore, predicted a renewed battle at the November election, with possibly Mr. Moore's name linked with that of District Attorney Charles E. Fox in a second attempt to "break the Philadelphia machine."

Mr. Moore's statement, in which he described the election result as a "great moral victory," was issued after early returns had indicated that Senator Elect Vare would find himself in control of local politics during another administration.

Except in the event of an independent fight, it is expected the general election in November will have no real bearing on the principal offices, owing to the small Democratic registration.

Plurality of 150,000.

Shortly after the polls closed the Vare candidates were claiming pluralities of 200,000 or greater. By the time two-fifths of the 1,570 divisions had reported their full count, however, it appeared that Mr. Mackey's plurality over Mr. Moore would rest between 125,000 and 150,000 and that the district attorneyship would be settled on about the same comparative basis.

Returns from 455 election divisions out of a total of 1,570 gave Mackey 79,858 and Moore 37,451.

Mr. Moore, who predicted that a new Republican organization would grow up in Philadelphia as a result of the election, said the vote proved "that the Republican party is not the sole property of Senator Elect Vare and the forty-eight ward leaders."

Two Killed in Pittsburgh.

Pittsburgh, Pa., Sept. 20.—(AP)—The most disorderly primary election campaign in the history of Allegheny county ended tonight. When the polls closed, two men had been killed by political gangsters, many others were wounded, several riots had occurred, police officers were jailed and many election officials were brought before the court charged with violating the election laws.

The vote, estimated at more than 150,000, was heavier than in state elections, despite the fact that only county and city offices were involved. Most of the fights for nomination were purely local, centering about aldermen and constables but, in these the state leaders were seeking to nominate their candidates so as to retain their power in the next general election.

Seized as Owner of Gin Plant Back of Drug Store

Romeo Bartnick, said to be owner of the Romeo pharmacy at 168 West Harrison street, was arrested yesterday by prohibition agents who confiscated nine cases of gin and a complete cutting plant for gin in the rear of the drug store. Two anti-beer squads are traveling the loop to keep fight fans from buying real beer. Leo Barber was arrested for kick of the beer bought at 536 South State street. John Larie was seized at Madison and La Salle streets yesterday when recognized as the owner of a truckload of liquor captured in December.

Hunt Firebug as Three Blazes Start in Building

Investigators of the fire attorney's office were at work yesterday collecting evidence on three fires which started early in the day at 2348-50 West Roosevelt road. Firemen and police were convinced that the fires were started by a "firebug." The first alarm came about midnight. At intervals of an hour two more alarms were sounded and when firemen arrived on the last alarm the building was in flames and threatened to destroy other buildings.

Miscellaneous Recipes

Quick Prune Bread
(2 Loaves)

2 cups cooked oatmeal.
2 teaspoons salt.
¼ cup brown sugar.
½ cup prune juice.
1 egg, beaten.
3½ cups flour.
5 teaspoons baking powder.
1 cup chopped nuts.
1 cup stoned prunes.

While oatmeal is hot, add sugar and salt, let cool. Add prune juice, beaten egg, the dry ingredients sifted together, then prunes and nuts. Knead 5 minutes. Bake in moderate oven 1 hour.

Salad Supreme

1 package lemon Jello.
1 cup boiling water.
1 small can crushed pineapple.
Juice 1 lemon.
2 tablespoons chopped pimientos.
2 tablespoons chopped green peppers.
½ cup chopped celery.
3 tablespoons chopped cucumber.

Dissolve jello in boiling water. Add pineapple and lemon juice. When it begins to set, add rest of ingredients. Pour into wet molds and chill.

Banana Ice Box Cake

½ cup sugar.
2½ to 3 tablespoons flour.
Dash salt.
1 egg, slightly beaten.
1 cup hot milk.
½ teaspoon almond extract.
3 bananas, mashed.

Mix dry ingredients in double boiler, add egg. Pour on gradually, hot milk, beating constantly. Cook 15 minutes, stirring until thick and smooth, then occasionally. Cool, add flavoring and banana. Separate lady fingers in halves. Lay in a row on a piece of waxed paper, cover with half the filling. Place another layer of lady fingers on top, then the remaining filling, end with layer of lady fingers. Set in icebox for several hours, or over night. Just before serving, cover with whipped cream.

For variations, try macaroons in place of lady fingers or thin layers of sponge cake.

WOMEN—FREE!

You BUY 2 Boxes of Kotex for 98c
You GET One Full-Sized Box FREE

Thus you receive 3 boxes on payment of only 98c—Offer Limited—Act Promptly

Made to acquaint all women with the remarkable protective features of KOTEX—features found in no other sanitary accessory known

TO show women the remarkable difference and vastly greater protection of Kotex over any other sanitary accessory known, this unique offer is made . . . three regular 65c boxes of Kotex, a $1.95 value, on payment of 98c.

Go today to any store in this city, or out of town, where Kotex is sold and take advantage of this opportunity. But do not delay. All dealers' stocks are limited. If you come late, you cannot be supplied.

The difference between Kotex and other sanitary pads

Kotex is utterly different from all other sanitary pads. There is no other "like" Kotex.

Kotex is the one and only sanitary pad filled with the super-absorbent Cellucotton wadding.

Thus Kotex has the amazing power of absorbing 16 times its own weight in moisture! Thus Kotex has 5 times the absorbency of the ordinary cotton-filled pad! Think what this means in protection.

Because of these exclusive features Kotex has changed the hygienic habits of the world. It has made sheerest frocks safe under the most trying hygienic handicap women know. Eight in ten better-class women of America have adopted Kotex—for health's sake and for peace-of-mind.

Discards like tissue—No disposal problem

One uses Kotex, then discards it—as easily as tissue. Thus no laundry. No problem of disposal. Think, too, what this means.

Deodorizes while it acts

Another factor is that KOTEX is scientifically permeated—under a process applied to no other sanitary pad—with a highly effective deodorant.

That means that Kotex deodorizes thoroughly and absolutely as it acts. Which banishes another old-time fear of women.

Kotex comes as the result of years of scientific experiment.

It is made under hospital standards of sanitation and safety.

It embodies scientific protection that is sure and positive . . . features unknown to any other sanitary accessory in the world today.

Accept this offer

Find out for yourself why millions of women use it. Find out why experts say, "Only Kotex itself is 'like' Kotex — Only Kotex itself is Kotex."

IMPORTANT!

Why gamble with substitutes hospitals have tried and rejected?

More than 75% of all recognized hospitals in America use Cellucotton absorbent wadding in their surgical departments — the same material that is used exclusively as a filler in Kotex pads.

Many hospitals have tried substitutes for Cellucotton wadding, but have returned to the exclusive use of this marvelous absorbent, which towers above all low-quality absorbents.

Good hospitals and reputable surgeons take no chances with their patients. Why then should you allow any merchant to substitute a pad made of inferior material when you wish the only original Kotex?

In spite of cheaper substitutes, hospitals have purchased at regular prices 1,441,152 Kotex pads this year for their patients. Doctors insist on Kotex for patients. Will you accept less?

U. S. AND FRANCE TOAST AMITY AT LEGION DINNER

Foch and Pershing Are Heroes of Fete.

This almost forgotten cemetery lies in the populous eastern quarters of the city. There the last victims of the reign of terror, including Andre Chenier, the immortal French poet, and many hapless scions of the greatest families of France are buried, and there ever since the restoration prayers have been said day and night in the little chapel by four nuns. Lafayette himself was buried there after the revolution.

With the color guard of the Paris post, Commander Howard Savage and Gen. Pershing went there and laid two magnificent wreaths at the worn gray slab that marks the resting place of the man who helped secure both American independence and the success of the French revolution.

Doumergue Entertains Yanks.

For the first time in many years the great triumphal gates of Elysée Palace, the French White House, were thrown open this afternoon, and it was for 1,000 American Legionnaires to troop in to meet President Doumergue.

With a great big wide open smile, like they grow in southern France, President Doumergue, standing on the steps of the fine old palace, greeted his visitors as they filed past. And that was all they did, because they arrived half an hour late, with the result that no one saw the heavily laden buffet in the plush and gold interior, which had been prepared with an eye to delighting palates that have grown languid under Volstead.

It was Iowa day at Elysée Palace, with the prize Fort Dodge drum corps, the Sioux City band, and the Davenport ladies' auxiliary drill team all there because of competitive honors they have won, and the state of Iowa, cognizant of the honor done it, presented the French president with a great big tri-color French flag with Iowa's coat of arms embroidered across the face, as is the French custom.

Forced to Round Up Guests.

Though the handsomely engraved invitations said 4 o'clock, the Yanks arrived late. When Commander Howard Savage, and Maj. Gen. Milton Foreman drove through the great wrought iron triumphal gates on the Avenue Gabriel, surmounted by a crowing cock—the French national symbol—promptly at 4 o'clock they found only a mere handful of Legionnaires present, and the Sioux City band completely missing. Commander Savage said he would not think of entering with such a ridiculously small representation, and sent out a delegation to comb the town and rake in the thousand the French president asked for. Half an hour later vets dragging wives and children began to straggle in, and Commander Savage returned with the Sioux City band in tow.

Gen. Lasson, chief of the president's military household, and other palace officials stood around wringing their hands. They said it was unheard of to keep the president of the French republic waiting, and said he never would be able to throw open the buffet because after the Legionnaires, the Interallied club was due fifteen minutes later.

With War Minister Painleve, Navy Minister Leagues, Minister of Colonies Perrier, Marshal Foch, and Gen. Gouraud, President Doumergue, wearing morning clothes with the red ribbon of the Legion of Honor on his breast, received first Commander Savage and Maj. Gen. Foreman, and then smiled his greetings to each one of the thousand or more visitors.

The Sioux City band played the "Marseilles" and "Star Spangled Banner," while the women's drill team, carrying real guns and looking pretty fierce, stood at attention. A couple of women waved invitation cards and wanted to know if this was all and if the cards did not entitle them to something more. American embassy attachés had to get a squad of French police to watch the women, who insisted on presenting letters from the local pastor and other notables to the president.

Many Also Meet Foch.

Already late, the delegation rushed off two blocks, down the Avenue Gabriel, to the Interallied club, where Marshal Foch, who was host, was standing on the steps overlooking another gorgeous garden. He grinned in greeting and shook hands with at least a thousand people.

While the tired but happy delegates were gathering in the Trocadero palace for the second day of the convention and no less than thirty permanent committees worked in the Lycee building, 5,000 veterans, their wives, mothers, and kids, rose up early and slipped out of town en route to the battlefields, where they will live over the scenes of ten years ago, or learn all about them.

Between 6 and 9 o'clock this morning, 32 trains pulled out of Gare du Nord and Gare de l'Est, bearing pilgrims to Chateau Thierry, Belleau Wood, Cantigny, Rheims, Verdun, St. Mihiel, the Argonne, and other spots where the Yanks saw action. Hundreds more were packed into busses and private autos in which they planned to make tours of the battlefields more thoroughly. At several little villages, such as Fere en Tardenois, Romagne, and Thiaucourt, special memorial services will be held tomorrow for the visiting Americans.

The leader of the allied army paid tribute to the qualities of the man who led the American troops in the most striking address of the convention at today's session. Throwing down his typewritten speech, silver haired Marshal Foch turned sharply and faced the immense American flag and saluted it.

"Let me first salute your star spangled banner, which I saw as early as 1917 waved side by side with ours and carried in 1918 by ardent souls, vigorous arms and victorious strides from the Marne up to the very banks of the Rhine," he said.

Then, turning to Gen. Pershing, he paid stirring homage to the American general.

"Gen. Pershing, without insisting upon the prerogatives of rank, showed always most entire abnegation, complete devotion to the common cause, and the strongest energy to assure the triumph of our cause. When one has lived together in tragic hours and computed anxiously the number of battalions and standards going into battle, it is impossible to remember without emotion the names of Cantigny, Chateau Thierry, St. Mihiel, Argonne, Woevre, and Champagne."

Pershing Wildly Cheered.

Gen. Pershing was the next speaker and when he arose, walking to the front of the platform arm in arm with Marshal Foch, the convention cheered as never before. Gen. Pershing's speech was interrupted continuously by applause and every time he mentioned Marshal Foch it was the signal for an outburst. Recalling the crisis which led to rushing the American forces to the field, Gen. Pershing said:

"It is now sufficient to recall that within three months the enemy was compelled to plead for an armistice. To the allied world the symbol of victory is Marshal Foch."

The one armed Gen. Gouraud, next to Marshal Foch the most popular French military hero, took but a couple of minutes to endear himself to the Legionnaires. In a short, simple speech he cited his close association with the American divisions and French troops, mentioning the number of each Yank division and just what it did with remarkable clearness.

Today was women's day at the convention, many women sitting in with the various delegations. Mrs. MacAuley, in behalf of the Legion auxiliary, made an address, sketching briefly the part played by women in war time.

Gen. Frank T. Hines, director of the veterans' bureau, outlined the rehabilitation work of the government, and the day's speeches were concluded by the address of Senator Tyson of Tennessee, who got a big hand from the southern delegations.

With the Paris convention just under way, the time and place committee spent a long afternoon looking over the invitations from the various cities for the 1930 convention. The group approved the decision made in Philadelphia last year to hold next year's convention at San Antonio, and bids from Detroit, Louisville, and Miami for 1930 were considered. The committee also decided to ask the convention to choose the meeting place two years in advance instead of one, as provided in the constitution.

ARREST 17 REDS FOR ANTI-YANKEE RIOT IN FRANCE

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

PARIS, Sept. 20.—Seventeen Communists are in jail today at Besancon, the watchmaking center south of Belfort, as a result of an anti-American riot yesterday in which troops had to be called to disperse 3,000 radicals entrenched behind barricades.

By arresting one radical for his insulting remarks during the Sacco-Vanzetti meeting, which was forbidden because yesterday was a legal holiday to celebrate the opening of the American Legion convention, the police incurred the wrath of the crowd, which stormed the police station.

Three shots were fired by the rioters.

AFFLICTED WITH CONSTIPATION 30 YEARS

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN brought relief in two weeks!

Read Mr. Weller's sincere tribute to the power of ALL-BRAN in relieving this dread disease:

"I have been constipated for the last 30 years. Have taken stuff from all over the world without any result. A couple of weeks ago I got a package of your ALL-BRAN. Have taken two spoonfuls with sugar and milk at every meal and ever since I am not constipated any more."

G. WELLER,
South San Francisco, Cal.

Constipation leads to more than forty serious diseases. Don't let it begin its deadly work on you. Headaches, pimples, spots before the eyes, dizziness—all are telltale symptoms.

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is guaranteed to relieve constipation. Eat two tablespoonfuls daily—in chronic cases, with every meal.

Kellogg's is 100% bran—100% effective. Delicious with cream or milk—and add fruits or honey. Used in cooking. Served and sold everywhere. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek. Recipes on package.

Our Contribution to the Better Home Building Movement

FURNISHINGS by
TOBEY FURNITURE CO.

THE HOME has been completely decorated and furnished in the modern manner by the well known firm of Tobey & Co. Various styles, including Louis XV, English and Italian are here employed with rare good taste, creating a delightful home atmosphere in keeping with the style of architecture. Some noteworthy reproductions of early English pieces are on display.

The backgrounds for the furnishings have been painted by Hans Teichert, noted German painter and decorator.

ENTERTAINMENT

KRENN & DATO representatives will be at the following North Shore Electric Stations and will be pleased to provide you and your entire family with free round trip transportation:

Adams and Wabash — Wilson Avenue
Howard Street — Central Street, Evanston
Linden Avenue, Wilmette

WITH the opening of this model home next Sunday, there will be presented to the people of Chicago and the North Shore, what experts consider the most beautiful home building achievement inspired by the Better Homes Movement of America.

This movement, under the auspices of President Coolidge, and the direction of Secretary Hoover, is doing a great educational work. In sponsoring the building of model homes of distinguished architecture, construction and furnishings at an economic cost, it is demonstrating how new beauties may be added to the already high standard of American living conditions.

As an ideal location for this model home, the leaders of the Better Homes Movement selected Krenn & Dato's Highland Park Highlands as most desirable for the matchless beauty of its virgin woodland setting on a high ridge overlooking the Skokie, the Old Elm Golf Club and the Lake. The site is within the corporate limits of Highland Park just south of the exclusive suburb of Lake Forest, with rapid convenient transportation at hand. Complete improvements are installed and high class restrictions prevail.

As designer and builder of this home, Krenn & Dato was selected as an organization with resources and experience necessary to construct a home worthy of the wonderful setting and the high ideals of the Better Homes Movement.

We are proud of this honor and deem it a privilege to have built and now present this home as our contribution to the advancement of this great cause.

Lovers of the unusual in home building and furnishings are cordially invited to attend the opening ceremonies next Sunday. Inspect this revelation in architecture, construction, materials and economy of cost. Take a stroll through Highland Park Highlands, under trees already flashing the first touches of brilliant autumnal color. See for yourself the character of this wonderful North Shore homesite development. You will be royally entertained and your time will be well spent.

Why does ... taste so sweet?

because of the extra care and supervision given its production

Freshly drawn cow's milk contains 5% of milk sugar. No change takes place in this milk sugar when milk is produced by cautious, careful methods in clean, sterile utensils, and quickly cooled to 50 degrees Fahrenheit or below, as is done with "Selected" milk.

Because of these extra safeguards during this critical stage—the first 20 minutes—"Selected" milk tastes sweet and keeps sweet.

And when you drink it you will enjoy its sweet, natural taste and realize that there is no other milk in Chicago so good.

FOUR WOMEN IN RACE FOR LEGION AUXILIARY CHIEF

Oak Parker Is Picked for "40 and 8" Office.

PARIS, Sept. 20.—(AP)—Five regional vice presidents of the American Legion auxiliary were nominated at a caucus held this evening. They are: Eastern, Mrs. William Speakman of Wilmington, Del.; southern, Mrs. W. W. Townes of Petersburgh, Va.; western Mrs. Robert Simpson of Juneau, Alaska; central, Mrs. A. W. Hinderman of Wapello, Ia., and northwestern, Mrs. A. F. King of Rawlings, Wyo.

Candidates for the presidency include Mrs. Boyce Ficklen Jr. of Washington, Ga., Mrs. William H. Wallbridge of Petersboro, N. H., and Mrs. J. E. Barcus of Indianapolis. A caucus of the northwestern delegates today endorse Mrs. C. E. McGlasson of Lincoln, Neb., as their candidate.

Mrs. Walter Davol of East Providence, R. I., was unanimously elected national "Chapeau" of the women's society "eight and forty" today. Six vice presidents, who were unopposed, were also elected as follows:

Mrs. Frances Laughlin of Orlando, O.; Mrs. Alyse Gill of San Francisco; Mrs. Marion Doob of Oak Park, Ill.; Mrs. Frank Nesbit, Paris, France; Mrs. Dudgeon of Welch, W. Va., and Mrs. Mary T. Kohlas of Washington, D. C.

COAL OPERATORS AGAIN DISCUSS STRIKE TODAY

Illinois coal operators will meet this morning at the Auditorium hotel to discuss the strike of Illinois coal miners which was called on April 1, when the operators refused to renew an agreement with the union on terms of the Jacksonville wage scale. Yesterday the Illinois mine owners met at the Great Northern hotel, and Rice Miller, head of the operators' association, announced that only 8 per cent of the mines in the state are operating under the Jacksonville basis.

Recently the Illinois coal operators rejected the peace proposal suggested by union representatives of the Illinois miners. The basis of this proposal was a resumption of work in the mines at the Jacksonville scale of pay and appointment of a committee of miners and operators to establish a higher plane of efficiency in the mines so as to cut the overhead expense of operation.

Illinois operators maintain they cannot pay the Jacksonville scale of $7.50 per day and compete with nonunion production, where the scale for miners averages about $4.46 per day.

"SCARFACE" AL CAPONE
An investigation by Kate Sargent

It reads like a penny dreadful—this investigation of Chicago crime by Kate Sargent in the October Forum. . . . It deals with "Scarface" Al Capone, leader of gangsters, still under thirty, legendary like Robin Hood because so few have seen him, object of dire attacks. . . . His sedan equipped with bullet-proof glass—half-inch steel shutters on the windows of his room — a powerful bodyguard of twelve for months wherever he went, and an inconspicuous draped object in the hands of the rear guard—one of the famous Thompson machine guns, ready for emergencies.

Here in this October article is the summary, like distorted Arabian Nights, of what has given Chicago its sinister reputation. . . . Al Capone and his notorious dive, "The Four Deuces," in the Loop, so nicknamed because the street number was 2222. . . . His hangouts in Cicero, much advertised suburb and the Gangster's bailiwick. . . . Other gangsters—"The Dirty Sheiks," "The Wailing Shebas" (with girl members) . . . fabulous fortunes of gangster leaders, their Rolls-Royces, their women in jewels and furs . . . their funerals, Angelo Genna's body in a solid silver casket with gold name-plate, followed to the grave by a State Senator, two State Representatives, scores of city officials! . . . This is an article to be read by every Chicagoan—and talked about. It tells what has happened, and still is happening. An authentic investigation for the Forum by Kate Sargent. FROST FORECAST BOOSTS PRICE OF CORN 5 7-8 CENTS

Predictions that frost would form over a large portion of the corn belt last night, with the severest cold indicated for the states north and west of Illinois, were the principal factors yesterday in an advance of 5⅞ cents in the price of December corp on the Board of Trade.

On Monday night frost occured in parts of Minnesota, South Dakota, Nebraska and Iowa. The weather bureau gave forecasts yesterday and last night tending to show that the damage in these states would be more serious by this morning and would cover a much larger area.

In Iowa only the northern part was affected by the earlier frost. Freezing temperatures were reported at Inwood and Fort Dodge. The prediction last night was that practically the entire state would be blanketed.

Henry J. Cox, senor meteorologist at the Chicago station, said that Illinois was not likely to suffer any severe damage, although it was probable frost would appear in the lowlands. The higher lands, he added, probably would escape without any damage.

The excessively hot weather of the last two weeks had caused a sag in corn prices and the upward swing was regarded as a natural reaction to the threats of a corn shortage.

In the northern Rocky mountain region temperatures were rising last night and the general forecast indicated that the severe cold spell would not last long. No really warm weather is in prospect, however, the prediction added.

U. S. Officials Not Worried.

Government agricultural department officials at Chicago were inclined not to worry over possible crop losses, especially in regard to corn. Recent reports indicative of conditions showed that corn planted at Watseka, Ill., on June 6 had matured last week and plantings of two weeks later were practically matured. Frost of moderate intensity, it is held, would not be likely to cause much damage to corn as near maturity as that.

Despite the optimistic view held by the department, the fact remains that corn jumped from 97 cents to $1.03¼ yesterday, the greatest movement in one day since June 27. The finish was at $1.02⅞, prices moving up more in two days than they declined in two weeks.

120 Day Corn May Suffer.

The situation in regard to corn in Illinois takes into consideration that the planting season was exceptionally late, though the appearance of frost is also late. What is known as 90 day corn, it was said, will in all probability be matured, but the 120 day corn may suffer materially and be usable only for fodder.

Messages from Omaha stated that heavy frosts had occurred at North Platte and Valentine, and lighter frosts at Fairmont, Huntington, and Sioux City. Other points where the temperature was low enough for frost were O'Neil, North Loop, Holdredge, and Broken Bow.

The reaction to the weather on the Chicago Board of Trade was a wild rush of buying that carried prices up 10⅛ to 11¼ cents above the low point on Saturday, which was the lowest on the crop for speculative futures now being traded.

Trading yesterday was unusually heavy, and close observers of pit operations said they had seldom seen as much corn poured into the pit from various sources and as rapidly absorbed.

COUNTY JUDGE SLAIN IN KENTUCKY; BULLET MEANT FOR ANOTHER

Owensboro, Ky., Sept. 20.—(AP)—Judge J. L. Patton, 62, county judge of Ohio county, was fatally wounded when shot by James Johnson, 45, during a session of the Ohio county Fiscal court in the courthouse at Hartford this afternoon.

Judge Patton, wounded by four bullets, was brought to Owensboro and died at a hospital tonight.

The shooting was said to have resulted from a conversation in the court room when Johnson appeared and asked Judge Patton when he was to be paid his pension. Johnson is said to have fired at another man and struck the judge.

Six Men and Wife of One Arrested as Auto Thieves

Six men and the wife of one were arrested early yesterday by Lieut. Michael Vaughn of the automobile detail and charged with the theft of twenty-five automobiles valued at more than $35,000. Vaughn found a stolen car parked at La Salle and Lake streets. He waited several hours until Edward Bingham, 1250 Church street, Morgan Park, arrived and started to drive away. Bingham's arrest led to the detention of William Mitchell of 1720 North Mason; his wife, Esther; Herman Pasche, 4906 Iowa street; his father, William; Irving Greenberg of 3909 Gladys avenue, and Herman Silver of 7530 Phillips avenue.

FREED IN KILLING AS WIFE WHO HAD HIM JAILED FLEES

Mrs. Helen Steve was responsible last April for the indictment of her former husband, Louis Clemente, when she told the Des Plaines street police that he was the murderer of Frank Rosso, with whom she was living at the time. Yesterday she was responsible for his release from jail without trial.

Mrs. Steve, who at the time charged that Clemente murdered Rosso because of his desire to marry her, disappeared soon after she appeared before the grand jury and told the story, which cleared up the mysterious finding of Rosso's body in the prairies on the far south side three years before. Since that time the police have been unable to find any trace of her.

Judge Harry B. Miller has continued the case from time to time to give the police further opportunity to find Mrs. Steve. The defendant has made legal demands for trial at each term of court and yesterday, when Assistant State's Attorney Harold Levy reported the failure of the last clew of the police, the judge consented to the entering of a dismissal of the indictment.

OREGON SEEKS TO KEEP RELIGION OUT OF POLITICS

May Abandon Revered Primary to Do It.

BY PHILIP KINSLEY.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Portland, Ore., Sept. 20.—[Special.]—In order to avoid another period of religious-political warfare such as has sown bitterness in Oregon during the last five years, the Democrats of this state may practically abrogate their revered direct primary law and send an uninstructed delegation to the next national convention.

Such a delegaton would have several members anxious to make Al Smith the nominee and others who would vote for him if the convention tide swung strongly enough that way. They would be on the lookout, however, for a candidate who would be stronger in Oregon than Smith. It is not a Smith state, although with nothing but nebulous candidacies afloat to offset sentiment for the New York governor, it might appear at present as though this was the only place for the Democrats to go.

Drift Away from Primary.

This is the original direct primary state. The rest of the country has followed the "Oregon idea" in selecting presidential candidates. Some leaders think now that under the law it will be impossible to send an uninstructed delegation, yet the first sign of struggle on the Democratic side is an effort to keep Smith's name off the presidential ballot next May.

The drift is away from the direct primary into the old convention dealing and trading.

The reason for this attitude, the effort to keep Smith from openly entering the lists in this state, is that Oregon has been the field of religious and liquor strife for several years preceding the present peaceful administration, and both sides dread to stir up tht old rancor.

There is a hope on the part of the anti-Smith group that he will follow the example of McAdoo and pull out of the race, thus making impossible another disruption of the party on the religious issue.

Oregon Democrats Divided.

The Democratic party in Oregon is weak and divided. Many Democrats in the past have entered the Republican registrations in order to get an expression in the Klan struggle over the parochial school issue. Whether they will remain in the Republican party or come back to help Smith is a question.

The party faces the campaign of 1928 with a deep division. Oswald West, Democratic national committeeman and former governor, is head of the dry wing and in 1924 led the McAdoo fight. Gilbert E. Hamaker, chairman of the county central committee during the Wilson administration, is the organizer of a local Tammany club, and guarantees that Smith's name will be entered in the primary to be held the third Friday in May.

The precedent of instructing the presidential delegation is to be broken next year, West says, but is not clear as to just how he will accomplish this. According to other leaders, it is impossible to send an uninstructed delegate under the state law.

"Under the circumstances," said West, "I hope and expect to see an uninstructed delegation made up of substantial Democrats with sufficient political sense to meet the emergency and do that which will be in the interest of the party. I hope to see men chosen who have in their minds the fact that there are other issues besides booze and religion."

Mr. West serves notice on those scouts who may come in here from the east and try to get a Smith delegation. Oregon is running its own show, he declares, and if Smith tries to get the delegation, he will get whipped. If he stays out, however, it develops that the convention is close to nominating him and need Oregon's vote, he may get it. This would leave considerable power in the hands of delegation leaders, and it might not be any too safe for Smith to depend on.

West is a fanatical dry yet a klan fighter. He would naturally be for a man of the McAdoo type, yet he has that western spirit of fair play and tolerance in religous matters which might lead him to support Smith despite Smith's wetness, just to show his contempt for those who who raise the religious issue.

Bert Haney, one of the Democratic leaders, is for Smith but opposes an instructed delgation on the ground that it would stir the McAdoo crowd into action and lead to a repetition of 1924.

Haney declares that only by keeping all presidential candidates' names off the primary ballot can an uninstructed delegation be had. This would abrogate the preference primary in the state where this idea in politics was born.

PENITENTIARY FILLS FASTER THAN STATE CAN PROVIDE CELLS

Springfield, Ill., Sept. 20.—(AP)—Completed three years ago, with a capacity of 2,500 inmates, the Illinois state penitentiary today holds 3,000 prisoners. Chauncey H. Jenkins, former state director of public welfare, said today before the Lion's club here.

Crime is sending men and women to prison, he said, faster than the state can build space for them.

He urged clubs such as the one he addressed to study the causes of crime, and try to offer some solution of the problem, which, he said, is today perplexing public authorities.

Terrible skin now lovely and clear

"AFTER three months of regular treatment," writes Miss A., "I now have the clear complexion I used to dream about and long for. Only the girl who has suffered as I did, with continual eruptions on my face just when I wanted to look my best, can know how I felt. I feel I owe a lifelong debt of gratitude to the friend who told me the best thing to do. There's nothing like it. I tried everything and I know. Lotions and salves help but they don't get at the root of the trouble. Like most skin troubles, mine were signs of poison in the body. Nujol cleared those all out in three months. I took a tablespoonful every night. Never missed once. I've got my reward now."

Not Like Medicine

Nujol is a natural substance unlike anything else. Contains no drugs or medicine. Harmless and pure.

Every corner druggist has nujol. Get the genuine. Perfected by the famous Chemical Products Division of the Standard Oil Co. (N. J.). Don't be satisfied unless you get the nujol bottle with the label on the back which you can read right through the bottle. Start this safe beauty treatment tonight. Don't delay a minute.

$1,000,000 ROAD WIDENING BIDS TAKEN BY COUNTY

First of $32,000,000 Program Started.

BY J. L. JENKINS.

Cook county's road widening program got under way yesterday when the board of commissioners received bids on approximately $1,000,000 worth of improvements, which include the widening of old 18 foot pavements on 95th street and Dempster street to 40 feet and the paving of nine other stretches of roads listed in the joint $32,000,000 widening and construction plan.

The bids were referred immediately to Chairman William Busse's roads and bridges committee for study. They will be reviewed by the committee at a meeting called for next Tuesday and referred back to the board for contract letting.

Both highway widenings are considered vital to the congestion relief plan, which calls for the widening to 40 feet of 74 miles of existing 18 foot pavements on practically all of the existing trunk line roads entering Chicago. On 95th street, where the state highway department has completed its repaving and has widened the road shoulders for county paving, yesterday's bid includes one and one-half miles of widening from Cicero avenue to the west limits of Evergreen Park.

Dempster Street Program.

On Dempster street the work involves county coöperation with the city of Evanston in removing the parkway from the middle of Dempster street west of Ridge avenue, and laying a uniform 40 foot pavement to connect with the county road to the west. Plans are complete for the widening of Dempster street on west to Milwaukee avenue, with a 56 foot width through villages. This work will be launched as soon as villages have cleared up their legal matters and have supplied the right of way, according to Maj. George A. Quinlan, county superintendent of highways.

Five Miles Completed.

Maj. Quinlan reported to the board that of the widenings authorized by the $15,000,000 bond issue, five miles have been completed by the state, 5.1 miles are under contract and plans have been prepared for an additional 5.1 miles.

This report will also be taken before the new Cook county wider highways advisory committee, which meets in the Sherman hotel today to draft recommendations for the 1927-'28 building program. It is expected that sectional subcommittees will be named to handle needs of north, west and south districts, and a detailed priority program laid out for the 50 miles of widening and 100 miles of new pavement that can be built this fall and next year.

The board was notified that more than 1,000 automobiles are expected to take part today in celebrating the opening of construction work on the $1,000,000 bridge to be built over the drainage canal on Crawford avenue. Ceremonies will be directed by President T. J. Crowe of the sanitary district and by the West Towns Chamber of Commerce.

KIDNAPERS PUT DETROIT BOY OUT AUTO NEAR HOME

Detroit, Mich., Sept. 20.—(AP)—Frankie Jergovich, spirited away from his home here last night by kidnapers who demanded $25,000 ransom from the child's father, a wealthy real estate dealer and saloon proprietor, was found tonight. He was let out of an automobile near his home by the captors. The child had not been harmed.

An aid to business hospitality

The lunch club in The Fifth Avenue Building enables you to entertain your New York clients punctiliously and with convenience. There is also an excellent restaurant on the ground floor.

Here tenants find all the conveniences of a club, which include a valet service, handball courts and a well-equipped gymnasium. The building itself lies at the commercial heart of New York. All up-town and down-town is easily reached by busses, surface cars and subway. Two elevated lines are but two blocks away.

DINES 16 YOUTHS ON ANNIVERSARY CLIMB ON 'WAGON'

Beloit, Wis., Sept. 20.—[Special.]—Sixteen youngsters were dinner guests here today of E. B. Hall, Beloit factory employé, on the sixteenth anniversary of his climbing aboard the water wagon.

Last year he celebrated the anniversary of his temperance step with a dinner given for fifteen young people. On the anniversary next year he will entertain seventeen, and so on, increasing the number by one each year.

After dinner Mr. Hall gave his guests a talk on dangers of intemperance. He has celebrated the anniversary of his conquest of the liquor habit ever since his wife died eight years ago.

JENNINGS' WILL FORGED; CLAIMS MILLIONS AS SON

One more petition was added yesterday to the huge mound of legal documents which has accumulated since the death of Edwin B. Jennings six years ago and the discovery that he had left a $6,000,000 estate.

Edward C. Koester, who once served a sentence in a Michigan penitentiary for forgery, admitted that the will upon which he based his former claims was not genuine, but contended that he still is entitled to the estate as the only son of Jennings. Koester claimed the fortune in the petition filed in Probate court yesterday.

Eight cousins of the millionaire have been picked by the lower courts as the rightful heirs, and the Supreme court is now reviewing their case. The Koester will was proved a forgery when it was discovered that the paper upon which it was written was not manufactured until two years after the date upon which it was supposed to have been written.

Dependable Oil Heat—with economy!
PASCOE
QUIET OIL BURNER

RIGHT now is the best time to think about your winter's comfort. How will you heat your home? Surely you do not want to play fireman again. Oil heat has proved highly successful. In fact, no home is really modern without a good oil burner.

To several thousand owners in this territory "good oil burner" means only one thing—Pascoe. Winters of carefree comfort and low heating expense have proved the wisdom of their burner selection.

Pascoe Burners use cheap, low-gravity oil, utilizing every heat unit. Their operating cost is appreciably lower than that of other burners of similar heating capacity. Consuming this crude oil completely, they run along dependably day after day without adjustments and without noise to disturb the quiet of your home.

The Pascoe model which most homes need sells for $700, completely installed, with 1,000 gallon tank. A down payment of only $75 starts this burner in operation for you. And you have a full year to pay the balance, without interest.

May we send you full details regarding this quiet burner—or have an engineer call to inspect your heating plant? Just fill out the inquiry blank below, or call Franklin 5320. If you do not like our proposition you will not be urged to buy.

S. DECLARES FRENCH TARIFF DISCRIMINATORY

Official Note Vigorously Denounces Action.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Sept. 20.—[Special.]—Emphatic objection to discriminations against American commerce was made in the American note to the French government in reply to its request to suspend unconditionally the recent increases in tariff rates.

While the text of the note, which has been transmitted through the American embassy in Paris, was not made public, its general character became known.

It was made plain in the communication that the American government regards the recent increases in French tariff duties as a discrimination against this country. Increases applying alike to all nations could not be objected to, it was stated, but the imposition of rates on American goods four times as great as apply to German goods under the terms of the Franco-German commercial treaty constitutes a discrimination against which this government must seriously protest.

No Threat Made.

While the note did not threaten retaliatory action, it did point out the existence of section 317 of the tariff act, under which it would be possible for the President to assess additional duties or impose embargoes on goods coming from nations which discriminate against the commerce of the United States.

State department officials said that the note was drafted with the hope that the French government will do away with discriminations against American commerce.

It was made clear in the note that the United States cannot, under its laws, enter into any negotiation for reciprocal tariff relations as proposed by the French government.

France Inconsistent.

France, it was asserted, is the only country in the world which is seriously discriminating against American goods. In failing to remove this discrimination, the French government is inconsistent, it was contended, as evidenced by the fact that its representatives participated in the recent international economic conference at Geneva, which declared unanimously that mutual growth of unconditional most favored nation treatment as respects customs duties is an essential condition of free and healthy development of commerce between nations.

The resolutions of the Geneva conference, it was pointed out, further stated that unconditional most favored nation treatment should be guaranteed for a sufficient period by means of commercial treaties.

MARINE AND ONE NATIVE KILLED IN NICARAGUA

Washington, D. C., Sept. 20.—(AP)—Another outbreak between roving bands of bandits and the American marines in Nicaragua was reported today to the state department, with indications that it was one of the most serious since the American occupation.

Although neither the marine corps nor the navy department had received official information late today of the battle, dispatches arriving through diplomatic channels declared that one marine and one Nicaraguan national guardsman had been killed and another marine wounded. The bandit losses were placed at 20 killed and 50 injured.

The engagement started, the dispatch said, when about 140 members of the Salgado band, well armed with rifles, machine guns, and bombs, descended on the garrison of Telpaneca at 1 a. m. yesterday and continued the attack for four hours before they withdrew.

HUSBAND FACES COURT TODAY ON MURDER CHARGE

Benton Harbor, Mich., Sept. 20.—[Special.]—Arthur Gerndt will be arraigned for preliminary examination tomorrow morning on a charge of first degree murder in connection with the death of his wife.

The Gerndts were married June 14. The day before, the bride willed her $11,000 estate to Gerndt. Three days after the marriage, according to Gerndt's statement after his arrest last week, the bride became ill. The wedding trip to Niagara Falls was cut short. The bried died five weeks later.

Doubting that she had died of natural causes, friends petitioned Mayor G. S. Avery to investigate. Prosecutor George Bookwalter authorized the body of the bride exhumed Aug. 13. Arsenic was found in the body.

Gerndt denies any guilt in connection with his wife's death. The attending doctor says no arsenic was in his medicine. Gerndt claimed the doctor "might have made a mistake."

PILOT TELLS OF BOMBING BIRGER RESORT FROM AIR

Danville, Ill., Sept. 20.—[Special.]—Elmer Kane of Waterloo, Ia., went on trial in United States District court today with Henry Mundale of Waterloo for possession of a stolen automobile received as part payment for bombing the Birger roadhouse, near Marion, last November from an airplane. He said that he, as pilot of the plane, double crossed the Shelton brothers, Carl and Bernie, and piloted the plane so that the bombs would drop in a nearby wood. He also testified that he and Mundale received $1,000 and the stolen car for their work and that the money was paid by Mayor Joe Adams of Benton, recently murdered.

Throughout this week a special representative of Dorothy Gray will be present in our first floor toilet goods department to instruct in the use of her preparations.

PRIMARY SUIT PERILS ELECTION OF LEGISLATORS

BY PARKE BROWN.

Another possibility of a special session of the Illinois general assembly, one separate and distinct from the chance of one being called early in 1928 to act on Chicago local transportation legislation, was discovered yesterday.

The new possibility arises from a suit started two weeks ago at Dixon, Lee county, to knock out the primary bill providing for the nomination of state senators and representatives passed by the last general assembly.

If this suit is successful, it was discovered, there will be a total lack of machinery for the nomination of candidates for assemblymen, because another bill, also passed at the last session, estops all the old parties from nominating by petition under the ballot law.

An Awkward Situation.

Therefore, if the primary law should be knocked out there could be no regular nominations and consequently no election of assemblymen except by the emergency method of writing in the names of candidates on the big ballot that comes in the presidential year.

Attorneys hold also that there might be some question about the legality of the writing in plan. They question whether the words, "For State Senator" and "For State Representative" would appear on the ballot, thereby providing a space for the writing in, unless there are regular nominations for those places. If no legislators are elected the Illinois legislature next year would consist of the twenty-six holdover senators, those from the odd numbered districts elected last year for four year terms.

This effect, it is believed, was unforeseen when the last session amended the ballot act in a way that it thought would serve to put an end to "fly by night" political parties capturing a party column on the ballot and hanging on to it by means of petitions. The old law provided that any party which received 2 per cent of the vote in a general election was entitled to a column on the ballot. The amendment provides that any such party is barred from nominating by petition. This hits the Republican, the Democratic, and the Socialist parties.

Parties Could Not Nominate.

"It follows," said a lawyer who has studied the subject, "that these parties are limited to primaries for their nominations. If the legislative primary is held invalid, the parties would be without any authority to nominate candidates for the legislature. The same thing would be true if a similar attack on the general primary law should follow the one already begun at Dixon and should succeed."

Lawyers doubt that an attack on the general law could be decided before the April primary, but they say the suit against the legislative primary act may be decided before that time.

Importance is attached to the Dixon suit as it was brought by William J. McAlpine of that city, the man whose fight knocked out all the primary laws of the state through a Supreme court decision last June. He has the same counsel now as he had then, and it is reported he will take up the new general primary law soon.

Since their own jobs are at stake it is predicted a large majority of the legislators will petition Gov. Small to call a special session if it is indicated the suit pending at Dixon will be successful.

GIRL, 4, IS KILLED BY TRUCK AS SHE PLAYS IN STREET

While playing in the street near her home yesterday afternoon, 4 year old Rita Spatz, 7148 South Honore street, was killed when she was run over by a truck owned by the Jersey Ice Cream company, 4251 South State street. Frank Odenheimer, 6616 South Campbell avenue, the truck driver, was arrested by police. This death and one other raised the county toll for the year to 694.

Mrs. Jessie Orr, 28 years old, 4455 West End avenue, was fatally injured by a large automobile driven at high speed that careened onto the sidewalk in front of 4459 West Lake street, knocking down her and her husband and continuing west in Lake street without stopping last night. She died in Garfield Park hospital. Her husband, Edward Orr, will recover, it was said at the hospital.

Two Negro icemen were killed yesterday at Gary, Ind., when the truck on which they were riding was struck by a South Shore electric train. They were Robert Scott, 27, and Charles Ingersoll, 25.

FUNDS ARE LOW, ASKS DELAY IN TRIAL OF SCOTT

Russell Scott, who has been successfully dodging the hangman for the last three years, is finding cash scarce, according to a statement made yesterday by William Scott Stewart, who asked a lengthy delay in the retrial on Scott's sanity. That trial was ordered by the Supreme court. Mr. Stewart said the "defense is badly handicapped by lack of funds" and so has been unable to obtain enough alienists to prepare for the new trial.

The case was assigned to Judge Emanuel Eller by Chief Justice William V. Brothers. Judge Eller set the trial for Oct. 24 and said he would grant no further continuance for any reason. Assistant State's Attorney Charles Mueller announced he was ready to proceed.

REPORT FRANCE ASKS OUSTING OF SOVIET ENVOY

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

PARIS, Sept. 20.—The newspaper Le Matin will publish tomorrow an article saying the French government, through Ambassador Jean Herbette at Moscow, has told the soviets that it is impossible to conduct further negotiations with the Russians regarding a pact of nonaggression until Ambassador Christian Rakovsky is recalled from Paris.

[There was a strong demand in France a few days ago for the recall of Ambassador Rakovsky, following the revelation that he signed a communist minority manifesto calling on workers of other countries to rise up against their governments.]

BUT be certain that what you buy for "Lysol" Disinfectant is "Lysol" Disinfectant.

Certain unscrupulous druggists in this vicinity have been substituting spurious concoctions for this standard, trade-marked product—trafficking with health and life for selfish gain.

These substitutes resemble "Lysol" Disinfectant in color and odor. In the most flagrant cases the word "Lysol" even appears on the label. Some of them have no germicidal action and not only are useless, but may be dangerous to delicate tissues.

In fact, some are actually crude creosote, such as is used by railroads to preserve ties and by farmers to preserve fence posts!

The makers of "Lysol" Disinfectant are proceeding against substitutors for the protection of the public, reliable druggists and their own trademark.

The United States District Court for this District has just entered decree against local infringers of the "Lysol" Disinfectant trademark. Still other substitutors will be similarly prosecuted.

For your further protection remember these facts:

3 Thus bottled and packed, "Lysol" Disinfectant is sold in only three sizes: 3-ounce, 7-ounce and 16-ounce.

4 Any product otherwise bottled (even though labeled "Lysol") which is sold for "Lysol" Disinfectant, is spurious and the purchaser is warned against its use as a germicide, PARTICULARLY WHEN APPLIED TO THE BODY.

5 If you ask for "Lysol" Disinfectant and are sold another product without explanation by the seller that it is not "Lysol" Disinfectant, the seller is breaking the law and is liable to prosecution. But for your own sake, beware of substitution and insist on "Lysol" Disinfectant.

Buy a bottle today
It has many vital uses

FOR more than 30 years "Lysol" Disinfectant has been standard with hospitals and physicians. In the home, its uses are vital and many. For example:

For cleaning. "Lysol" Disinfectant in your regular cleaning water will kill the germs that soap and water only set in motion. (And it helps to clean, too.)

For feminine hygiene. The practice of feminine hygiene was built upon "Lysol" Disinfectant. It is still best and surest for this purpose.

For first aid. A solution of "Lysol" Disinfectant should always be used on cuts, burns, wounds, skin eruptions, ivy poison, insect bites, etc., to prevent infection.

Children Cry For

Fletcher's

CASTORIA

The Young Mother.

The ills of infants and children should be so well known to the youngest of mothers that a reminder or a repetition of the symptoms of illness seems unnecessary, yet there are some mothers who overlook a feverish condition, a little colic, or a disposition to be irritable. If not corrected they may lead to serious sickness. And to correct them, to bring Baby back to its happy self, is so easy by the use of Castoria—a medicine prepared just for infants and children. It will regulate the bowels (not force them), aid digestion and so bring quiet and rest.

Fletcher's Castoria has been doing this for over 30 years; regulating the stomach and bowels of infants and children. It has replaced the nauseating Castor Oil, so-called Soothing Syrups, poisonous Paregoric and other vicious concoctions in the homes of true and honest mothers—mothers who love their children.

Those mothers will give their babies foods and medicines especially prepared for infants and children.

Proven directions on each package. Physicians everywhere recommend it.

FLEX as easily as little feet themselves

SPARTAN LEATHER SOLES are just the thing for plastic, tender little footbones that must have barefoot freedom to grow strong and healthy. They are real leather that allows the feet to breathe—but an entirely different leather that is so flexible, so instantly responsive to the movements of little feet that they hardly know they have shoes on. They keep wandering little feet out of trouble because they are damp proof and slip proof, too. And they protect your pocketbook as well as your children's health because they'll outlast all ordinary leather soles.

No More Bald Heads

This new way grows new hair in 90 days or it costs you nothing

NO reason why 4 men in 7 bald at 40. Now science proves this 90% unnecessary.

Recent experience in 200,000 cases of baldness and falling hair proved that in 90% hair roots were not dead but merely dormant—that in 150,000 of these cases hair roots were easily revived.

The new scientific way does this.

A recently discovered liquid is massaged directly into hair roots by means of a special rubber applicator. Infection is stopped—hair roots are rejuvenated. Dandruff ends—hair stops falling—new hair grows in 90 days or your money is refunded on a 3-bottle treatment.

Make this amazing test today. Go to your druggist—he gives you 90-day guarantee of new hair or money back. Don't delay.

CANADIAN LABOR CHIEF SEEKS TO BAR U. S. UNIONS

Wants Dominion Branches to Sever Ties.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

MONTREAL, Que., Sept. 20.—A. R. Mosher, president of the Canadian Brotherhood of Railway Employés and also of the All Canadian Congress of Labor, has issued an ultimatum to American unions to keep out of Canada.

Mr. Mosher issued his declaration last night at the beginning of the biennial convention of the Canadian Brotherhood of Railway Employés—the largest noninternational labor organization in Canada.

"American unions should confine their efforts to the United States, and their present branches in Canada should assert their independence," he said.

"We believe this brotherhood is the logical union for every railroad worker in Canada. The new All-Canadian Congress of Labor is animated by the same ideas and ideals which inspired the brotherhood. It is entirely Canadian in spirit and outlook and provides a common ground on which the large bodies of workers in independent unions can meet for the promotion of the general welfare."

Kill Cleveland Man and Take $20,000 Pay Roll

Cleveland, O., Sept. 20.—(AP)—Two young men shot and killed Morris Kirtz, 49, tobacco merchant, in his store today and escaped with $20,000 which he had brought from a bank to cash checks for employés of a motor company nearby.

GERMANY AND AUSTRIA UNIFY CRIMINAL LAWS

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

VIENNA, Austria, Sept. 20.—A step toward an Austrian union with Germany was taken today when a penal law bill was introduced into the Austrian parliament. The bill is the same as the German penal law on all points except that the death sentence is abolished in Austria. The bill was worked out by German and Austrian law experts during the last three weeks.

The German minister of justice, Dr. Hergt, came to Vienna especially for a conference with Chancellor Seipel and the Austrian minister of justice, Herr Dinghofer. Dr. Hergt has returned to Berlin, where the same bill comes up in the German reichstag tomorrow. Dr. Hergt said the bill is the biggest step toward the assimilation of the institutions of both countries.

The passing of the bill is certain, and thereby 70,000,000 German speaking people in central Europe will have the same penal law.

NEGRO SLAYER TO DIE IN CHAIR.

Macon, Ga., Sept. 20.—(AP)—Wilmer Galloway, Negro, was under sentence today to die in the electric chair at Milledgeville Oct. 14 for the murder of W. T. Andrews and his wife, who were killed July 24.

WISCONSIN FRAT GOES SKY HIGH TO RUSH FROSH

Madison, Wis., Sept. 20.—(AP)—One thousand feet above Madison's lakes, two University of Wisconsin freshmen accepted pledge pins from a fraternity on Monday.

Fearing that collegiate flivvers and decadent modes of transportation usually in vogue about a college town would not be sufficiently impressive, members of the fraternity paid for rides in an airplane, and while breezing among the clouds extolled the virtues of their organization.

The two freshmen, Jack Houren, Marengo, Ill., and Earl D. Peterson, Crookston, Minn., agreed with all they said and then took the pins.

278 Die as Ship Capsizes; U. S. Warships Aid Rescue

PEKING, China, Sept. 20.—(AP)—Two hundred and seventy-eight Chinese passenger were drowned when the Japanese coastwise steamer Gentoku Maru capsized in Tsingtao bay, a Japanese dispatch from Tsingtao says. One hundred and fifty-nine bodies have been recovered. American warcraft assisted in the rescue work.

AURORA VOTES $1,000,000 FOR ITS SEWAGE DISPOSAL

Aurora voted 20 to 1 yesterday for a $1,000,000 bond issue to build a sewage disposal plant and for an additional tax of one-sixth of a cent was voted, bringing the total for sewers, etc., up to 2-3 of a cent on the tax dollar. The Aurora vote completes the action of the larger Fox River valley cities to restore the purity of that stream. With disposal plants in operation at Geneva, Batavia, St. Charles and Elgin, only clear water is drained into the river.

The area outside the cities is included in the Fox River conservancy district which forbids the emptying of sewage into the river or tributary creeks.

HAITI ARRESTS THREE EDITORS FOR ACCUSING U.S.

PORT AU PRINCE, Haiti, Sept. 20.—[U. P.]—Three newspaper editors were arrested here today for publishing alleged false stories that the United States had demanded a large part of Haitian territory for a West Indian military base. The papers involved are the Nouvelliste and the Haitian, both political organs. The editors plead that they received their information from Santo Domingan sources and are not responsible for its truth. This plea is not accepted by the government, which cites the Haitian law making it a prison offense to publish fake stories likely to cause trouble.

UNDER $60,000 ROBBERY BONDS.

Zenos Hoyne, 22, of 347 Broad street, was held to the grand jury yesterday in $60,000 bonds upon charges of wounding Mrs. Eleanor Shimbel, 448 Oakwood boulevard, in a holdup on April 10.

Doctor at 83 Found People Preferred His Prescription

The basis of treating sickness has not changed since Dr. Caldwell left Medical College in 1875, nor since he placed on the market the laxative prescription he had used in his practice, known to druggists and the public since 1892, as Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin.

Then, the treatment of constipation, biliousness, headaches, mental depression, indigestion, sour stomach and other indispositions that result from constipation was entirely by means of simple vegetable laxatives, herbs and roots. These are still the basis of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, which is a combination of senna and other mild laxative herbs, with pepsin.

Dr. Caldwell did not approve of drastic physics and purges. He did not believe they were good for human beings to put into their system. If grown people want to use them no one can deny them the privilege, but they should never be given to children.

The simpler the remedy for constipation, the safer for the child and for you, and the better for the general health of all. And as you can get results in a mild and safe way by using Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, why take chances with strong drugs? All drug stores have the generous bottles.

The New CADILLAC

has met a great, nation-wide reception from an appreciative motoring public. It is acclaimed everywhere as the most beautiful of all Cadillacs—the greatest value in fine cars ever offered.

Much was expected of this new car. It had to meet the critical approval of the smartest motorists in America. It had to surpass the highest attainments in beauty, in luxury, and in performance known to fine cars. It had Cadillac's own greatest past accomplishments to transcend.

On every score, the conquest was decisive. And more: There was victory, equally great, in the new Cadillac price—which might easily and justifiably have been an advance. Instead, the new line represents values that are overshadowingly the greatest ever offered—and within a price range more moderate than before.

A NOTABLE PRODUCT OF GENERAL MOTORS

A good dancer but—

Perspiration odor so unpardonable

Why risk it—when it's so easy to banish?

WE notice perspiration odor instantly in others, yet cannot always tell when we offend.

For even when we aren't conscious of perspiring, the pores constantly give off odor-causing moisture.

Don't take needless chances—use Lifebuoy! Millions bathe with it daily, for it is so refreshing and gives lasting freedom from perspiration odor.

For healthier complexions

Better still, it helps safeguard family health by removing unseen disease germs that hands may carry home.

Lifebuoy's clean, hygienic scent—which quickly evaporates after rinsing—tells you it gives greater safety. Yet Lifebuoy costs so little. It is orange-red, the color of its pure palm-fruit oils. Get it today.

JUDGE DENIES REV. WILLIAMS' REFORM PLEA

Says Suit Was Aimed at Fight Receipts.

Rev. Elmer Williams, reformer, and former $50 a week special investigator during the régime of Edwin A. Olson as United States district attorney, was severely rebuked by Federal Judge George A. Carpenter yesterday when the suit for an injunction to prevent the Dempsey-Tunney fight brought by Williams was dismissed.

Judge Carpenter ruled that the federal courts had no jurisdiction in the case.

"I think I would be tempted to enforce my own law on the street or in some alley if any one made charges against me similar to those in the petition here signed by Rev. Williams and made against Dempsey and Rickard," Judge Carpenter said.

The Rev. Mr. Williams based his suit on the plea that the boxing match would be "brutal and an illegal prize fight."

Attorney Charles Wharton, representing the Rev. Mr. Williams, argued that the match would be an encounter between a slugger and a boxer, pointing to the declarations of Dempsey that he would knock out Tunney.

"He may be boasting," Judge Carpenter smilingly replied.

Judge Criticizes Suit.

"This bill," the judge continued, "gives a life history of Dempsey and it does not make him out a pretty man; it gives me a life history of Rickard, who starts as a common gambler. All of this stuff is not necessary to your rights. If you had any rights in this bill you could state them in a dozen lines.

"You get behind the law with a bill filed in court. You are not responsible for the matter of libel."

It was then that Judge Carpenter intimated that if such things had been written concerning him he would be tempted to handle matters out of court.

"Tunney, Dempsey, Rickard, or any one else may meet me on the street or any place they choose," Attorney Wharton told the court in reference to the matter of personally handling the charges set up in the suit.

"Ten rounds or ——?" Judge Carpenter asked.

"I'd fight as best I could. Barroom fights are not limited to rounds or rules," Wharton replied.

Is It Morals or Money?

"The federal court is not the guardian of the public morals of the state in which it happens to be seated," Judge Carpenter said. "The Circuit court of Cook county is the special guardian of the south park commissioners, and if there is any action in this matter it should be brought in that court."

"I was a little disturbed trying to determine whether your bill was founded on a high moral basis or a financial basis, and I soon discovered that you were looking after the distribution of the money which rather indicated to me that you condoned whatever moral dereliction there was," Judge Carpenter told the Rev. Williams' attorney."

Former Judge Franklin J. Stransky appeared on behalf of Dempsey, Tunney, and Rickard. Attorney Stransky pointed out that the federal court had no jurisdiction in the matter, as the fight was a local affair. He also argued that the Rev. Mr. Williams had no right to object as a taxpayer, as he showed that the Rev. Mr. Williams is not subject to tax by the south park board, residing on the northwest side of the city.

Fight Fans Attend.

"You and I resent at our time of life that two young men can work forty minutes and make more money than we have accumulated in all our lives," Judge Carpenter said to Attorney Wharton. "But, the fact remains 150,000 people want to see the boxing match. Are the South Park Board commissioners remiss because they want to let those taxpayers see the fight?"

Judge Carpenter told of fining Rickard $1,000 on his plea of guilty to transporting fight films from state to state in violation of the interstate commerce act. He said he recalled the same films being shown at the Great Lakes Naval Training station during the war to stimulate enlistments. Judge Carpenter stated he would not have fined Rickard if the fight promoter had not pleaded guilty.

FISHER CONTINUES SUIT

Circuit Judge Harry Fisher yesterday attempted to settle the difficulties between the Chicago Coliseum club and Jack Dempsey by urging attorneys to reach an agreement out of court.

Joey Sanger Outpoints Bud Taylor on Coast

Los Angeles, Cal., Sept. 21.—(AP)—Joey Sanger, Milwaukee, outpointed Bud Taylor, in a ten round slugfest here last night to repeat his victory of last November over the Terre Haute, Ind., bantamweight.

Joey Medill of Chicago lost the decision to Dario Barron of this city in the six round special event.

TOPMOST FIVE DOLLAR SEAT 313 ROWS FROM RING

Carpenters Put Finishing Touches on Arena.

BY HARLAND ROHM.

The worst break you can get with a $5 seat for tomorrow night's battle is 200 yards and 313 rows of seats from the ring. And the worst you can get from a "ringside" seat on the flat arena of Soldiers' field is 117 rows from the ring ropes. That's an actual count made yesterday.

Except for the marking of row numbers the arena was ready last night, the carpenters having put in the finishing rows of plank benches in the afternoon. Meanwhile a score of youngsters were rushing around with little boards marking the 8 inch planks into the 17 inch widths for seats and numbering each seat.

313 Rows North of Ring.

As a matter of statistics there are 204 rows of seats from ringside to the topmost rung of the southern end of the stadium and 313 from the north side of the ring to the perches nearest the Field museum. The first 115 rows on the north and south sides are chairs and from there on come the eight inch plank seats up to the seats on the regular concrete of the stadium. Furthermore, each chair is wired to a stake driven in the ground so there won't be any "hunching." There are 49 rows from the east and west sides of the ring to the concrete stands.

Sitting in the tier furthermost from the arena in the afternoon of a dull day with a pair of $66 six power binoculars it was possible to recognize a friend down by the ring if you knew him mighty well, but it wasn't possible to distinguish a face clearly.

The plank seats have plenty of leg room between them and probably there aren't many fans more than seventeen inches across the hips and maybe they'll be seated next to a slender chap. Should the weather be as cool as yesterday, however, those near the top are going to need overcoats. The wind gets a great sweep at you from across the lake.

Ring Almost Ready.

The ring itself is complete, except for stringing the ropes and the padding on the floor, which will be put up a few hours before the fight. It is a steel framework, three steel pillars on each side and one in the center supporting the flooring of two by fours. These floor boards are set in side strips of channel iron.

Four I-beams run from the center post under the ring to the pillars in the center of each side and steel cables, with turnbuckles for taking up any sag, tie the center pillar to the corner pillars. Four tall pillars, one at each corner, support the superstructure on which are hung forty lights with silvered reflectors.

McFarland Bets on Tunney; Gets Odds of 6 to 5

Packey McFarland, the former lightweight boxer, yesterday wagered $5,000 against $6,000 on Tunney to defeat Jack Dempsey. It was the first wager made here in which Dempsey was held as the odds on favorite.

Many large commissions came into Chicago from the west, the south and north yesterday, but there was a scarcity of money from the east. The betting in most quarters was at even money but Palmer House Bill Ryan reported he got 11 to 10 for some of the Dempsey money he handled during the day.

"I don't believe there is any significance in the heavy betting on Dempsey during the last two days," Ryan said. "Most of it comes from the business men in the smaller cities. The gambling syndicates from the east have not appeared with any money to be wagered on either fighter."

REWARDING CUBS' BOSS

WILLIAM VEECK. JOE McCARTHY.

Joseph V. McCarthy, who in his two years as manager of the Cubs boosted the team from a tailender to a pennant contender, yesterday signed a contract binding him to three more seasons of service on the William Wrigley pay roll.

Announcement of the formal signing was made by President William Veeck but the salary called for in the document remained a secret. Veeck admitted only that McCarthy received a substantial increase over the previous figure. It is thought that the new contract calls for $25,000 per annum.

It Makes No Difference, but Cubs Smacked Braves, 8-5

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.

It is a little bit too late for them to bring about any important changes in the column known as "Standings of the Clubs," but the Cubs are still interested in their work. Yesterday Phil Weinert put them in a very embarrassing fix by letting the Braves hop away to a four run lead; but, instead of resigning, the late flag contenders launched a campaign of their own and eventually attained an 8 to 5 verdict that made it four out of five with the Boston boys, who now have gone elsewhere for similar treatment.

Weinert's lack of cunning made it necessary to employ the derrick before the initial round was over, and the change brought Percy Jones into the arena. Percy was so perfectly primed that he dashed through the remainder of the fight with only one more hostile crossing the plate, and meanwhile the Cubs recovered lost ground with two tallies in their half of the first, three in the second, one in the seventh, and two in the eighth.

Braves Swamp Weinert.

The Braves' bunch of runs at the start were coined in a simple manner. Richbourg doubled and Moore walked. Welsh hoisted the ball into the wind, and when it came down it was behind the right field fence and three runs scored. Then Weinert fanned a fellow, walked one, and fanned the next, whereupon Farrell turned loose a double and scored Brown. The Braves' only other tally was the homer that Morrison pushed into the right field seats in the second.

Just to prove that the wind was impartial, Heathcote stepped up in the Cubs' first stand, with Adams on base as the result of a bad peg by High, and sailed the ball into the right field bleacher for two runs. The three tallies that occurred in the second were a bit more complicated. Jones, Adams, and English hit the ball safely and consecutively, and because errors were mixed in three runners hiked home.

Jones Gets a Hit.

The situation remained deadlocked at five apiece until English and Stephenson put a single and double together in the seventh. With Jones pitching smoothly and his support flawless, the one run might have been enough, but the two in the eighth made matters at least a bit more secure. Jones singled after two were out, and Adams sent him around on a triple to left center. In relaying the ball back to the infield Farrell threw it where nobody could grab it, so Adams continued homeward to complete the scoring.

The Pennant Dope

DEFEAT for the Pirates and victory for the Cardinals yesterday tightened up the National league flag race by half a game. The Pirates now top the list with a three game margin over the Giants and Cards, who are tied. To make the pennant a mathematical certainty the Pirates need nine games out of twelve. In that event neither the Giants nor the Cards could catch them by sweeping their remaining games.

COMMISSIONERS TO PICK REFEREE AT RINGSIDE

Battle to Be Waged in 20 Foot Ring.

The question of who will referee the Dempsey-Tunney fight will be settled, in so far as the thousands of spectators and hundreds of thousands of fans are concerned, when the referee climbs into the ring Thursday night. At the boxing commission's office yesterday it was said five or six referees would be summoned to some unnamed place Thursday and all given instructions. Just before the main bout Thursday night the commission will name the one of this group who will call the winner of the bout.

That, and the fact the heavyweights will battle in a twenty foot ring—a technical and perhaps actual victory for the Tunney contingent—were the two facts which came out of a day of secret conferences of the promoters and the fighter's managers.

Comish Holds Meeting.

George Getz, Tex Rickard, John C. Righeimer, Paul Prehn, Billy Gibson, Leo Flynn, and Arthur Whiteside, attorney for Tunney, met for four hours in Getz' office yesterday afternoon. After which came the usual replies "everything is running smoothly" and the commission will meet to "settle four or five things tomorrow at 1 o'clock."

Apparently, however, "everything wasn't running smoothly" as witness the variations of the twenty-foot ring decisions. John C. Righeimer, chairman of the commission, said there had been no talk of the ring. Leo Flynn, Dempsey's major domo, said he had asked about it and been told that the commission had decided on a twenty foot ring. And Rickard grinned and said, "I've got a twenty foot ring built." Take your choice.

Rickard admitted discussion of whether the fighters' hands should be bandaged in the dressing room or in the ring. Billy Gibson held out for Tunney that the hands be bandaged in the ring, and Rickard eventually called Dempsey on the phone.

That Bandage Row.

Dempsey's attitude, Rickard said, was that he was perfectly willing to bandage his hands in the ring, providing it was a warm evening, but that if Thursday night was as cold as tonight he didn't want to sit in his corner and "freeze to death" while the bandages were put on.

"I'll fight without bandages, if Tunney will," Dempsey said. "Or I'll put them on in the same room with Tunney and let him have twenty men in there. They can hold my hands while they're taped, if they like."

It is likely the commission will, as is its rule, give the bandages to both Dempsey and Tunney. The rules call for ten yards of two inch gauze and one layer of adhesive tape.

Argue Over Fouls.

Apparently there was further argument over the question of a possible foul, in which, apparently, words such as Mr. Flynn's deduction that Gibson and Tunney were "looking for a hard luck fight" were tossed around recklessly.

Gibson's suggestion that Dempsey's purse be forfeited to charity if Jack should foul Gene didn't meet with much enthusiastic response. Flynn's answer was something to the effect that such an agreement might be all right if Tunney would agree to forfeit his purse to charity if he were thrown out of the ring for stalling.

EVEN MOVIE MEN HAVE WAR OVER UPLIFT PAGEANT

New York, Sept. 20.—[Special.]—Open war has broken out between the Goodart Pictures corporation, solitary holder of a license from "Tex" Rickard to take movies at the Dempsey-Tunney fight in Chicago Thursday night, and six other news reel companies. Fair warning was given out tonight by Amiel K. Ellis, representative of the Goodart pictures, that any one caught taking a motion picture camera into Soldiers' field without permission will be thrown out.

In the WAKE of the NEWS

AN OPEN LETTER.

DEAR MR. MAXWELL: Now that Jack Dempsey, on advice of counsel or what not, has ceased writing open letters, there are a few questions I would like to ask you. While the events are past, I think in fairness to the public they should be cleared up.

So I ask you, Friend Don, why on last Thursday you told me to go out to Gene Tunney's camp to see his workout at 3 o'clock, and I drove out through all that rain to do so, when Gene did not work until after 4:30 o'clock, and by starting later I would not have had that ignition trouble?

Then I ask you why on Sunday you told me to go to Dempsey's camp to see his final workout at 8:30 in the evening, when it was at 4 o'clock in the afternoon, and only by hurrying did I get there in time to see part of it and after a few minutes' chat with him discover anew that he is "just a big, good natured boy."

And why, I ask you, when I wrote that good story on how Tunney felt in the ring, did you put it over on page two with the race entries? Was it because you knew I always read the races, or was it because you did not want any one else to see it?

And why on Tuesday night, after learning I had no money, did you invite me to dinner and then go out to see Tex Rickard and leave me waiting until I got tired and went home?

Were your motives, I ask you, perfectly clean and honorable?

Another thing, why don't I get that ticket for my cousin from Spokane?

Yours respectfully,
HARVEY T. WOODRUFF.

P. S. I wrote this letter myself.

Those Gate Receipts.

The Wake sees no reason to moan if gate receipts Thursday night do not reach $3,000,000. With the gross over $2,000,000, Chicago already has established a record and has contributed largely to a civic enterprise.

Some time ago we pointed out there might be a surplus of tickets at the end. It has happened before, especially where visitors, coming from out of town, read of the scarcity of sittings. They, therefore, decide not to come.

There was similar grief at Toledo when Dempsey first won the title from Willard. Estimated receipts of $750,000 slipped to $450,000 after the ballyhoo, and many hot pine boards were unoccupied on the afternoon of the milling.

Still, $2,500,000 is not an untidy sum even for a civic enterprise.

Getting to Your Seat.

We anticipate cash customers will experience little difficulty in getting to their seats once they have arrived at the gates of Soldiers' field. We base our opinion on the fact that the crowd of 110,000 at the Army-Navy game last fall was so well handled by the south park board, and on the additional fact that all Tex Rickard's big shows are well ushered, for he has an organization just for that purpose. There was no confusion at Philadelphia, and there was no confusion at Yankee stadium when Dempsey fought Sharkey. All this, however, does not mean to go late.

Tunney's Nerves.

Current comment deals with Tunney's placidity in the face of the innuendoes recently received. We attribute this to his confidence and possibly to his analysis of the motives. On a recent visit to Tunney's camp we asked him if he considered himself temperamental.

"No, I am not temperamental," he replied. "When I am asked to do something I do not want to do, like posing for some ridiculous feature photograph, and I refuse, I am called temperamental and sometimes upstage. It really is just my view of what is fitting and proper."

"Are you high strung normally?" we asked.

"Yes, I think I am and always have been high strung, at least above the average. I notice it more in my early preparation for battle than near the finish. When I have done everything possible to condition myself, my nerves relax. There is nothing more to be done except await the issue."

Do You Remember Way Back When:

Tex Rickard promoted the Jack Johnson-Jim Jeffries fight at Reno, Nev., on July 4, 1910, and offered a purse of $101,000, the largest on record up to that time?

BATTLE OF THE BIG DOUGH FINDS BOSSES AT PEACE

BY WESTBROOK PEGLER.

The cruel war of the open letters between the Messrs. Jack Dempsey and Gene Tunney, leaders of the unconscious overvicarious school of literature, came to an end yesterday with mutual satisfaction for the authors.

The peace occurred when Mr. Leo Percentage Flynn and Mr. Will Gibson, floorwalkers for the respective authors, met in the office of Mr. Tex Rickard and shook hands with the cordiality of business rivals but social friends.

Mr. Jimmy Bronson, who is to be one of Mr. Tunney's chief seconds in the impending clash of business interests with Mr. Dempsey and who got in the way of a few long-range intimations discharged on Mr. Dempsey's behalf, was with Mr. Gibson and he also shook hands with Mr. Flynn, so the peace would appear to be unanimous.

Flynn Explains Everything.

Mr. Flynn then admitted that Mr. Dempsey's intimations were not intended to be taken personally by Mr. Tunney, Mr. Gibson or Mr. Bronson, and he expressed pleasure at learning that they had been accepted in the spirit in which they were conceived.

"Some persons, unqualified to judge such matters because of their unfamiliarity with professional ethics, have accused me and my gentleman of indulging in personalities," Mr. Flynn stated. "I deplore this idea, as I have the greatest admiration for Mr. Gibson, Mr. Tunney and Mr. Bronson, and I never would be guilty of any statement reflecting on their honor.

"In my gentleman's open faced letter to Mr. Tunney I merely intimated that there was a conspiracy to steal last year's fight from Mr. Dempsey by improper means."

"Well," Mr. Flynn was asked, "when you accuse gentlemen of trying to steal a prize fight aren't you being personal?"

Customary to Steal Fight.

"Certainly not," Mr. Flynn asserted. "Stealing a fight is merely a business transaction, well recognized by the profession. I am sure that Mr. Gibson, Mr. Tunney and Mr. Bronson did not regard this as a personal attack on them as it is customary to steal a big fight if possible. On the contrary, it might be a reflection on a gentleman's sagacity and sobriety to accuse him of neglecting his business in this respect.

Mr. Flynn also admitted that the purpose of the open faced letter was to protect his fighter in various ways, first by angering Mr. Tunney and second by stimulating the box office business by imparting the semblance of a grudge fight to a strictly commercial enterprise.

"I was protecting my gentleman and Mr. Gibson was protecting his," Mr. Flynn stated. "That is our duty, and we should be subject to public scorn if we did not do our utmost. I believe I have had some success, for Mr. Tunney was so annoyed that he beefed to the wholesale house which sells the literature of both parties and made the company stop selling Mr. Dempsey's writings on the subject of last year's steal, as I call it.

Boom Ticket Sale.

"I also believe we aroused the customers and helped to sell some more tickets for this great civic undertaking."

So the entire controversy appears to have been no controversy at all, but merely a business phenomenon of a phenomenal business.

The idea that either of the prize fighters would be willing to practice deception on the customers by losing the fight without due and authentic cause is so outlandish that it never has entered the calculations of even the most unethical gamblers. Furthermore, in order to arrange a betting coup of sufficient size to repay either fighter for the deliberate loss of the fight, and still make a profit, the gamblers would have to bet an amount of money which would make the odds suspiciously lopsided and scare off trade.

EACH READY TO MASSAGE HIS RIVAL'S CHIN

Champion Says He'll Repeat Victory.

BY WALTER ECKERSALL.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]
(Picture on back page.)

Lake Villa, Ill., Sept. 20.—With the exception of road work tomorrow morning, Gene Tunney wound up his training today by punching the small bag for two rounds and wrestling and pounding the large bag for three.

The champion went about his final preparation vigorously. He wore long underwear and trousers. He was bundled up around the body with sweaters and in the third round worked up a good perspiration.

Tunney practiced a left hook while punching the small bag in the first round. In the second he used a straight right almost continually. His work with the big bag was the same as yesterday when he had Trainer Lou Fink hold it while he punched it with straight rights and left hooks.

Satisfied with Condition.

"I am ready," Tunney said in his dressing room after the workout. "I'll go on the road in the morning and then rest until I am called into the ring. I have trained hard and am satisfied with my condition. I feel I am in better physical shape than I have been for any fight of my career.

"I am not disturbed by the stories which are coming out of Mr. Dempsey's camp. I am reasonably certain that Jack is not in better shape.

"I also feel sure the fans who saw me in Philadelphia a year ago will see a much better fighter on Thursday night. For one thing, I am stronger. I am hitting harder with my left hand and there is more power in my right. I am satisfied I have a better defense. In addition I have a world of confidence. I defeated Dempsey once and I am sure I can do it again."

Tunney will go to Chicago until Thursday morning. He will be escorted by two police cars. Neither Tunney nor any of the camp attaches would say where Tunney would put up in Chicago.

Trainer O. K.'s Gene's Condition.

Lou Fink, Gene's trainer for the last five years, said the drying out process started today. Sweets have been tabooed and Tunney has been instructed to keep off his feet in order to store up all the energy possible. Fink told Tunney's friends that the champion is in better shape than I has seen him at any time in five years.

"His muscles are loose," Fink said. "He is eager to get into the ring but he is not nervous about it. He has done all his training with little effort and at the end of his workout today he was as fresh as when he started. He perspires easily. I predict a Tunney victory by a knockout."

Dempsey is accustomed to working and fighting in warm weather. Tunney is used to the same climate that has prevailed around Chicago for the last three days. The fighter's punches will sting a little more on Thursday night if the weather remains cool and Tunney figures the cool weather will be in his favor.

Will Reward Camp Workers.

The champion today arranged to give every member of his camp a ticket to the fight. Sergt. Bill Smith, the champion's personal bodyguard, was instructed to get the names of all in the camp, including the police, fireman, and telegraph operators. About twenty-five tickets will be required to take care of the gang.

Tom Tunney, brother of the champion, who is a New York policeman, arrived in Chicago today and will be a visitor at the camp tomorrow.

Among some of Tunney's personal friends who visited the camp today was Billy Meyers of Streator, Ill. The champion received nearly 100 telegrams yesterday from friends in all sections of the country wishing him success.

JACK WEIGHS 196

BY EDWARD BURNS.

When Gene Tunney faces his foe at Soldiers' field tomorrow night he'll be looking at more Jack Dempsey than any pugilist in a championship match ever beheld before. One hundred and ninety-six pounds of challenger will be in there—a greater weight by several pounds than those currently suspected legs ever have been called upon to big time.

But there's no blubber in that 196. Jack and his handlers know it and every one who has seen him in action in the last three days agrees. The camp gang says the extra poundage

Cool Weather Won't Help the Contender: Gene

While Gene Tunney was posing for a picture yesterday at Cedar Crest Country club he was asked to take a writing position. After he had left the table a menu card was found with the following written on it:

This weather won't help the Contender means just that much more dynamite behind that left.

The official weighing in ceremonies will be held at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning. Jack and his trainers, Gus Wilson and Jerry Ludavis, said last night they didn't think his weight would change from the figure rung up after his afternoon workout. He may go in the ring a pound heavier than 197, but the present 196 was estimated for fight time.

Jack Acts Mean.

At 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon Jack staged a spirited session in his handsomest green tights. The raiment was for the edification of various relatives but the workout was no showoff. Jack tried to tear the light bag off the swivel for three rounds and acted meaner with the heavy bag than he has at any time during his training. When the mauler finished the green tights were oozing perspiration from shoulder straps to heels.

After the afternoon session attachés of the camp sent $3,200 to Chicago to be placed on Dempsey at even money. It was said that this amount brought the total posted by the ex-champion's intimates to $51,000. Half of this has been covered, it was reported, but it was said $25,000 put up by Manager Leo Flynn was yet to be covered. In addition, Flynn was reported still to be seeking an odds bet on a Dempsey knockout before the sixth round.

Jack's Relatives Here.

Last night there was no change in Jack's expressed intention to remain at his training camp until tomorrow, but it was said that plans in this regard may be changed this afternoon. Although Jack paid off his sparring partners after the Sunday finale to pre-battle boxing, he invited all the glove catchers to sit in at the camp board as his guests until the camp breaks up. With one or two exceptions all the young men have no pressing engagements in other lines of work and have availed themselves of the pleasure of eating Jack's groceries. All are in the best of health, the chef reported last night.

The detachment of Dempsey's relatives yesterday turned Jack's private quarters into a scene something like the general mess hall. Papa Hiram Dempsey arrived yesterday morning, and at the same time came Uncle Dick, Uncle Lew, Cousin Hi Jr., and Cousin Roy Stannard.

Bad Weather Forces Delay in U. S. Polo Title Tourney

New York, Sept. 20.—[Special.]—Plans of the officials of the United States Polo association to finish the open championship during this week have been shattered by the weather and the final will go over to next week. The game in the first round between the United States army and the Ramblers had to be put off again today on account of a soft field, and will be played tomorrow on Cochrane field at Meadowbrook.

Capablanca-Alekhine Match Ends in Draw

Here're Your Parking Rules for the Fight

Advice to motorists on how and where to park their cars if they intend to witness the Dempsey-Tunney fight was given yesterday by George T. Donoghue, superintendent of the south parks.

The most important announcement by the superintendent was that no motorist may park his car in Grant park at any time Thursday unless he has a fight ticket. This restriction does not apply to the parking space at Monroe street, where an admission fee is charged. The rule was made because it was realized that if cars were allowed to enter any of the three regular parking spaces during the day it would be difficult to get them out by evening.

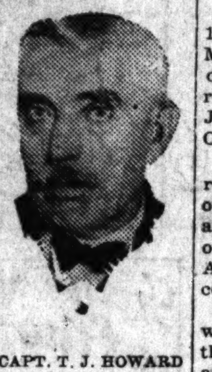
Motorists living on the north side should enter Grant park from the north and park north of the stadium, Supt. Donoghue announced. All cars in the north parking place will be required to leave by northern exits. The same rule applies to south siders, who should enter from the south and park south of the stadium.

"The Field Museum is the dividing line between north and south," said Mr. Donoghue. "I would advise motorists from the north not to attempt to get too near Soldiers' field, but to park their cars about Seventh, Eighth or Ninth streets and walk the rest of the way. The same advice goes to south siders, who should leave their cars a good distance south of the field. It will be better to walk five minutes and save from one-half to one hour in getting away after the fight."

The park board has parking space for 20,000 cars, Mr. Donoghue declared. About 15,000 cars are expected and little confusion in assigning them to their places is anticipated if the drivers coöperate, he said. All the regulations have been approved by George Getz, promoter of the fight.

Copies of instructions to motorists, giving explicit details of just where to park, will be released today. The preliminary advice was given especially, Mr. Donoghue explained, in order that drivers may be sure to bring their tickets when they drive to work tomorrow morning.

Capt. Howard to Direct Traffic in Grant Park



CAPT. T. J. HOWARD

Capt. Timothy Howard of the south park police, a veteran in the handling of huge crowds smoothly and rapidly, will be in command of directing the thousands who will pour into Grant park en route to Soldiers' field tomorrow night. Capt. Howard was in command of two other huge gatherings at the stadium, the Army-Navy game and the Eucharistic congress, and in both cases visitors and Chicagoans were lavish in their compliments of the ease and efficiency with which more than a hundred thousand hurrying humans were directed. Drillmaster John Lauder of the city police will supervise the handling of the crowd. He will be assisted by Capt. Frank J. Matchett of the traffic division, who will command traffic details, and Capt. James P. Allman of the Ninth district, who will command stadium details.

Pro Swimmers Organize International Association

New York, Sept. 20.—[Special.]—The International Professional Swimmers' association was organized tonight for the announced purpose of fostering swimming throughout the world. William Wrigley Jr. of Chicago was elected honorary president and Capt. George H. Maines active president.

Loayza Wins from Morgan in 10th; Foul

Stanley Loayza, the South American 135 pound champion, won from Tod Morgan, the world's junior lightweight champion, on a foul in the tenth round of the main event of Promoter James Mullen's boxing show at the Coliseum last night.

The fighters were in a rally on the ropes a few seconds before the end of the round. They stood head to head and were pumping punches into each other's stomach. Suddenly the South American went down and before a count could be made the round ended.

Loayza failed to get up and the bout was delayed until Dr. Joseph Russell, the commission physicians had made an examination. Dr. Russell said Loayza had not been fouled but Referee Davie Miller claimed he saw the punch which was low. As Stanley was unable to answer the bell for the tenth round he was given the fight on a foul on Miller's decision. Up to the time of the foul, Loayza had the best of the fight.

After the boxers had retired to their dressing rooms, a second examination was made and showed Loayza had been fouled.

In the ten round semi-windup, Archie Bell of New York was given the decision over Ignatio Fernandez, the Filipino. It was a fast, interesting fight featured by several rallies. There was not the semblance of a knockdown. They scaled 119 pounds.

Al Foreman of Washington, D. C., won from Armando Schakles, the Belgian 130 pounder, in the seventh round of their ten session engagement. The Belgian was sent to the mat on six occasions and when he was about to be knocked out in the seventh stanza his seconds tossed a towel into the ring.

My Sullivan of St. Paul won the verdict over Joe Reno of Trenton, N. J., in the other ten rounder. Although Sullivan broke his left hand in the fourth round he had little trouble to outpoint his opponent. Buzz Griffiths of Sioux City, Ia., won the decision over Dave Ostrov of Chicago in the opening bout of six rounds.

About 5,000 fans paid $18,000 to see the show.

500 OF BOSTON FIGHT FANS TO MAKE TRIP HERE

Boston, Mass., Sept. 20.—[Special.]—Approximately 500 residents of New England feel sufficient urge and are endowed with sufficient worldly goods to make the trip to Chicago to see the fight between Jack Dempsey and Gene Tunney for the world heavyweight championship crown Thursday night. This estimate has been offered by the railroad officials, who have made plans to accommodate the traveling fight fans.

ATHLETICS TAKE DOUBLE HEADER FROM BROWNS

Win First Game, 4 to 1; Second, 7 to 3.

Philadelphia, Pa., Sept. 20.—(AP)—The Athletics finished the season's series with the St. Louis Browns today by winning a double header, 4 to 1 and 7 to 3.

Crowder blanked the Athletics in the opener until the ninth inning when passes to Cobb and Cochrane and a single by Foxx tied the score. Al Simmons followed with a home run, scoring behind Cochrane and Foxx.

Milton Gaston was solved for six runs in the first inning of the second game and made three wild pitches, each of which allowed a runner to score from third base. Scores:

Pirates' Lead Shrinks; Lose to Robins, 3-0

Pittsburgh, Pa., Sept. 20.—(AP)—The Robins handed the league leading Pirates their second consecutive shutout defeat today, 3 to 0, as Bill Doak, veteran flinger of spit balls, held the Corsairs to two hits. Only one Pittsburgh player reached second base. The defeat cut the Pirates lead to three games. The second place Giants, enjoying two off days on their schedule, saw the contest. They open a four game series here Thursday.

The Pirates have not scored a run since the club started taking applications for world series tickets yesterday. Score:

SOX TO OPEN 4 GAME SERIES IN BOSTON TODAY

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Boston, Mass., Sept. 20.—With two days of rest on their shoulders, the White Sox will go back to work tomorrow afternoon, engaging the Boston Red Sox in the first of a four game series. The series will be the Schalkmen's last of the season in the east.

After the series here the Sox travel to Cleveland for a single game before returning to Comiskey park to play the final five games of the 1927 campaign.

Maroon Linemen Lack Drive; Hanley Orders Defense Drill

Two scrimmages at the Midway yesterday developed two more problems for Coach A. A. Stagg in his drive to whip the Maroon squad into shape. The Midway punters averaged 35 yards during the afternoon after the whole squad had tried booting the ball and the offensive lines charging added more wrinkles to Coach "Red" Jackson's brow when most of the many line bucks that were tried were futile.

Stagg spent most of the afternoon scrimmaging two teams with varying back fields. Neither team broke loose for any appreciable gains except by the air route. The defensive line was on its toes the whole time, out-charging the offense and smearing the plays.

Ben Wattenberg, a smallish half back, formerly of Senn High school, gave the camp some encouragement when he completed five passes in about ten attempts. Elliott Fulton, quarter back candidate, was the receiver in most of the plays and added yardage carrying the ball. Coach Stagg finished off the day's activities by giving the backs a tackling workout, while the forwards went to the showers after a long session in blocking and charging.

OHIO.

Columbus, O., Sept. 20.—[Special.]—Coach Wilce spent the two session of Tuesday's practice in running through new plays. Considerable attention was given to the lateral pass and in the developing of interference. The reserve squads were given most of the attention of the coaches and for more than half the practice second string material was drilled in the fundamentals. Nominal scrimmage was held which turned into first real scrimmage of the year between the first and second teams.

Northwestern university's milk-fed gridders, who each imbibe a pint of ice cold eggnogg after every training session, got their first taste of Head Coach Dick Hanley's intensive defensive drill in the cold, open spaces of Dyche stadium yesterday. Most of the five hours of practice, which was divided into morning and afternoon sessions, was devoted to instructing the newly revised line in their part of the defense work. Work on the kick off, punting, drop kicking and place kicking also was emphasized.

"Skeeter" Wyman, who has been shifted to center again, where he and Bill Hellerman are pushing Erickson for the pivot post, looked good in the drill, but the faults of the guards annoyed Hanley considerably. Allen Rosi, back in the tackle position for which he has trained in the prep school, seemed well on the road to a regular job.

The added distance for field goals required by the moving of the goal posts back ten yards, disturbed the kickers slightly in their first real work at this phase of the pastime. Lewis and Holmer did the place kicking work while Capt. Gustafson and Levison tried drop kicking.

Three more were added to the slightly injured list yesterday. Sinkler suffered a slightly wrenched back, Calderwood's "Charley horse" troubled him, and Prusait had two teeth cracked.

The innovation of eggnoggs was introduced to alleviate thirst after work, it was explained, and to prevent the athletes from consuming too much water. It also keeps them from diving into their food at the ensuing meal time.

HAGENLACHER LEADS HOPPE BY 155 POINTS

New York, Sept. 20.—[Special.]—With each player turning in an exhibition of phenomenal billiards, Eric Hagenlacher and Willie Hoppe divided block victories in their special 3,600 point 18.2 balk line match at the Strand billiard Academy today.

The day's matches were featured by a number of unusually high runs, and the lead, which was held by Hagenlacher, 600 to 525, at the start of the day, sesawed back and forth between both men before Hagenlacher gained the upper hand decisively tonight with a high run of 412. The score now stands at 1,200 to 1,045 in Hagenlacher's favor.

BEARS PREPARE FOR CARD PRO CLASH SUNDAY

With the Cardinals on the horizon as the opening foe in the National Professional Football league, the Bears are in the midst of long workouts to retain the local supremacy they gained last year. The game Sunday will be played at Normal park.

With White, formerly with the American league, Driscoll, Kernwein, Knop, Rommey, Bryan, Wolquist and Dutch Sternaman, in the back field, the Bears are confident they will match the best the Cards can offer.

Although the Cards lost a practice tilt last Sunday to Hammond, 6 to 0, the south side fans expect O'Brien's new coach, Guy Chamberlain, to have a much smoother offense against the Bears.

Becker Helps Christen Some Baby Muskies

BY BOB BECKER.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Wisconsin-Michigan Boundary, Sept. 20.—Jack Frost had his scouts in this territory today. When we stepped out of the cabin about 7:30 this morning a raw wind was sweeping out of the northwest and lowering black clouds were scudding across the sky, spreading the news that the hot summer days are gone and that autumn is here.

Not being able to snag a full grown muskie we decided to "christen" a few young ones so shortly after lunch we joined Charley Lacy on a trip to the Woodruff hatchery where the state has 1,500 healthy young muskalonge, 6 to 9 inches long, every one of which is going to be turned loose in the lakes of northern Wisconsin.

You will remember that last May we visited the hatchery when approximately 250,000 infant muskies about one-quarter of an inch long were being nursed along with great pride by Elmer Hall, conservation commissioner and Bob Ripple, superintendent of the Woodruff hatchery. This batch of a quarter of a million muskie fry, the largest amount ever produced by the Wisconsin fish department, has done well. About 150,000 of this number were planted in Wisconsin lakes early in the year.

Today we saw hundreds of the 8 inchers which have been reared in one of the hatchery ponds and are now being planted in the lakes. Wendell Anderson, assistant superintendent of the hatchery and Charley Lacy waded into the muskie pond with a big seine and collected enough of these black barred youngsters for our planting party.

TENNIS PLAYERS START SECTIONAL MATCHES TODAY

Nine sections of the country will be represented today when the third annual United States intersectional team tennis matches open at the Chicago Town and Tennis club. The tournament will continue throughout Sunday, with the best of the country's net players displaying their wares.

Heading the list of entries is William Tilden, still the premier player of the United States despite his recent defeats at the hands of Rene Lacoste, the French whirlwind. Other notables are Chicago's own George Lott and Johnny Doeg, youthful alternates of the defending Davis cup team.

With the arrival of Jean Borotra yesterday, it was learned that he and his French compatriot, Jacques Brugnon, will be unable to play their exhibition match tomorrow. Brugnon has suddenly been taken ill, Borotra told officials of the north side club.

A change has been made in the line-up of the southern team, Donald Cram replacing Douglas Watters as the partner of Edward Pfeiffer. Louis Dailey Jr. will team with John Van Ryn of the eastern team, the latter having been without a teammate until Daily agreed to come here yesterday.

The opening match today will bring together the middle Atlantic combination of Emmet Pare and Tom Mangan against Donald Cram and Edward Pfeiffer of the south. Tomorrow's schedule has been altered due to the cancellation of the French players' exhibition and the following matches carded.

Middle States vs. Missouri Valley.
California vs. Texas.

Semi-finals will be played Saturday and the finals Sunday.

ISO=VIS
SERVICE
(INDIANA)
MOTOR OIL

Compare Iso=Vis!
It Stands All Tests

The best way to judge an oil is to try it. See how it works. Compare it with other oils. All who have tested Iso=Vis in this way are enthusiastic—and they are courteously writing to tell us about it in letters like the one below:

Cannon Ball Coach Line, Inc.
Somonauk, Illinois
April 21, 1927

Standard Oil Company,
Joliet, Illinois
Att. Mr. L. W. Cameron, Mgr.

Gentlemen: We would like to have you know just how we feel about Iso=Vis after using it for four months.

We are now using Iso=Vis Oils in our Model W Reo Motors, and Iso=Vis Lubricants for chassis lubrication. After exhaustive comparative tests we have come to the conclusion that Iso=Vis is as perfect an oil as is found on the market today.

We believe that we were as skeptical as the average bus operator in adopting a new oil. We had heard the usual condemnation of a new and untried product, and naturally were very cautious in trying Iso=Vis.

We are SOLD on Iso=Vis.

Very sincerely,
Cannon Ball Coach Line, Inc.
Bertha M. Orr, President

Motorists should be cautious about the oil they use. Only the best is good enough for an expensive engine. Only the best is able to protect it properly.

Iso=Vis—unlike the old type oil—maintains a practically constant viscosity—cushioning the moving parts with a tough oil film—making the motor run smoothly and wear well. After a long trip the body of the oil is the same as when you put it in! Check your oil every 100 miles and keep the crank case at least three fourths full and you can run at least 1000 miles without draining. If your motor is new and equipped with oil filtering devices it is not necessary to drain your crank case oftener than once every 2,000 miles.

But try it yourself—that's the way to judge! 30c per quart.

TWO FORMER U. S. CHAMPIONS FALL IN WOMEN'S GOLF

Two Chicago Players Also Eliminated.

Garden City, L. I., Sept. 20.—[Special.]—Two of the four former national champions who survived yesterday's rigorous qualifying test were eliminated in the first round of the national women's championship at Cherry Valley today when Mrs. H. Arnold Jackson of Greenwich and Mrs. Dorothy Campbell Hurd of Merion Cricket fell by the wayside.

Ordinarily the defeats of former titleholders in the first round of match play would be looked upon as upsets, but in these instances they cannot be so regarded, for they were anticipated. Both Mrs. Jackson and Mrs. Hurd were victims of the draw, which forced them to meet topnotchers on the first day after the qualifying round.

Alexa Fraser Wins.

Mrs. Jackson's conqueror was none other than Mrs. Alexa Stirling Fraser of Ottawa, Canada, herself a three time holder of the title which is now up for competition. Mrs. Hurd was beaten by Mrs. Harry Pressler, wife of a Los Angeles professional and recent winner of the women's western championship. In the case of Mrs. Jackson the margin was wide, 6 and 5; the other match went up to the last green before it was decided in favor of the Pacific coast player.

The fourth former champion who has survived is Miss Glenna Collett, now representing the Greenwich Country club.

Besides Miss Collett and Mrs. Pressler, all of whom were generally looked on as certain winners before the day's play started, the United States representatives left in the race are Miss Maureen Orcutt of White Beeches, holder of the Metropolitan woman's title; Miss Marie Jenney of Hudson river, the former district title holder; Mrs. Courtland Smith of Glen Ridge, a semi-finalist at Merion last fall; Miss Jane Brooks of Englewood; Miss Rosalie Knapp of Westbrook, L. I.; Miss Virginia Van Wie of Chicago, Miss Helen Payson of Portland, Me.; Miss Edith Quier of Reading, Pa.; Mrs. Miriam Burns Horn of Kansas City; Miss Bernice Wall of Oshkosh, Wis., and Mrs. Harley Higbie of Detroit.

Two Other Foreign Threats.

The danger that the cup will be lifted by the representative of another country remains as great as ever, for besides Mrs. Fraser, Canada has Miss Ada Mackenzie, the medalist and the dominion champion, left in the running, while France still has Mlle. De la Chaume to depend on.

Both Miss Mackenzie and Mlle. De la Chaume won their matches with ease, the former beating Mrs. E. H. Fitler of Philadelphia by 6 and 5 and the latter winning from Mrs. Stewart Hanley of Detroit, the Michigan champion, 4 and 2.

Miss Orcutt, playing the best golf of any one in today's field, had almost a walkover against Mrs. Elnora Harwood of Chicago, the margin being 8 and 6. The other metropolitan district representatives had more difficult rows to hoe.

Willie Bowden Thrice Winner at Hawthorne

BY FRENCH LANE.

Jockey Willie Bowden, a far western lad who was about the most incompetent jockey to wear silks in Chicago early this season, became the big star and the whole show of the turf program at Hawthorne yesterday when he hustled three winners across the finish line.

Two of them were at tall odds in the betting and when he cantered home on Ticker in the last race four lengths in front of the favorite Bradley's Toney, he put over the prize long shot of the day. This old campaigner, minus the usual four bandages on his legs, paid $49.16 in the two dollar mutuel betting.

Sends Outlawed Across.

It was an all claiming race program in which Bowden took down the honors. And he didn't get going until the fourth race when he drove Outlawed, owned by Barney Berman of Chicago, so hard down the stretch that he got the verdict by a length and a half. The Poet was almost a prohibitive favorite, but that old runner which has been scratched no less than 16 times in the last 26 days didn't feel like winning. He was always a trailer with Nose Dive and Reveillon fighting it out with Outlawed for the rest of the purse.

Bowden had a leg up on another of Berman's horses in the sixth. It was The Wire he was riding and his mount in this race was favorite. He was a distant trailer during the early part of the struggle while Up and Down was making a dizzy pace. The Wire came with a terrific rush soon as the stretch run started and got up in the last few strides to nip Clover Club, the latter a red hot post time tip, by half a length. Up and Down quit badly and was just able to save third money.

Deprema Breaks Leg.

The best race of the day found W. S. Heaton's Alloy the winner. He smothered those that followed him home, Cross Bow being five lengths behind in second place and Cartoon was third. The latter got up with the leaders at the end of six furlongs, but quit when Alloy's challenge came at the head of the stretch.

Jockey R. Deprema, contract rider for Ben Jones of Missouri, suffered a broken leg when he was unseated by the plater Silver Queen in the running of the first race.

Black Curl Wins Feature at Aqueduct

New York, Sept. 20.—[Special.]—With three head finishes and one nose decision to keep the crowds on tiptoe of expectancy, the Queens County Jockey club opened its thirteen day autumn meeting at its Aqueduct course this afternoon. The day was ideal, the attendance excellent, and the sport exciting above the average.

Black Curl was the heroine of one of these sensational finishes, being the victor in the third running of the Bayshore handicap, which was the headliner of the afternoon program. This was a dash of seven furlongs for 3 year olds and upward, and the handsome representative of the Rancocas stable was the 9 to 5 equal favorite with the Fair stable's Byrd, which she just headed at the wire, with Light Carbine beaten by the same narrow margin for the place.

Frankie Catrone had the mount on the chestnut daughter of Friar Rock and Frizeur because of Fator's injury, and the master rider of the Rancocas outfit hardly could have improved on the work of the boy from Saratoga Springs. Black Curl, which carried the steadying impost of 118 pounds, ran the race in 1:26 4-5.

Buffalo Wins, 1-0; Evens Series with Albany

Albany, N. Y., Sept. 20.—(AP)—Buffalo, International league champion, squared the post-season series with Albany, pennant winner in the Eastern league, by winning the second game today, 1 to 0.

ORDINARY LATHER

COLGATE LATHER

teems with water
Softens each hair at base—whiskers come off easily—razor pull banished

BUBBLES are "shells" of water. Colgate "small-bubble" lather contains thousands more of these water-shells, hence holds more moisture. Fine as mist, these bubbles seep down between whiskers to skin surface, as lather pictures prove.

How "small-bubble" lather works

The moment Colgate lather forms on your beard, two things happen:

1. The soap in the lather breaks up and floats away the oil film that covers each hair.

2. With the oil film gone, millions of tiny bubbles bring and hold an abundance of water down to the base of the beard, right where the razor does its work.

Because your beard is properly softened at its base, your razor works easily and quickly. Every hair is cut close and clean. And your face remains cool and comfortable throughout the day.

A week's better shaves—FREE

Once you try this unique "small-bubble" lather, we believe you will never go back to ordinary shaving methods. Prove this for yourself—at our expense. Just clip the coupon. We will send you a generous trial-size tube—free.

FROST FORECAST SENDS PRICE OF CORN SOARING

BY CHARLES MICHAELS.

Light to killing frost over parts of Iowa, western Nebraska, the Dakotas, and Minnesota, with the forecast for frost as far south as central Illinois and Indiana overnight, swept corn up in a violent manner, with prices at the top showing 7@7½c over the finish of the previous day and 10⅝@11¼c over the low on Saturday and the close was at net gains of 6⅝@7c. September acted tight early and sold within ½c of the December, only to ease toward the last and finish 2⅝c under at $1.00⅜@1.00½, with December $1.02⅝@1.02⅞, and March $1.05⅞@1.06.

Strength in corn and short covering was responsible for a higher level of wheat values with net gains of ⅜@1c. September closed at $1.27⅝ and December at $1.30⅝@1.31. Oats were 1@1⅜c and rye 1@1¼c higher.

Big Trade in Corn.

Fears that the new corn crop had been damaged by the frost and that the latter would hit the main corn belt overnight led to general buying by all classes of traders, with considerable enlargement in the outside interest. Many stop loss orders were uncovered on the way up, and shorts were stampeded into covering. There was also buying attributed to strong local professionals. Sellers of offers were forced to protect themselves on the way up, while the selling on the bulge came largely from longs and from holders of offers, with little for sale toward the last. News other than weather had little effect.

Wheat Easier Early.

Selling of wheat futures early by houses with northwestern and foreign connections caused a somewhat lower range, but the great strength in wheat finally had effect and caused many local shorts to cover and the finish was within a fraction of the top after a range of 2⅝@2⅝c for the day. Winnipeg was inclined to drag and gained only ¼@½c while Minneapolis was 1⅛@1¼c higher. Weather conditions in the Canadian northwest were more favorable, and thrashing has been resumed. Rain was reported at several points in New South Wales which have been suffering from drought, and rain was also forecasted for Argentina.

Commission houses were on the buying side of oats and rye, and with the strength in corn the advance was easily attained. The seaboard reported 100,000 bu rye sold for export.

Gas Light & Coke Co. to Retire 5 Pct. Bonds

Refinancing of is bond indebtedness with a new issue under better terms, sufficient to enable the company to purchase the plant of the Chicago By-Products Coke company, is seen in the decision yesterday by directors of the Peoples Gas Light and Coke company to retire the present outstanding $1,712,000 of general and refunding 5 per cent bonds. The bonds will be called at 105 and accrued interest as of Dec. 1. The company operates the plant of the Chicago By-Products Coke company and has a contract calling for the purchase of the plant not later than 1946.

Goodyear Tire Stock Issue Is Authorized

New York, Sept. 20.—Directors of the Goodyear Tire and Rubber company today approved the issuance of new preferred stock, making possible the funding of 25 per cent accumulated dividends on old preferred. Beginning Oct. 1 exchange may be made on the basis of 5 shares of the new for four shares of the old preferred. Approximately $65,000,000 of the old preferred stock will be replaced.

CASH·GRAIN NEWS

Export sales of wheat at the seaboard were finally estimated at 600,000 to 700,000 bu. domestic and Manitobas with 100,000 to 150,000 bu rye and 250,000 bu barley.

BUTTER AND EGGS

A broad and active trade in both butter and egg futures developed on the Chicago Mercantile exchange as the period of brisk distribution of the commodities swung into play. Early indications seemed to be that in spite of ample storage stocks, prices are not yet in line and large sections of the trade are looking for sharp advances.

December butter resumed its advance after Monday's easiness. There was heavy covering by local shorts, which, combined with speculative buying for the advance, gave the market a strong tone, with the close ½c higher at the best figure of the season. November eggs were stimulated by the prospects of an active movement into cosumptive channels. The delivery moved up near to season's high figures without any effective checking of buying enthusiasm and closed ½c higher. Sales were 258 cars eggs and 156 cars butter. Prices follow:

WORLD'S·GRAIN MARKET·NEWS

Corn traders said at the close that should frost predictions materialize, corn prices are likely to advance sharply, which they believed would bring out selling and possibly a reaction, making a nervous, fluctuating market. The short interest has been greatly reduced, and there is more disposition to take the buying side on all weak spots. A few traders advanced the belief that should the corn crop be seriously damaged, prices may advance to the previous high level within a short time. In all, it is a weather market for the immediate future.

A close observer of operations in the corn pit said it was surprising to him at the way buyers of corn absorbed the millions of bushels that were put into the pit yesterday without checking the advance.

Wheat market is considered a two sided affair for the time being, with the heaviest buying credited to eastern interests, although one of the largest local operators, who has been bearish, covered a large line of December at $1.30. After he had finished, the price advanced 1 cent more. The market is absorbing a heavy line of hedges each day, which exceeds buying against export sales. The disposition is to favor the buying side on breaks.

SHARP RALLY IN LARD

Good buying of lard, credited to foreign account, combined with the advance in corn more than offset the effect of the break of 10c in hogs, with moderate receipts, and prices advanced 12½@17½c for the nearby and 22½c for the distant futures, making a close at the top. Liverpool was weaker, and 3 to 6d lower. Exports were 11,194,025 lbs.

Bellies were taken fairly and advanced 7½ to 12½c. Short ribs were slow and 2½c lower to unchanged. Exports from the seaboard were 590,000 lbs. Prices follow:

Diversification

NEARLY all investment houses offering a general line of securities urge their clients to make use of the principle of diversification.

But diversification alone is not enough.

Although the principle of diversifying is a sound and valuable one, it is subject to one important qualification. That is: the investor must not overlook, in his search for diversification, the essential factors of safety and desirability of the security selected.

While it is an excellent plan to select securities of different kinds and classes, it is also necessary carefully to select the best and soundest security in each.

The investment list of Lawrence Stern and Company contains seven separate classifications of securities: Public Utility—Industrial—Railroad—Equipment Trust—Real Estate—Municipal—and Foreign. These seven classes provide an ample range of diversification. And each security in each classification is very carefully selected by a trained organization with the view toward offering our clients the most desirable securities in that class.

Our current list of investments will be sent on application. We believe that it will be to the advantage of every investor to consider the sound, diversified list offered by this company.

* It is proposed to offer a portion of the 7% Cumulative Preferred Stock of American Bakeries Corporation in exchange for the 5,950 shares of 7% Cumulative Preferred Stock of American Bakeries Company on a share for share basis and the 26,950 shares of the former here shown will be outstanding upon consummation of this exchange. If the entire outstanding Common Stock of American Bakeries Company is not acquired, the amounts of American Bakeries Corporation Preferred Stock and Class A Stock will be reduced accordingly.

Mr. R. C. Thompson, President of the Corporation, has summarized his letter to us as follows:

American Bakeries Corporation, incorporated in August, 1927, under the laws of the State of Florida, is the outgrowth of a business which had its inception in Birmingham, Ala., 26 years ago. It is now the largest baking organization in the South, operating sixteen plants in North and South Carolina, Georgia, Alabama, Florida and Tennessee, the plants being located in fifteen leading cities, including Atlanta, Birmingham, Jacksonville, Chattanooga and Winston-Salem. The territory served extends from Danville, Va., on the north, to Miami, Fla., on the south, and from the Atlantic Coast inland to Western Tennessee and Mississippi. The products are sold under the widely and favorably known trade name "Merita".

The following is a summary of the net sales and net income of the properties for the three years and six months ended June 30, 1927, as certified by Messrs. Peat, Marwick, Mitchell & Co., Accountants and Auditors, New York, after deducting depreciation at rates determined by The American Appraisal Company as applied to their appraised values and Federal income tax at 13½% and after eliminating interest, saving in officers' salaries as estimated by the management and other non-recurring charges, all such eliminations aggregating $236,836 for the entire period:

	Net Sales	Net Income
Year ended December 31, 1925...	6,009,894.74	558,087.36
Year ended December 31, 1926...	7,943,724.68	809,705.78
Six months ended June 30, 1927..	3,508,183.06	272,138.59
Average per annum..........................		$561,576.80
Annual dividend requirements of 26,950 shares of 7% Cumulative Preferred Stock..........		188,650.00
Balance applicable to dividends on Class A Stock and Class B Stock on the basis of 100% ownership of common stock of subsidiary..		$372,926.80

On the foregoing basis, as well as on the basis of the proportion of subsidiary company common stock presently to be owned, the balance applicable to dividends on the Class A Stock and Class B Stock for the three and one-half years ended June 30, 1927 averaged over twice the annual requirements for the $3 cumulative dividend on the Class A Stock. On both bases such balance for the first six months of the current year also was at the annual rate of over twice the annual requirements for the $3 dividend.

The Class A Stock is offered when, as and if issued and received by us and subject to the approval of legal proceedings by our counsel.

Pacific Gas and Electric Company

First and Refunding Mortgage Gold Bonds
Series E, 4½%, Due 1957

Dated June 1, 1927 Due June 1, 1957

Issuance Authorized by the Railroad Commission of the State of California.

All First and Refunding Mortgage Gold Bonds heretofore issued are legal investments for Savings Banks in California and Massachusetts, and application has been made in both states to so certify these additional Bonds. Also legal investments for Savings Banks in Maine, New Hampshire and Vermont.

The Pacific Gas and Electric Company is one of the foremost public service corporations in the United States. Its properties extend into thirty-eight counties of Central and Northern California, with an estimated population of more than 2,400,000.

First and Refunding Mortgage Bonds ($100,000,000 outstanding, including this issue) are secured by a direct first mortgage on important hydro-electric properties; by a direct mortgage on all other properties of the Pacific Gas and Electric Company, subject to the prior liens of underlying mortgages, and by approximately $59,600,000 general and refunding mortgage bonds pledged with the trustees.

General average price of hogs was forced down 15c yesterday to $10.55, equaling the lowest in ten days, against $10.85 the previous Tuesday, and $9.90 two weeks ago. Practically all of Monday's gains were lost, declines amounting to 10@25c after a weak to lower start.

With outsiders taking less than 20 per cent of yesterday's 24,000 fresh arrivals, which were within 2,000 of Monday's hog receipts, light and underweights weakened most. Extreme top fell 20c at $11.80, showing a 35c drop from last week's high point. Larger houses traded mostly in weighty stock, filling orders principally with packers costing below the $10.00 line. About 11,000 hogs remained at the close.

Moderate cattle receipts, coupled with urgent demand on both local and shipping account, sent better grades of steers up 10@15c further. Prime 1,433 lb beeves topped the list at $15.90, for New York trade. Buyers of Kosher cattle were unusually active in view of Jewish holidays next week, when slaughtering for this trade will be suspended for two days, necessitating larger purchases this week to fill in any gap.

Fancy 1,031 lb yearlings at $15.85 were 10c above the previous high point this year. Uneven gains were scored in best cows and heifers, fancy baby beef heifers averaging 945 lbs. at $14.60 being highest since September, 1920, and 85c above the highest in 1926. Calves recovered recent losses, selected vealers reaching $17.00. Cattle receipts at Chicago first 20 days of the month at 154,900 compare with 207,285 a year ago.

Lambs at High for Month.

Killing lambs passed the $14.00 mark, best reaching $14.25, highest since middle of August and $1.00 above the low spot for fat lambs two weeks ago. Washington ranges supplied the top notchers, most westerns bringing $13.75@14.00. Natives to city butchers brought $13.75 and to packers, $13.25@13.50 mostly. Ewes ruled strong to 25c higher, choice handy westerns bringing $6.50. Best light feeding lambs were in demand at $13.75@13.90.

COTTON MARKETS ERRATIC

Cotton markets at one time yesterday showed good gains after a lower start, only to weaken and finish around the lowest. At the bottom prices were $22 a bale under the high point of Sept. 8. At the finish of the day net losses in Chicago were 23 to 37 points, and 20 to 31 points lower in other markets. Spot values held well with New York unchanged at 20.35c and New Orleans 5 points lower at 20.10c while Houston and Galveston finished at 20.40c. Liverpool was weak and sharply lower, 37 to 39 points off at the start.

There has been severe liquidation and the technical position of the market was said to be strengthened as the result of the break.

REALTORS WILL MEET TO HONOR ZANDER TONIGHT

Members of the Chicago Real Estate board will hold a reception at 7:15 this evening at the board rooms, 57 West Monroe street, in honor of Henry G. Zander, president elect of the National Association of Real Estate Boards. The reception will follow the first fall meeting of the board, which will open at 6 o'clock with the reading of committee reports and other business.

HENRY G. ZANDER.
[Walinger Photo.]

Following the business meeting there will be a complimentary buffet supper, after which the reception will take place. Mr. Zander was elected head of the national organization at the annual convention, which was held in Seattle recently. The national body is composed of boards in practically every city in the United States and Canada.

Six Story Flat Building.

Construction is under way on a six story apartment building at 5118 Dorchester avenue, which, it is stated, will represent an investment of approximately $370,000. The structure will contain seventy apartments of two and three rooms each and will be completed about March 1, 1928. The site is 50x175 feet. Randall & Randall are the architects. Leight & Co. are underwriting a $230,000 bond issue on the project.

The P-K cafeteria has leased from the syndicate which acquired the Devoe & Raynolds leasehold at 16 West Lake street the ground floor store in the building there and will open about Dec. 1 another carry your own food café. The lease is for five years at a term rental of $75,000. C. L. Hawker of Willoughby & Co. negotiated the deal.

Buy South Side Garage.

Arthur J., Clarence A. and John A. Usher have sold to the Morrill Garage corporation the eighty car garage on the east side of Wentworth avenue, a few doors north of Marquette road, occupying a lot 85x134 feet, for a reported $85,000, subject to $50,000. H. A. Morrill is president of the corporation and H. M. Messenger is secretary. The firm also operates a garage at 6438 Wentworth. Gilbert, Rommel, Burger & Baker were attorneys.

TEN PER CENT STOCK DIVIDEND FOLLOWS 5 POINT JUMP IN CRANE

A five point jump to 53 in Crane common on moderate trading after months of inactivity was a feature of Chicago stocks yesterday, which was followed after the close by the declaration of a 10 per cent stock dividend, payable Nov. 1 to stock of record Oct. 20.

With a long list of stocks selling minus the dividend, transactions as a whole slowed up, and only a few issues showed activity. Marvel Carburetor advanced 2 points to 50½ on announcement by the company that net earnings after all charges and taxes for the first eight months of this year totaled $442,917, equivalent to $5.90 a share on 75,000 shares of outstanding stock.

Gossard, selling ex-dividend 33 1-3 cents, was 1¾ higher to 44. Auburn Automobile, selling ex-dividend $1, was 2 points lower to 116½a. Auburn production this year will total about 15,000 cars, compared with 8,600 in 1926, according to E. L. Cord, president. He added that material purchases will be let during the next two weeks to provide for the production of 3,000 cars a month from December to next April. Although the pace in the third and fourth quarters of this year will not equal that of the first and second, earnings for the year will be considerably better than at the end of 1926, he said.

BONDSMEN FIGHT BANKER RULE OF MILWAUKEE ROAD

Washington, D. C., Sept. 20.—[Special.]—Banker control of the Milwaukee railroad will be continued if the interstate commerce commission approves the reorganization plan, according to a brief filed today with the commission by the bondholders' committee, headed by Edwin C. Jameson.

Application of the Chicago, Milwaukee, St. Paul and Pacific, the new company, for authority to acquire and operate the properties of the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul, according to the protesting bondholders, should be denied, and the property continued under receivership until the security holders prepare a reorganization plan.

Passage by congress of the transportation act was intended to put an end to banker reorganizations of railroads, the protesting bondholders asserted.

The Milwaukee reorganization plan, it was contended, embodies every essential evil of the "old practice of banking reorganizations."

"The holders of securities were dragooned into depositing under the plan by every method and influence known to the great financial interests," the protestants declared.

"This commission is now asked to approve a plan which is essentially unsound, unfair to the holders of securities, unjust to the public and violative of every principle and policy of the transportation act."

WALL STREET NOTES

NEW YORK, Sept. 20.—(AP)—Curb market securities generally offered stiffer resistance to selling pressure in today's trading. Many specialties which have led the recent advance resumed their upward movement.

The public utility group was particularly active, gains ranging from fractions to 2 points or so being scored by American Gas and Electric, American Light and Traction, Northern Ohio Power, Electric Bond and Share, United Light and Power "A," and Electric Investors.

On small sales, Steel Company of Canada closed 18⅛ points higher at 183⅛, and Canada Cement scored a net gain of 56 points to 240. Other outstanding strong spots were Curtis Publishing company, which closed 10 points higher; Celluloid [new], up 6, and Procter & Gamble, up 4. Safeway Stores closed 5 points higher at 290, and U. S. Light and Battery, 4. Celanese preferred was weak, losing about 3 point.

Irregularity characterized the public utility group, International Telephone 4½s standing out with a fractional advance on a large turnover. Industrials were quiet.

Italian issues attracted a fair number of buyers at slightly better prices, particularly some of the municipal obligations, such as the Rome 6½s, and Brazilian 6½s.

MEDITERRANEAN CRUISE

She isn't real, of course . . . she's one of the story-book creatures you'll see in Aladdin's land. And you aren't real, you'll think . . . flitting joyously from golden sands to marble palaces. But you'll love every minute of the 73 days of this dream. You'll be an honored guest of a floating house-party. You'll see 19 ports in 16 countries. Sail with us from New York, February 4, aboard the sumptuous Empress of Scotland.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Sept. 20.—[Special.]—The industrial stocks that have been in the van of the recent advance on the stock market failed to exhibit their usual stamina today. It was the rail division of the market which supplied the most interest in trading on the exchange.

The bullishly inclined tried to make out a good case, but they were unable to claim the robust recovery that had been anticipated on the basis of early performance. The demonstration of strength given by the high grade investment rails caused some excitement among traders and market observers for a time. The issuance of August earnings reports by one or two roads was the basis for this excitement.

Some of the Advances.

But after the information contained in these reports was digested it was seen that the market action of Atchison, New York Central, Chesapeake and Ohio, and Nickel Plate was the result of the same tendency that has attended the investment rails all through the last few months, that is the confidence most traders have in these stocks.

Atchison rose from a low of 193 to a high of 196, closing at 195¼ for a net gain of 2½ points. Atlantic Coast Line closed within a fraction of the day's high with a gain of 2⅝. Baltimore and Ohio climbed rapidly to 122¾, but lost part of the gain, showing an advance of 2¼. Delaware and Hudson advanced from 204¼ to 210½, losing part of its gain and closing with a net gain on the day of 4⅝ points.

Hocking Valley Up 9⅝.

Hocking Valley, on light odd lot trading, rose 9⅝ points. Louisville and Nashville closed at the day's top with a gain of 2 points. New York Central swung from a low of 164¼ to a high of 168⅜, ending four points up on the day. Southern Pacific, Southern Railway, and Union Pacific were other points of strength, but their net gains were not wide.

The outstanding declines, set off against the day's advances, shows how the trading went in the industrial shares. General Motors old moved within a comparatively narrow range, but ended with a loss of ½ point, while the new stock showed a net gain of ⅜. United States Steel fluctuated within a limit of slightly more than 2 points, closing with a fractional loss. Baldwin, inactive, closed unchanged. Case Threshing ended the day off 2⅜ points. Pathe was off 4, Postum Cereal was off 1, Woolworth was off 1⅜, Crucible Steel 1⅜, and Du Pont 4⅜.

Wide Diversification

Our current offerings include a wide variety of sound securities, affording opportunity for the most complete diversification of your investment account.

These offerings contain a careful selection of high grade first mortgage bonds, safeguarded under the Straus Plan—the type of bonds which have been favorites with discriminating investors for many years.

They have that degree of safety that is the first consideration of the experienced investor, combined with a yield as high as 5½ to 6%.

We suggest that you investigate these carefully selected securities before you invest. They are in denominations of $1,000, $500 and $100. Call, telephone or write for

"The Income goes to his wife and daughter as long as they live"

HE WAS PROUD of the business which bore his name . . . . and practically his entire fortune was invested in it. Hence his ambition that his sons should inherit this business was a natural one.

How he accomplished this and at the same time made ample provision for his wife and daughter without entailing the business is told in our new booklet, "Ten Unusual Stories from Real Life," a copy of which we will gladly give you without obligation. Write or call for this booklet.

What Constitutes Good Security?

When your invested funds have many widely diversified safeguards they have the greatest degree of safety. That is why Gatzert Street Improvement Bonds are such sound investments. They are protected by tax liens on hundreds of carefully selected pieces of property located in different cities. These liens rank ahead of even first mortgages and the property is worth 10 times the loan.

Exempt from all Federal Income Taxes

The return on these bonds is unusually good. Investigate by mailing coupon for interesting booklet. No salesman will call.

DIVIDEND RATE ON COMMON IS CUT BY PAN AMER. PET.

BY O. A. MATHER.

The Pan American Petroleum and Transport company yesterday reduced its annual dividend rate from $6 to $4 on its common and class B common stocks. The directors declared a quarterly payment of $1, compared with $1.50 previously paid.

The reduction came as the result of recent depression in crude oil prices because of over-production, which likewise has caused other oil companies to cut their dividends. In addition, the Pan American company has been handicaped by the interference of the Mexican government in operations of foreign owned oil companies. Under these circumstances, a reduction in dividends had been expected, with some predictions that the rate would be reduced to $3 a year.

Dividend from Surplus.

But the Mexican Petroleum company, the principal money maker among the Pan American company's subsidiaries, declared a cash dividend of $75 out of surplus and the regular quarterly payment of $3 on its common shares. As about 98½ per cent of the stock is owned by Pan American, it will receive $33,712,500 and minority stockholders will get only $585,000. But the amount accruing to Pan American already has been taken up in inter-company accounts, it was stated.

Mexican Petroleum's special cash dividend amounts to $34,297,500. At the end of 1926, its balance sheet showed profit and loss surplus of $76,796,665, which was equal to $168.93 a share on its 457,300 common shares. An item of $29,405,488 was carried among assets under "accounts with affiliated companies." This is believed to represent accounts owed by the parent company, which now are being paid off by Pan American's share of the special dividend.

Sag in Freight Traffic.

Railroad traffic continues to run somewhat below a year ago and the first railroad earnings reports for August, now appearing, make a rather indifferent showing.

Loading of revenue freight for the week ended Sept. 10 totaled 989,472 cars. This was a decline of 127,597 cars from the preceding week, largely due to Labor day, but it also marked a decrease of 35,526 cars from the same week last year. About half of this latter decline resulted from lower coal loadings this year.

The Union Pacific reports August net operating income of $5,017,543, compared with $5,189,761 a year ago, although gross earnings were slightly larger. The Erie reports a surplus of $646,147 for August, compared with $346,453 a year ago. On the other hand, the Kansas City Southern reports August operating income of $600,871, compared with $505,177 a year ago.

Lago Oil & Transport.

H. C. C., Boone, Ia.—Lago Oil and Transport corporation was incorporated in Delaware Nov. 10, 1925, as a holding company and to produce and market petroleum.

It is controlled by the Pan-American Petroleum and Transport company and controls Lago Petroleum corporation.

It reported net income of $3,916,535, or 98 cents a share on its 3,987,465 shares of no par capital stock in 1926.

In April, 1927, a dividend of 75 cents a share was paid.

It was explained that this was not establishing a quarterly dividend rate, but rather a distribution from earned surplus.

Authorized stock was increased from 4,000,000 to 5,500,000 shares of no par value in May, 1927.

It was reported in July, 1927, that production was in excess of 1,000,000 barrels a month, or twice that of a year ago.

Gross production for the first six months of 1927 was 6,123,729 barrels, as compared with 6,093,548 barrels produced in the entire year of 1926.

The stock is unseasoned and speculative, but has some merit.

We cannot predict the course of the market.

FINANCIAL NOTES

Nicholas M. Schenck, for the last three years executive vice president of Loew's, Inc., was elected president of that organization by the board of directors to succeed the late Marcus Loew, president and founder. Arthur M. Loew was elected first vice president and J. Robert Rubin a director.

Negotiations have been concluded for a $70,000,000 7 per cent loan to the Polish government by Blair & Co. and Bankers Trust company group. The loan will probably be offered within two or three weeks. About $45,000,000 will be offered in the United States, £2,000,000 by Lazard Brothers in London, $6,000,000 in Switzerland, $4,000,000 in Holland, and $1,000,000 in France. An American will be appointed to the board of the Pulska bank as a part of the loan arrangement.

Offering will be made today of a new issue of $1,500,000 Illinoi-Kentucky Bridge [Paducah-Ohio River Bridge company] first [closed] mortgage 6.50 per cent sinking fund gold bonds at 99 and interest to yield about 6.60 per cent by P. W. Chapman & Co.

SUGAR MARKETS.

NEW YORK, Sept. 20.—(AP)—SUGAR.—Raw was easier today, with offerings a little freer and at concessions of 1-16 of a cent with nearby sugars available at 4.80c. Raw futures declined 3 to 6 points, but prices rallied and regained part of the early loss, closing 1 to 4 points net lower. The refined market was unchanged at 5.90@6.10c for fine granulated. LABOR STABILITY IN STEEL MILLS SHOWN BY INDEX

BY HARPER LEECH.

The remarkable stability of labor's price for labor power in contrast to the variability of price for raw materials and manufactured product noted in this column with respect to the cotton industries, applies equally to the iron and steel industries, where the raw materials are mined—not grown—and are therefore independent of the added risks and fluctuations of agriculture.

The iron and steel industry is mostly nonunion—although the steel corporation's coal mines in Illinois are operated under a union contract and are said to produce coal cheaper than any mines in the state, or most other states—and in the Connelsville coke region of Pennsylvania the steel corporation's mines usually pay a bit over the union scale to keep the organization out.

But by and large the nonunion employés of the steel companies probably have as great a relative stability of wages to prices as the employés of organized coal mines—and although both industries are highly variable in volume of production and working time, the chances are that the steel employés have more steady employment.

The department of labor in its study of wages and hours in the iron and steel industry gives the following index numbers of average full time weekly earnings for all employés.

With wages in 1913 constituting the index base of 100, the index of average wages for 1920 was 242, for 1922 the index was 168, and in 1924 and 1926 respectively the indexes were 186 and 182. For the same years the indexes of average earnings per hour were 248, 170, 214 and 212.

Full time hours per week in the industry for all employés averaged 63.1 in 1920, 63.2 in 1922, 55.2 in 1924 and 54.4 in 1926—the effect of the abandonment of the 12 hour day in the industry is plainly disclosed there.

It is interesting to compare the indexes for the average weekly earnings of blast furnace employés only, and the indexes for the average price of pig iron.

For employés of blast furnaces in 1920, 1922, 1924 and 1926 the indexes of average weekly earnings were 261, 183, 197 and 196. For the same years the indexes of the average price of pig iron were 284, 162, 142 and 137.

Reproduced from the Century Magazine of February, 1899.

The Entire Union Army at any period of the Civil War did not equal the host that buys The Tribune every Sunday

With the nation torn asunder and brother fighting brother over the questions of national Union and slavery, the North and South stretched their resources to the limit in the Civil War.

The North exhausted every expedient to obtain volunteers—maintained a rigorous draft—and poured every man it could obtain into the battle areas of Virginia, Tennessee, Mississippi and Georgia, until the persistent hammering of Grant and Sherman finally brought the bloody struggle to an end.

And yet, with its resources strained to the utmost, the North never once, in the entire four years, had as many men in the field as buy The Chicago Tribune every Sunday!

IT takes comparison with great events, and the great hosts of history, to give reality to the tremendous figures involved in describing Tribune circulation.

On one bloody day—July 3, 1863—the two widely separated struggles of Gettysburg and Vicksburg saved the Union. Yet the 283,000 men who participated on both sides in these gigantic struggles would form only a small part of The Tribune's present day circulation.

Add to them the 105,000 men Grant led into the Wilderness in '64 to "fight it out on this line if it takes all summer"—add the 62,000 with which Lee opposed him—and the city and suburban circulation only of The Daily Tribune would provide numbers enough for both sides of all these struggles, with enough left over to equal the number in the two-day triumphal parade of the Grand Army of the Republic through Washington after the war was ended!

When it comes to The Sunday Tribune, we must use the entire Civil War to get comparisons. Imagine the days of 1862 when both sides were at peak strength—Grant feeling his way down the Tennessee toward his bloody check at Shiloh—Buell hastening to his aid—McClellan's army of the Potomac trying to hammer westward along the Peninsula—the forces in West Virginia, Missouri, everywhere.

Picture all the men in the field of all the Union armies at any one time in the war—and you wouldn't have as many as buy The Chicago Tribune every Sunday!

In four long years of bloody fighting the boys in blue fought through to victory. In the bloodless battles of commerce, The Chicago Tribune hammers through, every day, with any sales message you want carried to a dominating percentage of the buyers in Chicago and the Chicago trading territory.

The Daily Tribune carries your sales messages to 595,815 buyers in Chicago and suburbs alone—reaches 60% of the families in Chicago—61% of the families within Chicago and suburbs. No other Chicago daily reaches as many with its TOTAL circulation.

The Sunday Tribune's city and suburban circulation of 696,310 reaches 71% of the families in Chicago and suburbs. Its country circulation of 396,279 reaches 20% to 80% of the families in 547 cities and towns of more than 1,000 population in the five states of The Chicago territory. No newspaper in America not owned by The Tribune can equal The Sunday Tribune's total circulation of 1,092,589.

They Wouldn't Believe

By Roy Vickers.

SYNOPSIS.

On the way to Donald Brierly's house at Rubington for luncheon, Connie Elmore, Donald's fiancée, tells her friend, Olive Weston, that Donald stands a chance of inheriting half a million from the estate of old Harrowby, a friend of Donald's father.

Olive and Connie share a flat in London. Olive is secretly in love with Donald but sincerely pleased at Connie's good fortune in winning him.

Sandle & Querk, solicitors handling the Harrowby estate, are crooked and plot to cheat Donald Brierly of the fortune by having a spurious heir appear whose claim is prior to Donald's. In the midst of the plotting Augustus Brierly, Donald's father, presumed to have died on the Titanic, calls on Sandle. Querk suggests to Sandle that he invite Brierly to Harrowby house and there, with the assistance of Querk's tool, Wode, dispose of Brierly. Connie decides to visit her old nurse, who is now caretaker of Harrowby house. Mrs. Jones is out, but Connie finds the key and lets herself in to wait for her. She hears strange noises in the library and, going to investigate, she sees Sandle and another man kill Mr. Brierly, whom she recognizes from his portrait. Rushing out of the house, Connie stumbles into Mr. Querk. While telling her story Querk pushes the bell and sends a signal to the murderers. Connie sees a policeman and, calling him, the three proceed to the library and Connie asks Querk to open the secret panel in the wall where she had seen the men place the body. It is empty. Querk accompanies her to the police station, where she tells her story to the police superintendent. Querk intimates that she imagines the scene, and, in exasperation, Connie goes to see Olive, who believes her story.

Querk requests Sandle to come to the superintendent's office, and he presents his alibi, which the officer accepts. The two lawyers proceed to Wode's office, where old man Turle and his son, the spurious heirs, await them. The old man dies just after they walk into the office.

The next morning Connie calls on Querk and meets young Jones there. She recognizes him as her old nurse's son, but does not know that he has been posing as Henry Turle Jr. Querk later pretends that Connie imagined she saw young Jones. He tells Olive that Sandle is about to bring criminal suit against Connie unless Olive, as her nearest friend, has her committed to a private institution at Maenton which he recommends. While Donald is visiting Connie at Maenton house a body is found buried in his garden. Olive, sent out on the case by her newspaper, meets and warns Donald. She arranges a hiding place for him in London. She later helps Connie to escape from Maenton.

INSTALLMENT LXXVI.
THE FATAL SLIP.

Rason lifted his hat and stood bowing before Olive.

"If I'd known you were following me I'd have run for my life," she said. "But as we are here, perhaps you know this hole better than I do. I'm looking for a woman called Seymour."

"And I," said Rason, "am looking for a man called Brierly."

"You've won!" she gasped. "Now you can laugh."

"I don't want to laugh," said Rason. "It was the merest fluke. You've always shaken off our fellows, and I just happened to be there—I was keeping an eye on—someone—myself."

Olive caught him by the wrist as if she would detain him by force.

"Listen a minute," she said, her voice faltering. "There's no fire escape—there's no possible means of escape. Let me go in first and tell him you are here. Let me prepare him for the shock. He cannot possibly escape you now."

"Very well," he said. "I trust you to try no kind of tricks. If he waits for me with a gun——"

He found a secluded table and led her to it.

"He is not a murderer!" she flashed. And then: "Thank you, Mr. Rason. You will wait here, then."

Olive lurched forward to the door and knocked on it. Instantly, Donald opened it.

"Don!"

"Hullo, kid! I say, what's up?"

He had shut the door behind her. Speechless, she pointed to it.

"Behind there. Detective Inspector Rason. O, Don, I've failed you! I was careless in coming here. I've made a fatal slip. He has just let me come in here out of courtesy. He can afford to be courteous. There is no earthly hope now."

For answer there came from him a long sigh.

"I don't know whether I'm sorry or not," he said. "We've done all we can, kid—by which I mean you have done everything. The rest is—a tossup. And in case—" he laughed bitterly—"in case the penny comes down the wrong way and we don't meet again——" He put his arms on her shoulder and kissed her on the forehead. "My dear, dear friend!" he murmured.

In such manner Olive received the kiss of the man she loved. He had kissed her with an infinite tenderness—as he would have kissed his mother.

"We had better ask that detective in," he said with a false buoyancy that did not conceal the depths of his own emotion.

He flung open the door.

"Will you come in, Mr. Rason?" he called. "There are just a few things I would like to pack if you don't mind waiting a minute or two."

Rason turned to Olive.

"You had better go, Miss Weston," he said sternly.

She crossed Fleet street and made for the offices of the Record.

She hurried through the newsroom, merely nodding to her friends and acquaintances, and made for the suite of the chief editor. In three minutes she was with him.

"Well, Miss Weston? Feel the better for your holiday?"

The Old Man frowned.

"That's not much use to us," he grunted. "It'll be in the later editions of the evening papers. Got anything special?"

"There's one pretty thumping thing I've found out that isn't for immediate publication," she went on.

"Why not?" asked the Old Man. "What is it?"

The Old Man looked at her shrewdly.

"That's your opinion, is it?" he demanded, more than a little puzzled.

"Yes," answered Olive. "I'll go and write the story now, if you've nothing further to say to me."

He nodded and she walked out.

. . . .

Querk was more than a little surprised to find Sandle waiting for him when he arrived at his office. He hurried him into the inner office.

"Really, Sandle, I hardly ventured to anticipate the pleasure of seeing you so soon!"

"Have you seen that that girl has escaped from Maenton House?" Sandle blurted out. . . . "You have not. Well, look at it."

Sandle took a copy of the Record from his pocket and thrust it before Querk's eyes.

Querk glanced rapidly at the cross headings and the two full columns that Olive had made of her own escapade.

"What does it mean?" demanded Sandle.

"It means that as soon as the poor girl shows herself she will be quietly and humanely arrested and taken back," answered Querk.

"You told me—little more than a week ago—that—that——"

"That she would never come out?" supplemented Querk. "True. The best laid schemes of mice and men—you know the rest, my dear Sandle."

"Have you forgotten that the case is to be heard tomorrow? The lad arrives in London tonight—and he is bound to put in an appearance in court tomorrow. Suppose this girl pops up in court and identifies him?"

"My dear fellow, that girl is a certified lunatic. Her statement, in court or anywhere else, counts for nothing. True, that if she is at large for twenty-eight days, she ceases for the time being to be a lunatic within the meaning of the act. But we are not considering a period of twenty-eight days, but a period of twenty-four hours."

"But the court may adjourn tomorrow?" objected Sandle.

"You can easily make, through counsel, an application to take the young man's evidence at that sitting, as he has to go and see a dying aunt in Mexico," said Querk. "He can leave the country on the following day and need never return to it. He can leave you power of attorney."

In five minutes Querk had soothed him sufficiently to induce him to leave.

For fourteen hours Olive slept the deep sleep of total oblivion in which her active young body recoverd its strength.

By the time she was bathed and dressed it was past midday.

Before her toilet was complete the telephone bell rang. She went to answer it.

"Good morning, Miss Weston. Rason speaking. Can you lunch with me at one at the Red Mill restaurant—grillroom?"

"Yes, I think I can. Thanks very much. I'll be there at one, sharp."

She was there before her time, and so was Rason. He found a secluded table and led her to it.

"I've got something to show you," Olive said as she seated herself and took a long envelope from her bag and handed it to him.

"That," she explained, "was written by the nurse who had charge of my friend, Connie Elmore, while she was in Maenton House."

THAT ISN'T WHAT I INTENDED AT ALL! THERE'S SKEEZIX CHASING A BOY ALL OVER THAT VACANT LOT!
I GAVE HIM A LESSON IN USING HIS FISTS JUST TO GIVE HIM CONFIDENCE BUT I DIDN'T WANT HIM TO BECOME A BULLY RIGHT AWAY.
SKEEZIX, WHEN I SHOWED YOU SOMETHING ABOUT SELF DEFENSE YESTERDAY I DIDN'T MEAN THAT YOU SHOULD TRY IT OUT BY BECOMING A BULLY TO OTHER BOYS. I DON'T BELIEVE IN FIGHTING YOU KNOW UNLESS SOMEONE PICKS ON YOU FIRST.
WHO WAS THAT BOY YOU WERE CHASING ALL AROUND THE LOT AND THREATENING WITH YOUR FISTS?
THAT WAS THE BLINKSTRASSER BOY THAT WOULDN'T LET ME HOME FROM SCHOOL THE OTHER DAY.

Pleasing Story Still Pleasing as a Picture

Olive Borden Heads Good Cast in "Joy Girl."

"THE JOY GIRL."

Produced by Fox.
Directed by Allan Dwan.
Presented at Sheridan and Capitol theaters.

THE CAST:

Jewel Courage	Olive Borden
John Jeffrey Fleet	Neil Hamilton
Mrs. Heath	Marie Dressler
Mrs. Courage	Mary Alden
Mr. Courage	William Norris
Vicary	Jerry Miley
Flora	Helen Chandler
Hugh Sandman	Frank Walsh

BY MAE TINEE.

Good Morning!

"The Joy Girl" by May Edginton recently made pleasant serial reading in a weekly magazine. Adapted to the screen, it continues to entertain, necessary eliminations and some changes being rendered inoffensive by good acting and the director's ability to manage matters so that your interest is securely held.

The title rôle is handled skillfully by Olive Borden who has great, witching eyes and a lot of unbobbed, wavy dark hair. Miss Borden is not "perfectly beautiful" to my way of thinking, but she has much charm. This with the eyes and hair, and a knowledge of what clothes to wear—and how—make her a screen personality to conjure with. Her heroine in this picture is an appealing and attractive one.

Mary Alden—WHY don't we see more of Mary Alden!—plays the mother rôle to perfection, as she would. Her work is always perfect. Neil Hamilton is a fine and manly lead. Something mighty lovable about that boy. Jerry Miley as the shifty eyed, good looking "other man" who works much havoc, handles the rôle with adeptness. He's the best to be had in parts of the sort.

Then there's Marie Dressler, being effective as only she knows how. Now—tell you a bit about the story:

Jewel Courage is the pampered daughter of Mrs. Courage, who is married to Mr. Courage, a clerk. [Well played by that expert old timer, William Norris.] The mother, determined that the daughter shall have luxuries she herself has never possessed, brings the girl up in luxury and is her slave.

She will not permit the beloved daughter to go to work, though Jewel, a genius at designing hats, is constantly being importuned by one Isolde, fashionable milliner, to join her establishment. Also Jewel's mamma—and Jewel—want Jewel to marry a rich man.

"The Joy Girl" is really a most enjoyable program offering. I would have preferred it minus the color photography introduced, but I admit that there my taste may be at fault.

See you soon!

CLOSEUPS.

Charles Ray is to be Corinne Griffith's leading man in "The Garden of Eden," her next picture for United Artists. It was for this company that Mr. Ray made "The Girl He Loved" and "A Tailor Made Man."

D. W. Griffith has been invited by R. A. Rahr, representing the Harvard Endowment library, to present complete prints of his pictures, including "The Birth of a Nation," "Orphans of the Storm," "Broken Blossoms," "Dream Street," "Intolerance," and his new production "Drums of Love," to the library.

In "The Divine Woman" which will star Greta Garbo, Lars Hanson will be seen as leading man.

DEBUTANTE

[Koehne Photo.]

Miss Anne Wood, daughter of Gen. and Mrs. Robert Wood of Highland Park, is to make her debut on Oct. 8 at a tea at her parents' residence.

Cool Weather Fails to Check Donations to Tribune Funds

Cool weather certainly puts no damper on the generosity of Chicagoans. Contributions to three TRIBUNE funds yesterday amounted to $177.80. In addition to these, an anonymous gift of $100 was received for Mrs. John Hatman, about whose destitute circumstances a story appeared in THE TRIBUNE last Monday. Two dollars was also received from J. C. Haufman for the James McGrath family, whose daughter, Mary Louise, was accidentally burned to death.

The following gifts were received:

FREE ICE FUND.

$10—Mrs. Lee V. Strauss, Cora B. Clark.

The Inquiring Reporter

Every Day He Asks Five Persons, Picked at Random, a Question.

The Tribune will pay $5 for each question accepted for the Inquiring Reporter to ask. Send name and address with your question to "The Inquiring Reporter," Chicago Tribune. For today's question Miss Ruth Hoffman, 632 Hannah avenue, Forest Park, Ill., was awarded $5.

The Question.

Where Asked.

The Answers.

E. H. Phillips, 4957 North Sawyer avenue, salesman—I would far rather hear a broadcast of the fight, because I could visualize it better than I could from a seat two or three blocks from the scene of action. The announcer is as close to the ringside as I would like to it; therefore his descriptions will supply what one cannot see.

Miss Grace Motzer, 2824 North Richmond street, stenographer—I don't know what to say about that. We have a radio set, while we have not a ticket to the fight. I suspect I will be cuddled up near the radio, using my ears instead of my eyes and applauding for Dempsey. Naturally I would rather see it than hear about it.

Elmer Wunderle, 833 East 52d street, salesman—If it is a warm and comfortable night, give me a $5 seat. Seeing is believing, and the immense crowd will be a part of the big show. But if it is a cold night I would prefer to use the radio.

Mrs. D. C. Cobb, 3537 Wilton avenue, housewife—I would rather hear it over the air. I wouldn't care much about seeing it from a great distance. One couldn't see clearly, and by radio we will at least be able to follow the proceedings intelligently from start to finish.

James Higgins, 224 West 63d street, clerk—I'd rather hear it over the radio than see it from a $5 seat. One wouldn't enjoy seeing the actual fighting at that distance. One would have to use field glasses. Of course, the crowd would furnish some excitement. But in a big fight the fight's the thing.

Protestant Women Commend McAndrew

A resolution commending the work of Supt. William McAndrew in the public schools and recommending to the board of education that he be retained in office until his term expires was adopted yesterday at the annual luncheon of the Protestant Women's National Civic Federation at the Stevens hotel. It was introduced by Mrs. William Scudder Hart, the national president.

Members of the organization were advised by Congressman Henry R. Rathbone, the principal speaker, to center their attention in their coming drive to educate women in civic affairs on the Johnson immigration bill and the movement for a national board of educational affairs.

While the Johnson bill functions adequately in keeping an undesirable foreign element out of this country, he pointed out that entrance may be made through Canada and Mexico.

New Lake Shore Club to Have Two Openings

Officials of the Lake Shore Athletic club last night announced that two gala opening nights, a week apart, will be held in the new seventeen story clubhouse at Lake Shore drive and Chestnut street. Only 1,200 of the 4,000 members can be accommodated at one time, they said, making two formal openings necessary. The first will be held Saturday night and the second on Oct. 1.

Masonic Hospital Opens New Seven Story Annex

Dr. Irving S. Cutter, dean of the Northwestern Medical school, was the principal guest last night as the new seven story annex to the Illinois Masonic hospital was formally opened. In an address he said Chicago's position as a center of medical education is being maintained by a coöperative plan between medical schools and city hospitals.

THEATER

So GOOD a play is "Rain" that it could easily withstand much worse performing than is put into it by Miss Georgie Lee Hall and her associates in the Central. The stage-piece has every bit of the astonishing vitality and "kick" that are in the little story by W. Somerset Maugham wherein two unknown dramatists found their material; and that little story, whether you know it as "Rain" or by its original title of "Miss Thompson," is my notion of a masterpiece in the especial milieu. . . . Miss Hall's own performing as Sadie is an eager gesture of obedience to Miss Eagels': it is a copy without being mimicry. Miss Eagels, whether she ever again click, is unforgettable because of her way in this rôle;—and that doesn't mean that any one of four or five actresses in the American theater would not have been equally successful and rememberable had she been in the first to have a go at Sadie. Save for the player of Davidson, Miss Hall's associates go along satisfactorily, with not much stressing of the things that don't call for stressing. Davidson is acted by a chap who recalls the old-time "impersonators" of the variety-stage—one of those fellows who, never having seen the English actor, would announce: "My nex-tt imitation will be of Henry Irving in 'The Bells,'" and proceed to make motions and faces.

George M. Cohan is to be in the cast of "The Merry Malones," his new song-and-dance piece, when, Monday next, it is submitted to Manhattan. He took up one of the rôles in the emergency made by the sudden death at rehearsal of Arthur Deagon. . . . The latter was a well-known through many years. He had the low-comedy part in "The Vagabond King" in last season's long run of the operetta in Chicago.

Arthur Bourchier, whose death was told in THE TRIBUNE of the 15th in a cablegram from Johannesburg, was a celebrity of the London stage; and he was popular enough for a while to warrant his setting himself up as an actor-manager. I had never been able to discern in him more talent than one expects in the average journeyman of acting. . . . He was not unknown in this country: he was the first actor whom the late Augustin Daly tried as a successor to John Drew in the rôles vis-à-vis with Ada Rehan. Bourchier went back to England after a season, to be succeeded by Frank Worthing, who in turn was succeeded after a thin year or so by Charles Richman. I do not know if Daly brought Bourchier to Chicago. Bourchier came back as co-star with his wife, Violet Vanbrugh, and blew up after a few sad weeks.

Miss Henrietta Crosman replaces Miss Margaret Anglin as co-star with Mrs. Fiske and Mr. Skinner in "The Merry Wives of Windsor." . . . Miss Anglin was reported recently to have found something good in the way of a conveyance for herself; and I assume she would rather gamble on getting all the profits from a venture of her own than to take a nominal wage, with a percentage of the earnings, as one-third of a tripartie alliance. However, she is said to be directing a new version of "The Ladder," a play which was carried through last season in New-York on the bank-roll of a Texas oil-man, who is said to have dropped between $400,000 and $500,000 in the venture.

"A la Carte," one of the new revues, is a failure in New-York, and is to be thrown away after Saturday night. . . . Much was expected from it because of skits and sketches by George Kelly, author of "The Show-Off" and "Craig's Wife."

Bordens Shiver in Chicago After Arctic Warmth

Teeth Chatter as They Tell of Far North Trip.

Fur coats may be comfortable in Chicago, but they're excess baggage beyond the Arctic circle, according to Mr. and Mrs. John Borden, who arrived home yesterday from their six months' expedition to the far north, and found it hard work to keep their teeth from chattering as they supervised removal of their guns and luggage.

Temperatures ranged from 25 to 65 degrees above zero, they explained, averaging 40 to 45, and they left flowers blooming in profusion when the prow of their ship, the Northern Light, was turned homeward.

The vessel, which was specially constructed for the voyage, was manned by a crew of Chicago Sea Scouts, who remained behind in Los Angeles to be the guests for several days of the ships, or chapters, of the Sea Scouts there. The boys, who received their preliminary training on Lake Michigan, proved themselves excellent sailors, according to their skipper, and acquired valuable experience.

Hunting was good, the Borden party discovered. Their bag included several Kodiak bear, polar bear, and walrus, and they shipped one specimen of the first named to the Field museum which measured eleven feet in height.

Each of the women of the party brought down a bear and a walrus, Mr. Borden pridefully announced, and the party obtained well over 100 specimens of birds, all of which were intended for the museum.

They encountered three severe storms, but were at no time in any danger, nor did any of the party experience any mishaps.

Mrs. Borden, Mrs. R. B. Slaughter and Miss Frances Ames of San Francisco are the first three white women ever to have landed at Wrangel island, according to Mr. Borden.

2,000 Women to Sell Flowers for Veterans

Two thousand women have volunteered to sell artificial flowers made by disabled war veterans of Illinois on "Forget-me-not day," next Saturday, according to an announcement made yesterday by N. O. Isaacson, state commander of the Disabled American Veterans of the World War. Mr. Isaacson said that his organization was aiding many more men than in previous years and that the budget for 1927 was larger by $35,000 than that of 1926. He estimated that 11,000 disabled men in the state would receive help from the fund. The city council has authorized the sale of the flowers on the streets.

Leading Chicago merchants tell how they increased business in a new booklet issued by The Tribune

THEIR business experiences range from selling pearls to merchandising popular-priced hats—from selling de luxe furniture to clearing women's handbags—and these merchants tell exactly how they used advertising to forge ahead in Chicago's intensely competitive market. The Tribune will be glad to send you a copy on request. Phone or write the Local Display department today—see how these men used their advertising dollars to make handsome profits!

If Your Spouse Likes to Step Out, Step Right Along with Him

BY DORIS BLAKE.

Mrs. X. has a husband who loves to dance, loves to go to the theater, loves to be in crowds, loves the bright lights, loves to see his wife dressed up and is proud of his own snappy turn-out.

Mrs. X. nags him about his extravagance, about the lightness with which he looks upon life, about his friends, fun loving as he is himself. She's been nagging him now for three years and all the good it has done her is to be left at home alone oftener than she was before. And that she nags about, too.

He was exactly that kind of man when she married him. Before the event, she play-acted at loving to dance, loving the theater, loving the bright lights, too. Immediately after the ceremony she started in to cure her spouse of frivolity, the success of which has already been indicated.

If a woman marries a man who wants to be on the go, her best bet is to trot right along with him. If she doesn't he'll find another companion. This sort of man has companionship thrust upon him unless his wife is around to sort of chaperon.

A gay, pleasure lovng nature is a nature you cannot curb. It has to work itself out in its own way. There comes a time when life itself modifies the taste for bright lights, but until then it is, the wise woman who acts the willing companion.

Mrs. X. has no complaint to make about her company not being originally sought in the excursions into the night life. She was urged and pleaded with to come along. But after a few next-day sessions of criticism and bickerings she wasn't pressed to come along any more.

If the man were of another caliber, perhaps one would feel Mrs. X. to be within her rights of remaining at home. He's a simple soul, generous to the point of folly, really affectionate and kindly, and he did love the girl he married devotedly. Perhaps he still does, but his nature being what it is he'd run a mile to avoid a scene.

Loving him, as Mrs. X. unquestionably does, don't you agree that she'd make a better job of her married life if she dressed herself up as attractively as he would like her to appear and went with him to join the crowds?

Perhaps they wouldn't save money. At least, though, they'd be together and that is something important when you balance up the credits and the debits of matrimony, isn't it?

DORIS BLAKE ANSWERS

Wait a While.

"Dear Miss Blake: I am 18, and love a man of 26. My parents think that he is too old for me. Please advise. ED."

Wait a year or two and then if you feel the same toward him as you do now, you need have no concern about his age.

A FRIEND IN NEED

BY SALLY JOY BROWN.

When Trouble Lowers.

"I am a married man, out of work, with a family to support. No money coming in, back in my rent, I see a pretty dark future before me. I thought you might be able to help me with a suit, size 42, and a pair of shoes, size 6 or 6½. D. F."

Things do look pretty hopeless for this distracted father, but perhaps if we can outfit him with presentable clothing his chances for finding a job won't be so slim.

Onwentsia Hunt Race Meeting Is Next Big Item on Society List

BY NANCY R——.

Although the fight's the thing at the moment, there are other highlights on the social docket that must be seen to, as the hard working committee in charge of the Onwentsia hunt race meeting, scheduled for a week from Saturday, will tell you.

This gay sporting event will bring over any number of Detroit enthusiasts who will be put up and entertained the day of the meet by various Lake Forest hosts and hostesses—because of the demolition of the clubhouse at Onwentsia, all the hunt luncheons, teas and dinners have to be given elsewhere.

On the list of visitors from the other side of the lake are the E. P. Hammonds and their daughter, Miss Viola Hammond, who will ride; the John S. Sweeneys and their son and his wife, the junior John Sweeneys; Mr. and Mrs. Elliot S. Nichols—Mr. Nichols is M. F. H. of the Bloomfield open hunt, and will ride the senior Mr. Sweeney's fine mount, Gold Trap, that finished second in the Maryland hunt cup race last spring; the H. M. Jewetts; Miss Ella F. Henry, and Charles B. Warren Jr., most of whom have horses entered in the meet. Alex Wilson, said to be America's foremost amateur steeplechase jockey, will ride on of the other Sweeney horses, Lieut. Seas, the same one that carried off the Onwentsia hunt gold challenge cup last year.

As to Lake Forest riders and mounts, I understand that Bob Jennings has not only entered his own steed, McDoran, for Libby Chase to ride in the ladies' race, but is planning to pilot some of the many E. J. Lehmann entries to victory; Clymer Bowen and Albert C. Burrage Jr., who is coming on from Boston, will put the Benjamin Leslie Behr horses through their paces, while Dirk Van Ingen is to ride Barrington, owned by John Cudahy, M. F. H. of the Milwaukee Hunt club.

Charles H. Schweppe has presented a handsome silver trophy to be contested for this year for the first time, the event to be known as the Lake County Challenge cup.

Day's News in Society

This week sees the annual exodus of the boys and girls who go east to school. The Yale group includes Dana Stone, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Sheppard Stone; Brayton H. Slade, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur B. Slade of 1243 North State street; Raymond H. High, son of Mr. and Mrs. Shirley T. High of 2021 Prairie avenue, and William Murdock of Evanston.

Those who go to Princeton include Haskell Denard, Henry Frey, John A. Stevens of Riverside, and Bruce Miller. Philip Elting Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Philip L. Elting of 48 Bellevue place, and Paul Guenzel go to Williams, and the other Elting boy, Byron, begins his last year at Westminster.

Winfield Durbin II, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fletcher M. Durbin, is enrolled at Lawrenceville; Potter Palmer Jr. and Watson Armour are off for St. Mark's; Richard Neff, son of Nettleton Neff, Edward Brewster, the Walter S. Brewsters' son, and Jack and Billy Simpson, the James Simpsons' sons, will be at St. Paul's, and the Groton school will instruct Gardner and Radford Van Ness, and Alexander Northrop. John Goodwillie, Charles Robinson, and Richard Brooks will go to Dartmouth, and the sons of Dr. and Mrs. Frank W. Blatchford of Winnetka, Frank Jr. and Walter, depart for Harvard.

Mrs. William M. Field of Philadelphia is visiting her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wesley Dempster of 209 Lake Shore drive.

Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Huszagh of Winnetka announce the birth on Sept. 18 of a daughter at St. Luke's hospital.

The marriage of Miss Alicia Patterson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Medill Patterson of Chicago and Libertyville, to James Simpson Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. James Simpson of 1200 Lake Shore drive, is to take place on Wednesday, Sept. 28, at the residence of the bride's parents at Libertyville. Only immediate members of the two families will be present. Mrs. Russell Codman is to be her sister's matron of honor and Robert S. Pirie is to be best man for Mr. Simpson. Dr. Drury of St. Paul's school, Concord, Mass., will perform the ceremony.

An announcement of interest on the north shore as well as in town is that made by Mr. and Mrs. Charles George Little of 239 Greenwood boulevard, Evanston, of the engagement of their daughter, Alice Elizabeth, to Curtis Nelson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Murry Nelson of 44 East Elm street. Miss Little attended Rosemary hall and Bryn Mawr college and spent last year abroad. Mr. Nelson is a graduate of Harvard of the class of 1923. No date has been set for the wedding.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Gibs Delany of 173 Riverside drive, New York City, announce the engagement of their daughter, Mary Kathryn, to James Philip Reichmann, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Frederick Reichmann of Wilmette. Miss Delany is a graduate of the College of the Sacred Heart at Manhattanville, class of 1926, and Mr. Reichmann was graduated from the University of Wisconsin in 1924. The wedding is to take place in the spring.

EMBARRASSING MOMENTS

The Tribune will pay $1 for every letter published on "The Most Embarrassing Moment of My Life." Address Embarrassing Moments, Chicago Tribune. Write on one side of the paper. No manuscript returned.

His Error.

The daughter of one of the professors in the college which I attended was my classmate in one of the classes this instructor taught. From the time she joined the class she made a practice of going to her father's side at the close of each session for a little chat before leaving the building for home. He was usually busy at the board when the class was over, and when his daughter stepped to his side he would place his arms affectionately around her shoulders and continue his work.

One afternoon the young woman was in more of a hurry than usual and left the room without her usual visit with her father. I was a little perplexed about a problem and stepped to the professor's side to ask him a question. Thinking it was his daughter, he gave me the embrace it was customary for him to give her and held me there until he had finished the task he had in hand, much to the embarrassment of both of us when the entire class broke out in merriment. M. E. M.

WEDDINGS

The marriage of Miss Virginia Suydam, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Derr Suydam of 1061 Hollywood avenue, to Dr. Carroll William Johnson of Glencoe is to take place next Wednesday evening at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Leonard Roche of Wilmette. Both Miss Suydam and Dr. Johnson are graduates of Northwestern university. After a month's trip through the east Dr. Johnson and his bride are to reside at 2600 Eastwood avenue, Evanston.

Mr. and Mrs. Orrin William Auman of 724 Simpson street, Evanston, announce the marriage of their daughter, Jean Lattig, to Edward Dwight Dickerman, to take place on Oct. 1 at 8 o'clock in the evening at the Grant Avenue Methodist Episcopal church in Denver, Colo. The bride's father, who is treasurer of the world service commission of the Methodist Episcopal church, is to read the service. Mr. Dickerman and his bride will reside in Leadville, Colo., after Oct. 15.

Cornmeal Pancakes.

The call for pancake recipes never ceases. The business of pancake making is extremely simple, and yet the element of judgment is so essential to the work that it is impossible to tell what results a person using a given recipe will get as compared with those some one else gets.

We have had several calls for pancake recipes recently, and now we are going to anticipate those that will come in as the cold weather approaches. The stouter or more substantial sort will be in demand, and therefore we took the following wartime recipe which has one indeterminate element—water: One and one-half cups of yellow cornmeal, one level teaspoon of salt, about two tablespoons of brown sugar (brown sugar is a little difficult to measure exactly), one egg, one-third cup of white flour, two teaspoons of baking powder.

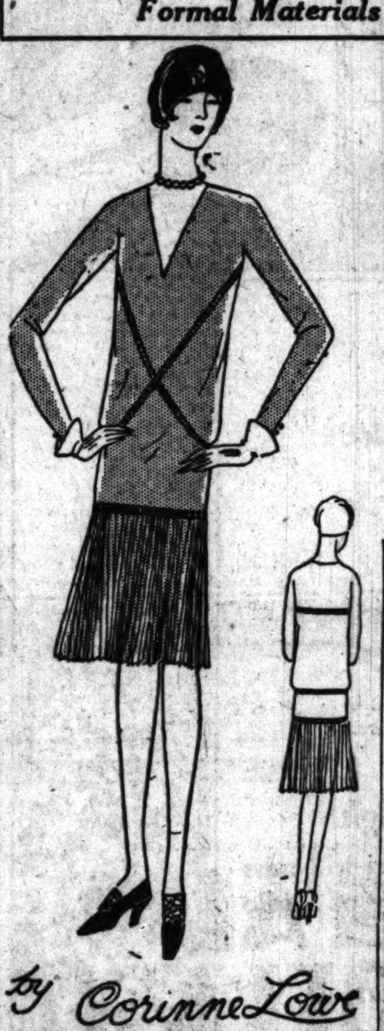
Add the salt and sugar to the cornmeal and stir into it enough boiling water to make it quite moist. Let it cool somewhat, then add the egg, and stir well. Add the flour sifted with the baking powder and enough cold water to make a batter, the amount of water depending on your taste for a thick or thin pancake. Bake on a griddle or frying pan well greased with bacon drippings, and, if possible, serve with crisp bits of bacon.

This recipe came to me during wartime with the statement: "An ideal breakfast for campers when milk is hard to obtain; but equally good for the home table." A part of the title of the recipe was "Never Enough."

Anybody can see here that both the hot water and the cold are an indeterminate element, but no one can be a good pancake maker until she has learned all the different effects she can get by thickening and thinning her batter.

We like these cakes a little thick and found them agreeable even with sugar, and we might have been even more old fashioned and have eaten them with molasses or sorghum—"long sweetening."

Formal Materials Fashion Jumpers



by Corinne Lowe

NEW YORK.—[Special Correspondence.]—Shall we call it the cross-country-club-dress-run—this idea of running lines across the center of our frock? At all events this model of dark beige satin suggests itself immediately for those autumn moments when we gather around the country club fireplace for a cup of tea and a bit of gossip. Yet, of course, the sports contours of this frock need not banish it to the country, for it reconciles those contours with formal fabrics, after the fashion now so much esteemed.

I spoke recently of the popularity of faggoting and this model supports any theory as to the correctness of this trimming touch. For the crossing lines that finish the jumper are faggoted and so, too, are the horizontal lines in which they conclude at the back. The border of the jumper is also faggoted above that finely plaited skirt. It will be noticed that this jumper subscribes to the new doctrine of increased length.

Some of the two piece frocks which are elevated for use at the most formal daytime functions combine effectively transparent velvet skirts with bodices of sheer lamé. These latter are often woven into two metallic tints such as gold and copper and their design is likely to be the familiar horizontal stripe.

Sheer metal embroidered crêpes form an alternate to the lamé weaves in the construction of the formal jumper worn with the skirt of transparent velvet, and here, too, the design is apt to be some broken horizontal stripe. As illustrative of the charm of this combination of transparent velvet and metallic embroidered crêpe, there is a new model of putty pink developed in both the velvet of the skirt and the crêpe of the bodice. The latter is then embroidered in copper.

Keeping a Schoolgirl Complexion
© 1927 Fanchon Beauty Features
By VILMA BANKY

Never risk on skin any but true complexion soap

THE important point to the modern beauty rule of keeping the skin clean and pores open, with soap and water cleansing, is to use the right kind of soap.

That means a true complexion soap. A soap made primarily for facial use. Soaps good for many purposes, other than for beauty, are often too harsh for the skin.

Thus, largely on expert advice, millions use Palmolive Soap; touch their faces with no other. It is made of cosmetic oils. It is made for one purpose only—to protect and beautify the skin.

Wash the face gently with Palmolive. Massage its balmy olive and palm oil lather into the skin. Rinse with warm water; then with cold. That is all—it's nature's rule for keeping that schoolgirl complexion.

Do that regularly, and particularly before bed. Never let powder, rouge or make-up remain on your skin over night. Note how much better your skin is in even one week.

Get Palmolive today. Costs but 10c a cake. Use no other on your face. But be sure you get GENUINE Palmolive. Crude imitations, represented to be of olive and palm oils, are not the same as Palmolive. Remember that and TAKE CARE. The Palmolive-Peet Co., Chicago, U. S. A.

VATICAN REBUKES FASCISTI IN PAPAL LIBERTY DISPUTE

Raises Issue on Italy's National Holiday.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

[Copyright: 1927: By The Chicago Tribune.]

ROME, Sept. 20.—The Vatican newspaper Osservatore Romano chose Italy's holiday today, commemorating the entry of the Italian troops into Rome and the end of the temporal power of the pope to reopen the question of the independence of the holy see.

Tonight's Osservatore carries an editorial severely denouncing the world press for assigning political motives to the acceptance by the Vatican of the great arena of the lictors at Bologna for the Eucharistic congress, just closed.

Rebukes Fascist Press.

Osservatore denies that the geographical location of the congress has any bearing on the Roman question or the relations between the church and state in Italy. The Fascist press, which saw in the location of the congress an attempt by the church to enter the "renewed rhythm of Italian life—that is, to speak quite clearly, the rhythm of Fascist life"—also receives a severe rebuke.

Appeals to Journalists.

Osservatore concludes by asking the world's journalists to treat more carefully and truthfully the problem, "which certainly is the most serious, most compact and most universal of those which trouble not only Italy, but the entire civilized world, by which are touched the religious and social interests, more essential and more profound because of their essentially international, or rather superational, nature."

BIGAMY CHARGE AFTER MISSING PASTOR IS FOUND

Columbus, Ga., Sept. 20.—(AP)—Proceedings for the arrest of the Rev. Willis T. Jordon on charges of bigamy were begun tonight by his wife here on statements by a detective agency that he has three other living wives.

Found in Michigan Hospital.

Grand Rapids, Mich., Sept. 20.—(AP)—Admission that he is the Rev. Willis J. Jordon, missing Methodist minister of Columbus, Ga., was made to Chief of Police A. A. Carroll tonight by a man registered at the St. Mary's hospital here as the Rev. Willis F. Gordon.

Chief Carroll quoted Jordon as admitting that he had come here to be married, although his wife is living at Columbus.

Mr. Jordon, who said he reached Grand Rapids last Friday night, was taken to the hospital Saturday night with symptoms of typhoid fever.

Disappearance of the Rev. Mr. Jordon was reported at Columbus last Wednesday night by the pastor's wife. She said her husband was taken from their home by two men.

THEY SCOFFED, BUT WERE NOT "SCOFFLAWS"

How early Chicago reformers sought to prevent beer drinking will be among the scenes depicting local history of the Chicago Turn-Gemeinde to be enacted at Medinah temple, Cass and Ohio streets, on Oct. 2.

According to an old account of the happening, a self-appointed committee of "know nothings" entered the Turner hall on La Salle street, dedicated in 1853, and attempted to enforce a demand that no beer be served at an approaching ball. The treatment of the intruders was "drastic, indeed, and cleared the way for joy unconfined," the yellowed report reads.

The presentation of the pageant during the day will be given in celebration of the Turner diamond jubilee. Three more days of merrymaking will follow the pageant, closing with a grand ball at the North Side Turner hall.

Portugal Deports Foes of Dictatorship to Africa

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LISBON, Sept. 20.—The steamship Zaire left here for Portuguese, Africa, today with several political deportees who were accused of conspiring against the dictatorship. Sixty men and women undesirables were aboard, who will be liberated in the colonies, but will not be permitted to reënter Portugal.

RADIO PROGRAMS FOR TODAY

(Wednesday, Sept. 21.)

(Daylight Saving Time)

W-G-N to Broadcast Radio's Annual Show

RADIO'S greatest show will be brought to listeners by W-G-N, THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE station on the Drake hotel, tonight between 8 o'clock and midnight, when the station joins a country-wide hookup for the broadcast of the fourth annual radio industries banquet, the acknowledged radio event of the year. The program at the banquet is generally regarded as the starter for the new radio season each fall, and this year its promoters have obtained one of the most interesting programs on record.

Diverting radio artists, fine orchestras, best known singers, all have been drafted for this four hour radio feast. The famous revellers, Sam 'n' Henry, George Olsen's orchestra, Reinald Werrenrath, and four score others will take part in the program. Moran and Mack, Van and Schenck, the combined ensembles of the national grand and light opera companies, and a half a hundred other stars of the network programs will be heard.

W-G-N is sending Sam 'n' Henry as its own contribution to the program. The two popular colored boys left Chicago by airplane this morning and will be heard over eighty stations tonight from New York City. Then they will fly back to take part in W-G-N's broadcast of the Dempsey-Tunney fight tomorrow night.

The most interesting afternoon program from W-G-N today will be contributed by Mac Sattley and his artists in Mac's special hour between 4 and 5. Benny Kanter, the song wrtier, is to sing "Some Day You'll Say O. K."; Larry Shay and Tommy Malie have teamed up for "In the Moonlight" and "Beautiful," two new numbers by Shay; Sunshine Eddie Wallace of vaudeville fame is to sing "Yesterday," and then there'll be Melba Caldwell, the blues singer, and Elmer Haynes, the young tenor, who will harmonize with Mac in a few numbers.

Today's "Where Are You Going?" talk concerns itself with a world cruise. It will be given by Fred W. Peters of the International Mercantile marine.

SON OF ONE OF TAMMANY'S 'BIG 3' DIES IN POVERTY

New York, Sept. 20.—[Special.]—Daniel F. McMahon Jr. died in Bellevue hospital today after an illness of two weeks. The only son of the man who shared for a brief time with Charles F. Murphy and Louis Haffen supreme control of Tammany Hall, the younger man was left $1,000,000 when his father died fifteen years ago. But at the age of 36 he died in poverty and with few friends.

He died of acute alcoholism and toxic poisoning, according to the official report of the medical examiner's office. His fortune was partly dissipated in paying for lavish dinner parties, for which he once was famous, and in the loans he made all too readily to friends of his sunnier days.

They dropped his company some years ago, forgetting their debts. Only one, it is said, has stood by him—Mrs. Charles F. Murphy, widow of the Tammany chief. After all his money was gone she gave him what help she could by obtaining clients for his law practice.

As well as having been one of Tammany's "big three," the elder McMahon was a city magistrate. It was on the profits from city contracts that Daniel F. McMahon Sr. built up his fortune. His principal work was the electrification of the 3d avenue elevated lines.

INDICT MANY DRUG PEDDLERS.

Fifty persons were named in thirty-eight indictments returned yesterday by the federal grand jury. Practically all the defendants are drug peddlers and addicts, arrested by local narcotic agents in the past few months.

Master of many stations

The entire Realm of the Air is yours with the amazing Sparton. Selective . . . beyond even your hopes! Distance . . . all you expect and more! Tone . . . even the programs from far stations come with brilliance that thrills.

Sparton is an instrument for critics of music or for critics of things electrical. Whichever you are, a visit to one of these Sparton dealers will be one long remembered.

Says H. E. MURDOCH:

"It is little short of marvelous how Sparton captures the faintest ripple of the piano or the deepest tones of orchestra or band music, and reproduces both perfectly."

Any of the following dealers will gladly demonstrate Sparton

YOU AND YOUR CHILDREN

by Mrs. Gladys Huntington Bevans

Carrying Independence Too Far.

"O, yes, he's a very independent little fellow; he goes all over these roads alone. I never worry about him. Sometimes I don't know where he is for hours at a time."

I happen to know those roads very well. Two cars can't pass on them. Each little camp has a path which runs down to the road but which is hidden from view. Any stranger driving on those roads goes dashing along them. He doesn't know that some little girl or boy may emerge without warning at the edge. He thinks it's a clear road ahead.

"There's always some one at the pool, and anyhow they won't fall in. They're used to taking care of themselves."

And there they are day after day, tiny little girls and boys, several of them walking along the narrow edge of the pool which is over their heads, hoping to see a turtle, throwing in stones, and satisfied just to be in the vicinity of water.

It's all right for children to be independent, but there's such a thing as carrying it too far. Water is a treacherous element. Children, no matter how self-reliant they may be, are not always able to cope with it. Some one should be on the alert where the combination of children and water are concerned. Country roads were guiltless of danger for children in the days of the horse, but now, no matter how you may be able to depend on your child, you can't depend on all drivers of cars.

I know several children, young ones, who go to school alone across two of the worst city crossings I have ever seen: where the traffic moves in five directions, where huge trucks slither around corners and where even a grown person has to be on the alert. Perhaps that makes them independent—but at what a risk—what a possible cost!

Children will learn to take care of themselves in due time; self-reliance should come to every normal child, and does. But there is such a thing as carrying independence too far.

Cheer Up! If You Can't Be Beautiful You Can Be Good Looking

BY ANTOINETTE DONNELLY.

Every woman may not have the potentiality for stupendous beauty, but she has the potentiality for greater beauty.

You might work a lifetime, though blonde, blue eyed and of good figure proportions, and never achieve the beauty fame of a Lady Diana Manners, or a Dolores.

But, being a blonde, blue eyed, and of good figure proportions, you might with a reasonable amount of effort be distinguished in your own circle as an unusually attractive person.

In fact, you might even be a person of negative coloring, negative personality, negative dress and with some live impetus to stir you to action (a man being just about as live an impetus as may be found) you can create an individual of yourself out of identical features and coloring you now have. Add the zest of living, which we would expect love to supply, of course, and take a new interest in colors, be more careful in your choice of dress—and a bright, shiny new person could be made of you just the same.

It would be just as foolish to claim that a girl following certain rules of the art of beautifying might become a great beauty as to expect an art student without the spark of genius to shine out above his fellow artists. Beauty—the superlative kind, I mean, —is born. Yet, good looks can be made. And they are made chiefly out of these ingredients:

First: Health. Personal magnetism, radiance and charm have their source in abounding health. You cannot be just well to be good looking. You must be vividly well to make the eyes shine, the cheeks glow and the smile spontaneous.

Second: All the fine points of grooming—nails, hair, teeth, and so on.

Third: Dress, which involves skill in corralling the right colors to fetch out the tones in your hair and eyes and skin. Then, having or developing an eye for line so that imperfections are shaded and perfections emphasized.

BEAUTY ANSWERS

ROSEMARY M.: YOUR FEET ARE tender and need the tonic effect of a cold foot spray every morning and night. After the spray, rub dry with a turkish towel. Rub your feet with witch hazel to which spirits of camphor have been added—one or two tablespoons to four ounces of witch hazel. Send stamped addressed envelope for other suggestion on care of the feet.

Bright Sayings of the Children

My wife and 4 year old son were going to the funeral of a dear friend in a car belonging to the mortician, having lent our car to the family of the deceased.

Suddenly my son asked, "Whose car is this, daddy?"

Receiving no reply, the little lad settled himself disconsolately, saying, "It takes all the pleasure out of the ride not to know this." J. M. P.

BURIAL RITES OF W. H. BEEBE AT 2:30 P. M. TODAY

William Hempstead Beebe, 81, of 154 East Superior street, former grain dealer and director of the Board of Trade, who died of heart disease, will be buried today following services at 2:30 p. m., in the Rosehill cemetery chapel.

Mr. Beebe was born in a house at Galena, Ill., where U. S. Grant once lived in the days before the civil war. Mr. Beebe had attended the old University of Chicago, founded by Stephen A. Douglas. In 1865 he was employed by the Peshtigo Lumber company. Six years later Mr. Beebe started in the grain business. He was a member of the Board of Trade until his retirement in 1907. Since then he had acted as agent of the estate of Lander J. McCormick. From 1887 to 1889 Mr. Beebe was president of the Chicago public library and from 1893 to 1895 he was a member of the Chicago board of education.

Mr. Beebe was a member of the Union League, Hamilton, and Chicago Whist clubs. He maintained an office in the McCormick building at 332 South Michigan avenue. Surviving him are his widow, Kate Krebs Beebe, and his four children, Mrs. Earl Bruce Millar Jr., Mrs. Edward Page Smith, William and Krebs Beebe.

Feel Stiff and Achy?

To Be Well the Kidneys Must Thoroughly Eliminate Waste Poisons from the Blood.

DOES every day find you lame, stiff and achy? Do you feel tired and drowsy—suffer nagging backache, headache and dizzy spells? Are the kidney secretions scanty and burning in passage? Do you wonder what is wrong?

Know, then, that these are often signs of improper kidney action. Active kidneys free the blood of poisonous waste. Sluggish kidneys allow acid poisons to remain in the blood and upset the whole system. If you have reason to believe your kidneys are acting sluggishly, assist them by using a tested diuretic.*

Doan's Pills have been winning new friends for more than forty years. They have established a nation-wide reputation. Are recommended the country over. Ask your neighbor!

Doan's Pills Have Been Used Since 1885.

The genuine DOAN'S PILLS may be identified by the maple leaf trade mark and the signature "Jas. Doan." DOAN'S are sold only in the package pictured at the left. Don't accept a substitute.

WOMEN!

All women know by this time that no narcotic can do much for organic pain.

But did you know a newly found formula that is non-narcotic does make the trying time of month perfectly painless—actually does overcome every particle of pain?

Don't disregard or disbelieve a discovery so many doctors and so many women pronounce perfect. The days you dread can be the same as any other days, so far as pain is concerned. Try to realize that the feminex formula means absolute freedom from all such suffering!

Feminex costs only a quarter, and the druggist who did not have it now would be the exception. So, the woman or girl who goes through another trying period suffers needlessly.

OFFICIAL WEATHER FORECAST.

The official forecast for today and tomorrow and yesterday's table of records follow:

Illinois and Indiana—Fair Wednesday and Thursday; not quite so cool.

Wisconsin—Fair Wednesday and probably Thursday; not so cool in southwest portion Wednesday and in south portion Thursday.

Lower Michigan—Partly cloudy Wednesday; Thursday fair, not quite so cool.

Upper Michigan—Generally fair Wednesday and Thursday; not much change in temperature.

Missouri and Iowa—Fair Wednesday and probably Thursday; not quite so cool.

Minnesota—Fair Wednesday and probably Thursday; not so cool in south portion Wednesday.

SALESMEN WANTED.

I have just been commissioned by one of Chicago's largest and most successful corporations to engage a few salesmen of proven ability to represent them in the Chicago district on an attractive salary and commission basis. Those who qualify will receive unlimited co-opertaion as well as careful supervision and training. I regard this as one of the very best sales opportunities in Chicago today. For further information call today. Suite 1918 Masonic Temple Bldg., 32 W. Randolph. Ask for MR. ZAHLER.

A1 SALESMEN.

Mr. Man, have you ever in your life answered the real knock of opportunity? If not, do not pass this one up. You owe it to yourself and your family to get the best remuneration for your efforts. It is becoming harder each day to connect with a real honest to goodness job. All that I ask is that you be judge and juror of the proposition we offer you. If you can stand prosperity and keep your head size normal, see me between the hours of 10:30 and 12 a. m. or 2 to 4 p. m. and ask for MR. BARON, 1065, 38 S. Dearborn-st., all week.

WANTED—MALE HELP.

Salesmen, Solicitors, Etc.

AN EXCEPTIONAL CHANCE FOR ONE SALESMAN WITH RECORD.

The man whom we seek can show a record of consistent production in selling advertising, books, securities, or office machinery.

He is 30 to 40 years old, has good health, and enough curves on the ball to get his story to the top executive in every business concern; who can tell his story and close contracts in one interview.

We have over 250 salesmen who came to us during the past six years from the lines listed above. Some of them are making $10,000, some are earning $20,000 every year.

The right man for us is one who wants to be in business for himself and not follow a "game." One who has no off seasons and wants to associate with a concern of high standards, excellent financial rating, and a big program for future expansion, which means promotion to executive positions.

He wants to be trained and started in the field by a star man who can teach him the knacks that insure him a quick start on big earnings, and he expects prompt and full commission settlements weekly. He wants an exclusive territory.

All this will be provided in contract we make with the man who meets our requirements.

If you feel you are the man we are looking for, it will pay you to phone MR. H. B. MUNDT, Superior 0855, or address L M 103, Tribune.

AN AMBITIOUS PERSON, interested in self-improvement, can find in our proposition an opportunity for success.

We pay a salary to the beginner.

We train our salespeople.

We furnish trdansportation.

And we furnish the most beautiful, highly restricted and wonderfully landscaped with developed water front property it is possible to find in the urban area of Chicago, and to the experienced salesperson we pay [illegible]% commission and bonus.

Our prices are extremely low and include improvements for immediate building, and our terms are such as to make it possible to interest every one talked to.

ARCHITECTURAL REPRESENTATIVE.

We are looking for a high caliber man, thoroughly familar with architectural work in Chicago; we are one of the largest nationally known paint and varnish manufacturers in the country, and the position offers a splendid opportunity to the right man; give complete information in your letter as to exp., age, and salary expected. Address L J 521, Tribune.

Are You the Lucky One?

I left a $5,000 a year job 1¼ years ago and built my income up to $20,000 a year. I will now take a $50 a week man and build him up to my position in six months. Must be 25 to 40 years of age, personality and neat appearance, capable of interviewing people. MR. BLACKSHERE. Call at 2:30 p. m., Suite 612, 32 W. Randolph-st.

Are You Short of Money?

SALESMEN— REAL ESTATE.

We have advertised for salesmen only two or three times this year, because we do not add a new man to our force unless we can give him 25 bona fide direct inquiry leads a week. This means our men are kept busy selling and do not have to spend their time digging up prospects.

We have the fastest growing and easiest selling resort property in the Middle West, located on Channel Lake, only 1½ hours from Chicago; good auto roads.

Fall and winter best time to sell because buyers can build in early spring and enjoy a summer home next year. 70 cottages already built. Property well developed, but selling at pre-development prices.

It is a million dollar proposition and our limited number of salesmen are sure of permanent, profitable employment.

If you are a real closer, own your own auto and are looking for a connection where your selling ability will be fully employed, and where there is constant advancement for a superior man, see me right away. JACK PONIC, 4731 N. Western-av.

HERE IT IS! THE AD YOU HAVE BEEN LOOKING FOR. THE MOST AMAZING OPPORTUNITY IN CHICAGO TODAY!

If you want a real opportunity, if your wishbone has not switched places with your backbone, and if you DO realize the absolute necessity of earning more money each week and the practical advantages of becoming a member [either part or full time] of this well known institution, we will put you in good paying positions, if you will really devote a few hours of your spare time every day in our work. NOW, THEN, IF YOU ARE REALLY SINCERE, READ ON:

* * *

LARGE INDUSTRIAL EXPANSION PROGRAM has made it possible for us to create a new department and to open new positions for men over 25 years of age, who are at present employed in some legitimate work, or those unemployed that can furnish references. Ordinary common sense the only educational requisite.

* * *

NO EXPERIENCE OR RED TAPE.

Successful applicants should earn an extra weekly income from the moment their name is placed upon the pay roll, while still retaining their present position. This is not an experiment, but a bona fide, dignified employment that every ambitious man in Chicago would be glad to avail himself of if he knew the facts. NOW, IF YOU REALLY NEED MONEY, and if you are really sincere in your desire to better your financial position, DON'T HESITATE. Apply in person only at the time mentioned below.

WANTED—MALE HELP.

Miscellaneous.

EXTRA MONEY. MEN AND WOMEN.

Your spare time is worth big money if you MEAN BUSINESS and are willing to WORK a few hours in the evening. This is not a fly-by-night proposition. My house has been in business in the same location for the last 19 years and our resources are over $2,000,000.

You do not have to be an expert to SUCCEED with us. Many of the most successful men in our line of business have come from mediocre positions — clerks, bookkeepers, tradesmen, and small merchants have been particularly SUCCESSFUL.

This proposition is open to white men and women 25-45 years old, now employed, who have lived in Chicago at least 3 years.

COME FRIDAY EVENING, SEPT. 23D, AT 8 P. M. SHARP. Let me tell you my story—20 years' successful experience to back it up. I have helped hundreds of men and women make more money; maybe I can help you.

REMEMBER, we are an old, reliable firm with thousands of satisfied customers here in Chicago who have made money on our investments.

FRIDAY EVENING, SEPT. 23D, AT 8 P.M. SHARP.

Harry Jacobi.
OLIVER SALINGER & CO.,
Rm. 660 1st Natl. Bank Bldg.,
31 S. Clark-st.

WANTED.

A MAN 25 YEARS OF AGE OR OVER, OF EDUCATION AND PERSONALITY, AS ASSISTANT TO BUSY EXECUTIVE. ONE ACCUSTOMED TO MEETING THE PUBLIC PREFERRED. SPLENDID REMUNERATION FOR PARTY QUALIFYING. APPLY IN PERSON BETWEEN 2 AND 4 P. M., G. WM. CHRISTOPH, 118 MARION-ST., OAK PK.

MEN!

WHAT IS YOUR FUTURE?

W. R. E. never sold before he joined us—has worked 6 weeks, earned more than $125 each week, last week $161.

F. J. H. started last week—never sold—first pay check $80.

Every 3 minutes of the entire 24 hour days, 5 sales are being made.

Seventeen men attended an open meeting last week. Fifteen are already earning GOOD INCOMES. We are in a position to set you up in business, convenient to your home location in and about Chicago. No capital required. This is NOT real estate, stocks, insurance or automobiles. Four special meetings today, 9 a. m., 11 a. m., 1:30 p. m. and 3:30 p. m. Meetings START PROMPTLY.

SEE MR. OCHS,
Room 240 Wicks Bldg., 7341 Cottage Grove

MEN.

I am seeking several men who want to learn a clean and profitable business, and turn their spare time into money. Several men who have answered this ad have already increased their earning power over 400% and are now on the road to financial success. No investment required. Curiosity seekers need not apply. See Mr. Arnold, 2nd floor Nixon Bldg., 105 W. Monroe-st., 9 a. m. to 9 p. m., or phone Randolph 0344 for appt.

SALESMEN WANTED.

One of Chicago's leading sales organizations has asked us to engage a few salesmen of proven ability to join their force in preparation for their big fall sales drive. The men we select will work on a SALARY AND COMMISSION basis and will be kept well supplied with gilt edge leads. For complete details call today at Suite 1918 Masonic Temple Bldg., 32 W. Randolph. Ask for Mr. Cunningham.

ATTENTION — LAUNDRY AND MILK Wagon Drivers. The "break" you have been looking for. I have an opening for 5 men, now employed, who want to increase their earnings during their spare time and also fit themselves for a permanent connection with us that will do away with early hours and small wages. From these men I will pick two who can qualify for executive positions. Character references required. See MR. BUCHTRUP, Room 304, 29 S. La Salle-st. Hours 9 a. m. to 8:30 p. m.

HERE IT IS!
THE AD YOU HAVE BEEN LOOKING FOR.
THE MOST AMAZING OPPORTUNITY IN CHICAGO TODAY.

If you want a real opportunity, if your wishbone has not switched places with your backbone, and if you DO realize the absolute necessity of earning more money each week and the practical advantages of becoming a member (either part or full time) of this well known institution, we will put you in good paying positions if you will really devote a few hours of your spare time every day in our work. NOW, THEN, IF YOU ARE REALLY SINCERE, READ ON:

LARGE INDUSTRIAL EXPANSION PROGRAM has made it possible for us to create a new department and to open new positions for women over 25 years of age, who are at present employed in some legitimate work, or those unemployed that can furnish references. Ordinary common sense the only education requisite.

NO EXPERIENCE OR RED TAPE.

Successful applicants should earn an extra weekly income from the moment their name is placed upon the pay roll while still retaining their present position. This is not an experiment, but a bona fide, dignified employment that every ambitious woman in Chicago would be glad to avail herself of if she knew the facts. NOW, IF YOU REALLY NEED MONEY and if you are really sincere in your desire to better your financial position, DON'T HESITATE. Apply in person only at the time mentioned below.

CALL AT ROOM 1512,
624 S. MICHIGAN.

Friday afternoon, Sept. 23, at 2:30 SHARP, or at 8 o'clock sharp, Friday evening, Sept. 23.

Idlers, star gazers and curiosity seekers stay away. Remember the time, 2:30 sharp, Friday afternoon, or 8 o'clock, Friday evening, Sept. 23. None considered after the above mentioned time.

EXTRA MONEY MEN AND WOMEN.

Your spare time is worth Big Money if you MEAN BUSINESS and are willing to WORK a few hours in the evening. This is not a fly-by-night proposition. My house has been in business in the same location for the past 19 years, and our resources are over $2,000,000.

You do not have to be an expert to SUCCEED with us. Many of the most successful men in our line of business have come from mediocre positions—clerks, bookkeepers, tradesmen, and small merchants have been particularly SUCCESSFUL.

This proposition is open to white men and women 25-45 years old, now employed, who have lived in Chicago at least 3 years.

COME FRIDAY EVENING, SEPTEMBER 23D, AT 8 P. M. SHARP. Let me tell you my story—20 years' successful experience to back it up. I have helped hundreds of men and women make more money; maybe I can help you.

REMEMBER, we are an old reliable firm with thousands of satisfied customers here in Chicago who have made money on our investments.

BEFORE YOU SIGN ANOTHER LEASE SEE THE CRANSTON.

If you can afford to pay $100 or more per month rent, you should own your home and thereby save a substantial sum each month towards acquiring real property and not a series of rent receipts. In the meanwhile you are living in an apartment in a fireproof building with every convenience and home comfort, with congenial neighbors who are home owners. We cordially invite you to inspect our 8th 100% co-operative apartment building, located in the beautiful South Shore Country Club District. The apartment homes contain 5 and 6 large, light outside rooms, with full bath for each bedroom. Many special features may be seen in our model apartment decorated and furnished by John A. Colby & Sons. Apartment equities from $3,500 to $9,000. Terms if desired. Fireproof garage space for each apartment in connection with building. There are 175 apartment home owners in our other buildings who will gladly tell you of the many advantages in owning your own apartment home.

1320 NO. STATE

On N. State-st., far enough removed from Lake Shore-dr. to insure freedom from its automotive distractions, adjacent to Lincoln Park, and within walking distance of the Loop, you may still secure a large, sunny, luxurious 6, 7, 8 or 9 room apartment at 1320 N. STATE-ST.

Each apartment is like a real home and its arrangement is so unique that you have the feeling you are living in an individual dwelling.

A log burning fireplace and a beamed ceiling enhance the beauty of the spacious living room. The master bedrooms, with tile baths, may be shut off from the rest of the household. Closet space, with cedar closets for safe storage, is as prodigal as in a large mansion.

The dining room is unusually large and well lighted. The roomy butler pantry and the kitchen are equipped with finest rubber flooring, a heat controlled stove, electrical refrigeration and incinerator, ample closet space, automatic servant annunciators and house phones. Each apartment has two servant rooms with bath, connecting with the kitchen and service entrance.

Many prominent families are housed in 1320 N. State. Of the few apartments still available, some have the two story living room and duplex arrangement.

Representatives on the premises every day will gladly show you a model furnished apartment, giving you an opportunity to realize in advance how perfectly you may furnish your own.

You are invited to inspect these apartments. Building open every day, or write for the brochure that interestingly describes the unusual appointments of this building.

AQUITANIA
YOU WILL FIND
Genuine Values

An unusual building in a most convenient location.

You will not only find the rooms larger, the closet space greater, and a finer building throughout, but you will also find more reasonable rates prevailing on apartments of 3, 4, 6 rooms.

Inspect these apartments personally for immediate or October 1st occupancy, then judge by comparison.

WHY PAY RENT?

100% CO-OP. BLDG.
Sherwin and Ashland Rogers Park

You may purchase an apartment with a down payment of $1,000 and make your rent money buy your apartment.

The apartments are four and five room units, some with two baths. Every modern convenience is at your service if you take advantage of our offer. All walls canvased and painted. Tile baths, showers; kitchens have Frigidaire system, exhaust fans, large Crown stoves, porcelain enamel.

If you wish to eliminate rent receipts and live in an ultra-modern building, allow us to explain our plan in detail.

See these apartments today. You will be agreeably surprised.

GETTING A HYDE PARK

6 APARTMENT FREE.

Only on occasions like this are real bargains obtained; on account of settling estate heirs instruct us to sell this exceptionally well built detached bldg. of 6-7 rooms, 2 baths, on lot 50x210; land alone worth $60,-000, which is price of the entire property; therefore apartment bldg. costs nothing. In that most desirable exclusive, profit making district east of I. C. and south of Hyde Park-blvd. While land is enhancing in value, income and improvements will net 12% on equity. Can be handled with only $15,000 cash. [R. H. Hamilton.]

REAL ESTATE LOANS.

SECOND MORTGAGE LOANS

There was a time when buying things on the installment plan was very much looked down upon, for most of the people engaged in the installment business had little heart and subjected customers to unfair terms and exorbitant charges.

There was a time when the second mortgage borrower was in even a worse predicament than the fellow who bought goods on the installment plan. So many of the second mortgage loaners were in the business because it looked like easy money. They took long chances and got away with almost anything.

Times have changed; and times have changed for the better, for today practices in the installment plan are as ethical as the practices under the cash selling plan. And the usages in the second mortgage business are beginning to become quite as standardized as the usages in the first mortgage business.

The Chicago Morris Plan bank addressed itself to the job of working out a dignified method whereby people of moderate circumstances could borrow money and pay back on time. Over $42,000,000 has been loaned to 175,000 people and the kind of people who borrow on this plan range from the clerk at $15 a week to the business executive at $20,000 a year.

The same group of men who have helped to dignify and elevate the small loan business have now addressed themselves to the job of helping to standardize the second mortgage business and they have already made great strides.

Two years ago, Mr. Julius Rosenwald made it possible for The Chicago Morris Plan bank to act as agent in this project, for Mr. Rosenwald placed at the disposal of the directors of this bank a very substantial fund to be loaned out on second mortgages to home owners. Of course, the bank was careful to see to it that none of its assets were involved in the experiment, so the fund was placed with a group of trustees who in turn have been able to avail themselves of the organizational value of the ten year old Morris Plan bank.

We first determined upon what we thought to be a fair rate. In less than a year we found that it was possible to lower the rate. Home owners expressed their very deep appreciation for the manner in which their second mortgages were made and very few have been unable to meet promptly the very reasonable terms and of her conditions set up in the plan.

You may be a home owner looking for a second mortgage; you may be a home owner who has a second mortgage which is about to mature; you may be thinking about the purchase of a home and a second mortgage might be necessary in order for you to swing the deal. We want home owners and we want prospective home owners to know about the spirit in which The Chicago Morris Plan bank as Agent is treating with the subject of second mortgages. It may be that our plan will fit your need. We will be happy if we can serve you.

We almost forgot to say that our rates on second mortgages are 6% interest and a commission of 4% for one year, 7% for two years, and 10% for three years.

NOTICE OF SPECIAL MEETING OF STOCKHOLDERS.

Chicago, Illinois, August 24, 1927.

A special meeting of the stockholders of The Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific Railway Company, duly called by the Board of Directors, will be held at the office of the Company, La Salle Street Station, in the City of Chicago, Cook County, Illinois, at ten o'clock in the forenoon on the 31st day of October, 1927, for the purpose of considering, voting and deciding whether the stockholders of the Company will concur in, ratify and approve the proceedings and resolutions of the Board of Directors had and adopted at the regular meeting of the Board of Directors held August 24, 1927, wherein and whereby the Board of Directors authorized, and whether the stockholders will authorize,

[1] The creation of an authorized issue of Secured Gold Bonds of the Company to be issued in series from time to time and to be limited to the aggregate principal amount of $80,000,000 at any one time outstanding;

[2] The execution and delivery of a Trust Indenture, with The National City Bank of New York as Trustee, to secure the payment of said Bonds, which Trust Indenture shall provide for the issuance of a series of $40,000,000 principal amount of said Secured Gold Bonds of the Company to be designated as its Secured 4½% Gold Bonds, Series A Due September 1, 1952, to be dated September 1, 1927, to mature September 1, 1952, to be redeemable prior to maturity at the option of the Company on the terms stated in the Trust Indenture and to be issued upon the pledge under said Trust Indenture as security therefor of $45,000,000 principal amount of the Company's First and Refunding 4% Gold Bonds due April 1, 1934, and shall further provide for the issuance of additional series of said bonds thereunder from time to time, maturing at such dates, bearing such rate of interest and with such provisions for redemption and upon the deposit, as security for each series, of such collateral, as may be determined upon at the time by the Board of Directors of the Company;

[3] The inclusion in said Trust Indenture of covenants to be made by the Company for itself and [in case of consolidation, merger or sale] for its successors and assigns of substantially the following effect:

[a] That neither the First and Refunding Mortgage Bonds of the Company nor any bonds prior in lien thereto will be extended;

[b] That on or before the maturity of the First and Refunding Mortgage Bonds, to wit, April 1, 1934, the Company, its successor or assign, will make a new mortgage which shall be a lien upon all the properties then subject to the First and Refunding Mortgage and will make provision in said new mortgage whereby all the Bonds then outstanding under the Trust Indenture to The National City Bank of New York, as Trustee, shall be secured by the said new mortgage equally and ratably with all obligations to be issued under such new mortgage;

[c] That the total amount of bonds to be secured by such new mortgage [together with all outstanding prior debts, after deducting the bonds reserved thereunder to retire prior debts] shall not exceed three times the then outstanding capital stock of the Company, its successor or assign; and

[d] That pending the making of the said new mortgage the Company, its successors and assigns, will not make any new mortgage upon any of the property subject to the lien of the First and Refunding Mortgage, so that upon satisfaction of the latter the new mortgage may have the same rank as the First and Refunding Mortgage now has;

[4] The approval of the form of the Trust Indenture;

[5] The pledge at the present time under the Trust Indenture of $45,000,000 of the Company's First and Refunding Mortgage Bonds as security for the $40,000,000 Bonds of Series A;

[6] The issuance at the present time of $40,000,000 principal amount of said Secured Gold Bonds to be designated Secured 4½% Gold Bonds, Series A Due September 1, 1952, and the sale thereof upon such terms as the Board of Directors may determine;

[7] The conferring of power upon the Board of Directors and officers of the Company to take all such action as may be necessary or advisable in connection with the creation of said authorized issue of $80,000,000 principal amount of Secured Gold Bonds, and the issuance and sale or other disposition from time to time of additional series of said bonds;

[8] For the transaction of such other business as may properly come before the meeting.

By order of the Board of Directors.
J. E. GORMAN, President.
CARL NYQUIST, Secretary.

ORDERS KEEP COMING

Every day sees new records broken in the sale of new Studebaker custom cars. We are obtaining a big number of used cars or trades, and we are willing to make the prices on them so attractive that they'll be sold immediately.

OAKLAND SEDAN. At $295 this Oakland is a bargain if there ever was one. Equipped with snubbers, bumpers, spotlight, spare tire, etc. Mechanically A1. Very clean throughout.

CHANDLER COACH. We've priced this at $… for immediate disposal, but it's easily worth twice this price. The upholstery looks new, and the extras include spotlight, spare tire, readlight, and others. Runs good. A family value.

HUPMOBILE SEDAN. Has spirited performance, and the finish, upholstery and tires are all in very good shape. We slashed the price to $385.

FIAT. A big, powerful 7 pass. open car with victoria top. It's in excellent condition and there's a wealth of equipment. Has 6 good tires. Our sales figure is $195.

MAXWELL SEDAN. We mean exactly what we say when we advertise this splendid enclosed car like new. Actually looks and runs like brand new model. Easily worth much more than $395.

CHEVROLET SEDAN. This Chev will please the most exacting buyer. The motor is smooth and quiet. Many extras. Only $395.

STUDEBAKER BROUGHAM. An exceptional bargain in a 2 dr. car. Has handsome mohair upholstery. The finish does not have a mar, and the extras are heater, spare tire, step-plates, etc. Today, $395.

MOON ROADSTER. Will give you new car satisfaction. Has rumble seat, and the equipment includes 4 wheel brakes, spotlight, bumpers, spare tire, etc. The appearance is very attractive and the performance is all that could be desired. We've reduced the price considerably. Only $525.

REO SEDAN. Here is a fine car with a reputation for long life. It's in tip-top shape, every feature appears new. Equipped with heater, bumpers, spare tire, snubbers, etc. Will not remain long at $595.

BUICK SEDAN. A distinctive Master Six that's an ideal family car. Runs like clock work. Was refinished and the interior looks like new. Has 4 wheel brakes, spare tire, bumpers, etc. A splendid value for $595.

JEWETT COACH. Finish is bright and shiny, and there's thousands of miles of unused transportation. Has a wealth of equipment, including trunk. The price is very reasonable, $495.

LIBERAL TERMS.
